Remember it is only the female mosquito that bites, but when a man gets a chance to belt one with a towel, he's going to do it without stopping to enquire its gender.

Heavy Rain.—The most terrific rain storm of the season occurred on Monday, noon. For an hour the downpour was truly alarming. Although fields and gardens were flooded not much harm seems to have been done.

In England young gentlemen speak of their fathers as "the Governor," "pater," "the overseer," etc. Here we are more civilized. We say "dad," "the boss," or "the old man." In heathen countries they say "father," but they are behind the age.

One of the large lights of glass in the store of J. A. Mitchell & Co., and another in the window of D. McLeod's, came to grief yesterday morning,—a foot ball the cause. The street is not the place to play the game, and this will be a caution to those wishing to indulge.

School Examination.—The quarterly examination of the Woodville Public School, will be held on Monday and Tuesday next. The junior division will be examined Monday afternoon and the senior division on the forenoon of Tuesday. Parents and others are earnestly invited to be present.

King Kennedy.—The above named performer of the "magic art" gave an entertainment in Spencer Hall, on Monday evening, to a small audience. The performance was splendid, and those who were present enjoyed two hours of good and original entertainment. Most of his tricks are original and ingenious while his ventriloquial powers are truly amazing.

Mustard.—If appearances go for anything the present must be a magnificent season for the Mustard crop, large numbers of our best fields are a bright and beautiful yellow, the little grain growing amongst the mustard is entirely invisible; of course the beautiful mustard is more ornamental than useful; but it gives the field a gay appearance, seems not to require much cultivating and spreads like thunder. It is asserted that nothing has been created in vain, but this mustard is a tickler, is only a nuisance and cannot possibly serve any good purpose.

Change of Route.—The mail route between here and Hartley, Glenora and Islay is to be abolished after today and all mail matter to or from these offices will now go by way of Cambray. The above offices will now have three mails per week, instead of two as formerly, but this advantage over the old route is more than counterbalanced by the loss of time entailed by the delay at Cambray—letters for Toronto and the south, instead of reaching their destination the same day, as formerly, will now be two days on the road, while express parcels must stop at Cambray.

Visit.—Cannington Brass Band visited this village on Thursday evening last. They had been at a picnic held in Allewell's grove. They are greatly improved under their present leader, Mr. Spelding, and Cannington can now boast of as good a Band as can be found north of Toronto. We noticed among the players some who were members of the first Band organized in Cannington, and although it has had a very fitful life, as such institutions must necessarily have, they have stuck to it and it must now be gratifying to them once more to see it approaching its old standard of perfection.

In Chancery.—BELL v. IRISH.—An action for illegal distress. Plaintiff was tenant to defendant. Some time ago an agreement was made between them whereby the tenant assigned his goods to the landlord to secure certain arrears of rent. The tenant paid a sum sufficient, as he alleges, to cover last year's rent. The landlord afterwards seized the goods and also others not included in the agreement. Hagarty, C. J., and Cameron, J., held that the assignment passed the goods absolutely; Arnou, J., that it did not pass the property. Rule to be absolute for a new trial, costs to abide event unless plaintiff will take a verdict for $15 with Division Court costs.

The Peterborough Times says: "Tall stories about the height of various grains are going the rounds pretty freely. Our next door coterie had a notice of some barley sown on the 6th of May last, which had reached the enormous (?) height of two feet eight inches. Well, we were shown some barley on Sunday which knocks the spots off that. The seed was sown on the 8th of May, by Mr. Thos. Edgar, of Lot 6, Smith, and is three feet one inch in height and this is no selected stock either, it having been pulled at random from a ten acre field. Next." Pretty long barley, friend, however, when we hear from Eldon you may prepare to hide your diminished stalks.

Strawberry Festival.—The festival held in Spencer Hall, last Tuesday evening, under the auspices of the Presbyterian Church Choir, was the best that we have had this season. The singing was excellent, the speaking fine, and the strawberries and cream delicious. The Choir sang two very fine anthems, and Mr. McSweyn gave "The Grave Digger" with good effect; Miss Stott and Miss Stuart sang "What are the Wild Waves saying?" in good style, and two quartets by the Misses Stott, Stoddart, Stuart and Grant, were well rendered, as was also the duet, "Hope Beyond," by Miss Stott and Mr. McSweyn. The speakers were the Rev. Messrs. Ross and Jewell, the Rev. Mr. Murray having found it impossible to be present. Although the festival was not what might be called a financial success, yet we believe enough was realized to cover expenses.

