Lorneville.
From Our Correspondent.

MR. COLIN CAMPBELL west of here has introduced a Massey Self Binder Harvester to his farm. Mr. John Westlake purchased a Brantford Harvester, of Harris & Son. These machines will evidently supersede the reaper and certainly they are a vast improvement and labor saver.

At the last meeting of Eldon Council, Mr. Stuart was appointed overseer of this division instead of Wm. Campbell, who resigned.

Our Pathmasters should get the Statute Labor performed before the busy time of haying and harvest set in.

MR. JOHN McEACHERN, 4th Con., lost a young horse for which he was offered $200. on Sunday of last week, from inflammation.

MR. DONALD MURRAY, Merchant, Toronto, was here last week paying a brief visit to his friends in this locality.

We are pleased to learn that Mr. Neil McEachern, 4th Con., was successful at the recent examinations at University College, Toronto, in obtaining the degree of B. A.

Notwithstanding the frost and dry weather, the crops are growing fast and show many promises of an abundant harvest. Clover is in full bloom and will be ready for the mower in a few days. The Smiths and J. Westlake, 4th Con., have large fields of barley heading out. This is unusually early. These gentlemen usually have large crops of this cereal.

Es. Dress and Mantle Silks, Mantle Ornaments, Passimenterie Trimming, also Black, White and Cream Spanish Lace at McIntyre & Prior, Woodville.

A. Gunn, V. S., has decided to visit Beaverton every Tuesday—until further notice—Any orders left at John McKinnon's Drug Store or by telegraph, will have prompt attention. See card in another

HEALTH IN THE WILDERNESS.

THE GREAT ANTIDOTE TO MIASMA.

The axe and the plough are annually making vast inroads into the wilderness of the western world. Forests, as if by magic, are changed into cornfields, and prairie swamps and canebrakes into arable land. But these conquests of industry are not achieved without loss. Hundreds, and thousands of the energetic pioneers whose labors have caused the wilderness to "blossom as the rose," fall a sacrifice to the terrible diseases engendered by the miasma of the soil. Violent intermittent and remittent fevers, rheumatism, neuralgia and affections of the stomach and bowels, are the almost inevitable penalties incurred by families who settle on new lands. Hence it is that the demand for Holloway's Pills and Ointment in the far West is so large in proportion to the population. The cultivators of the soil on the outskirts of civilization look upon them, and with reason, as among the prime necessities of life. In the more densely populated regions of the West, they are universally considered specifics for the diseases we have named; and every provident farmer takes care to fore-arm his family against the prostrating influence of an insalubrious atmosphere and climate, by keeping a supply of the remedies constantly on hand. This will be no news to such of our readers as have travelled in the West. There, as in the North, the East, and the South, the prestige of the medicines is constantly increasing, and Holloway's success in the glorious work of mitigating human suffering, and saving and prolonging human life, is spoken of among all classes with wonder and gratitude. We believe that there is scarcely a family in Europe that does not keep these medicines by them; the soldier carries them in his knapsack, and the sailor has them always ready to hand in his chest for every case of emergency, either from internal or external complaints, knowing that by the aid of these wonderful medicines he may brave the disease of any climate with impunity.—Greenwich Journal.

Holloway's Pills.—Changes of temperature and weather frequently upset persons who are most careful of their health, and particular in their diet. These corrective, purifying, and gentle aperient Pills are the best remedy for all defective action of the digestive organs. They augment the appetite, strengthen the stomach, correct biliousness, and carry off all that is noxious from the system. Holloway's Pills are composed of rare balsams, unminged with baser matter, and on that account are peculiarly well adapted for the young, delicate, and aged. As this peerless medicine has gained fame in the past, so will it preserve it in the future by its renovating and invigorating qualities, and the impossibility of its doing harm.
