W. C. T. U.

The regular fortnightly meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held in the Odd-Fellows' Hall, on Thursday May 31st. The attendance at this meeting was considerably larger and the treasurer reported two new honorary members. After the usual routine business had been disposed of, the ladies listened with great pleasure to two readings given by members of the union. The Band of Hope entertainment comes off on Friday evening, the 8th inst, and it is hoped that a large audience will greet the children on their first appearance before the public.—[Press Com.]

Not the Man.

We have received a communication from Dr. P. E. Kidd, now of Brooklyn, N. Y., to the effect that he was not the person reported by us as having passed "final examinations," at Toronto University lately, but that a brother of the Doctor's is intended. It is further added that Dr. Kidd graduated at Queen's University, Kingston, ten years ago. We cheerfully make the correction.

For Bulk Pickles go to R. Dunsheath Cheap! Cheap!! Cheap!!!

The cheapest place on earth to buy Goods is at Hodgson's Mammoth Store.

As Others See Us.

High Constable Calverley has a great knack of always getting his man when he takes to the road with a blue paper. His last capture was Joseph Elliott, of Beaverton, who had eluded arrest for a month or two, until a couple of weeks ago when he was taken by constable Jewett of Port Perry, but with the aid of some others escaped again. Constable Calverley went to Beaverton on Friday last, and spent the day without success trying to find Elliott, so he started for home on the five o'clock train. He returned to Beaverton by the next train from Lorneville and slipped quietly into the village. To his great amusement he found Elliott, with a crowd around him, explaining how he had monkeyed all day with Calverley, and kept out of his way so cleverly. Calverley listened a while with great interest, and when he finally collared his man Elliott was so surprised he jumped about three feet high. He gave in at once. During the day many of Elliott's friends had tried at various times to impress Calverley with the belief that Elliott was such a hard case he would take the constable's life the moment he attempted to arrest him, but it didn't seem to come off. It is a singular and most astonishing thing that such a reign of terror has been instituted by the whiskey sellers of Beaverton that not a citizen of the village dare even point Elliott out to the high constable. They need a few visits from our efficient high constable in such a hole as it must be, where people talk of taking constable's lives.—Whitby Chronicle.

Crowd of Buyers.

The crowds of Millinery buyers, of Dress Goods buyers, of Mantle Goods buyers, of Boot and Shoe buyers, &c. &c. is proof positive that Hodgson is selling goods cheaper than all competitors and that he still continues to do the largest business done in Beaverton.

Beaverton's Fashionable Tailoring Establishment.

That School 'Bee'

It was announced in our last that a "bee" would be held on Tuesday to clear the school grounds of stones and level the surface, and out of the whole community not more than fifteen or sixteen men responded, these were augmented by a number of the larger boys from the school and many of the stones were removed, the ground was also fairly levelled. The work has made a great improvement and when nicely carpeted with sod and plentifully planted with trees Beaverton will have the handsomest school grounds to be found in the district.

Pic-Nic.

A large pic-nic party was at the grove on Wednesday from Cannington. The day was fine but the wind too high for boating.

Suspicious.

A suspicious looking character was in town on Wednesday last, who by the number of meals he disposed of in his tour of the village must have hailed from Orillia. Experience has taught us to look with disfavor on men who eat several dinners in close order and a watch was accordingly set on this gentleman who on finding himself watched, suddenly left.

Something Should Be Done.

We are in receipt of a communication from Newmarket asking for information as to facilities for landing and accommodation when here for a large excursion party from that place. This is the second we have received from the west side of the lake and we hope the people of the village will make a vigorous effort to have one of the present wharves put in a condition that people may land safely, and during the coming fall and winter let us build a permanent harbor from the mouth of the river. Certainly every possible facility should be given for strangers to visit us.