As alcoholic drinks have happily long been driven from the harvest fields, there have been various drinks besides water substituted, but scarcely any of them meeting fully the condition sought for in the way of a wholesome satisfying beverage. Water, even its purity, does not seem to quench thirst and stimulate the body, as it induces additional perspiration and passes through the pores almost like pass through a colander, leaving the system exhausted and weak; besides, a drink of cold water, when suffering under a great degree of heat, is dangerous, on at times producing sudden death. Latterly in England and elsewhere a drink is prepared by mixing oatmeal with water, in the proportion of one or four ounces to a gallon of water. This is found not only to satiate the thirst better than water, or mashes and water, even when tempered with vinegar or other acid, but to induce additional strength of body. Oatmeal possesses a peculiar aroma and acts as a stimulant to the surface of the skin as to cause the complete digestion of the liquid. Men employed in atmosphere of the intensest heat, much comforted with it, and become fond of it. Hence it is in a measure 'victuals and drink,' possessing of virtues and without any drawbacks whatever. Just now the time is here give it a trial, and we shall be glad if the end of the season those substituting the oatmeal and water will make port as to the results.

PETERBOROUGH had an 1,000 fire last Saturday night.

A LECTURER in Toronto long ago, remarked that children spend considerable portion of their life in the school room, and that there are the greatest, grandest, and most wonderful things in art, literature and science first presented to their high impressionable minds, and that ideas formed and the impressions made upon them then could never be effaced. He urged that the great power is put into the hand of the school master should not be wielded by 'cheap teachers,' and that school boards should do well to look to this matter.

THE CIRCLE.
 At Woodville, on the 14th inst., the wife of Mr. Hector McNeill & son.

ALL the stations and trains of the Paris-Lyons-Mediterranean line have for some time past possessed boxes containing the medicaments and surgical instruments required in accidents. But as the use of these medicaments was sufficiently known by the railway employes, the Company has lately distributed in its stations and to all persons employed therein a manual containing instructions to the aid to be given, in case of accidents, before the arrival of a physician.

PEOPLE tormented by the many disagreeable sensations produced by dyspepsia, or are thin, nervous and weak, should use the standard tonic—Northrop & Lyman's Quinine Wine. They will find it agreeable and beneficial. It enriches the blood by aiding digestion and assimilation; soothes and invigorates the nervous system, and imparts a healthy appetite. When used as a remedy for bilious and intermittent fever, it produces the happiest results, if taken between the attacks. Convalescence is hastened, and untimely decay of the physique and constitution arrested by it. The spirituous constituent sherry wine, is of the best quality, and aromatics combined with it, renders it for additionally pleasant. They who use it, gain flesh as well as strength, and exert a cheering influence upon the mind. It promotes a healthy secretion and flow of bile, sound repose and regularity in the action of the bowels. If judiciously used it may be taken without apprehension of any ill result by persons of the most delicate constitution. A fair trial is all that is needed to prove the genuineness of its claims to public confidence, and to the truth of the general verdict in its behalf. No article of its class commends itself so strongly to nervous invalids who require building—none is so well adapted to fortify the system against the dangers which threaten to debilitate. It should not be mistaken for a mere stimulant for appetite, which many so-called tonics simply are. It so regulates the stomach that it is enabled to perform its various functions with regularity and vigor, and its action is not only thorough and prompt. Ask for the "Quinine Wine of Northrop & Lyman." Sold by all druggists.

TWO LIVES SAVED.

Norwood, February 19th, 1880.

T. MARR & Co.
 GENTLEMEN:—I notice that you have become proprietors of that old and well-tried medicine—FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY. I have sold it for the last two years, and in no case have I known it fail to give relief when used in Summer Complaint in any of its forms. People often tell me what it has done for them. Not long since I was at Colborne Station awaiting a train, when a gentleman approached, calling by name and holding out his hand, "I don't remember me," said he, "but I have reason to remember you, for I shall always believe you were the means, under God, of saving the lives of my two children." He put his hand and asked him his name and particulars as to how I could have done such a service. He said his name was "Dwyer," and that "some years before he had known me while clerking in a store in Birmingham." One day, after burying two children who had died of Summer Complaint, he had been telling me his trouble. So, "that two others of his children were that moment very low with it, and the doctors unable to do them any good." I then remembered the circumstances myself, and that I had told him to go back to Messrs. Ormond & Gilmour's Drug store in Peterboro' and get a bottle of FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY. He said that "he did so," and that "there was an improvement from the first dose," and "that it saved the lives of his children." I may add that it is equally good for adults, often checking and curing this dreadful disease when nothing else will. Hoping that this may be of service in extending a knowledge of its virtues,

I am, yours truly,
 J. NO. A. BUTTERFIELD,
 Clerk, 2nd Div. Court.
