Weather prophets are predicting the longest and coldest winter for the past twenty years.

The days have grown so short lately that a thirty day note comes around now in about three weeks.

Township Council.—Eldon Township Council met on Tuesday last at Lornville. Report of proceedings next week.

I. O. G. T.—Election of officers tomorrow evening. A full attendance of the members is requested.

Sermon.—The Rev. Mr. Sage occupied the pulpit of the Presbyterian church on Sabbath last. He will also conduct the services next Sabbath.

"Let me kiss him for his mother." is the unspoken wish of many a fair girl, but how few boys ever want to kiss a girl for her father.

Preparations for the laying of a new sidewalk are being made in the neighbourhood of the church, the plank being already on the ground.

Too much precaution cannot be taken against colds during sudden changes in the weather. A little neglect in this particular often results in incurable lung diseases and consumption.

'Tis sweet to be remembered
But there's something sweeter still,
'Tis sweet to be forgiven
When you owe a man a bill.

Returned.—By an oversight last week, we failed to notice the return of our old friend Dr. McKay from his sojourn in the Old Country. He is looking extremely well and jolly.

Bible Society.—The services in behalf of the Upper Canada Bible Society announced to take place in Spencer Hall next Sabbath and Monday have been postponed indefinitely.

Ploughing Match.—A Ploughing Match by the United Counties of North and South Victoria, will take place on the farm of Mr. David King, Oakwood, on Tuesday, October 29th. We hope to see Eldon well represented.

The man who believes in weather predictions had better prepare to get himself inside of about seventeen different kinds of underwear. The weakest and mildest prediction calls for weather which will freeze Lake Erie twenty feet deep.

The Orpheus.—We have before us the October number of the above named musical journal. It contains a good collection of entirely new music. The publication is only $1 per year, and is published by Horatio C. King, 27 Park Place, New York.

Special.—A Special train left Woodville Junction on Sunday morning last for Toronto, conveying a number of employees to attend the funeral of the late Mr. Larmer, an engineer, on the road, who died at Toronto, on Saturday last. The funeral was largely attended.

Business.—Business at present is very flat and dull, nothing being done, it was expected that threshing being over business would brighten, but the grain markets have opened with such low prices that very little grain has as yet stirred, making things very dull.

Concert.—The Band intend giving a concert in two or three weeks for the benefit of their teacher, Mr. Johnston, who is about leaving for the Old Country. We hope to see the villagers turn out liberally and show their appreciation of Mr. Johnson's services for our Band, it being principally through his efforts that the Band was founded.

Bear Hunt.—A number of our villagers armed themselves on Saturday last, and proceeded to Clark's bush, immediately below the Railway Station, where it was reported a bear had been seen, but after hunting for a considerable time and finding no bear they concluded that no bear was to be found, and quietly returned home.

Thanks.—We beg to offer our sincere and heartfelt thanks to our humble friend John Shaw, who for the last few mornings has so kindly undertook to rouse us from our slumbers by the sturdy application of his old tin horn; and would modestly request that he transfer his esteemed services to more deserving individuals—those who will be more thoroughly able to appreciate the honor conferred upon them.

Lucky.—The Courts have ordered the payment of Wendt Bros. claim against the Merchants' and Mechanics' Insurance Co., of Hamilton, within one month. We are pleased with the result of the trial. Wendt Bros. were much respected in this neighbourhood, and should they think it advisable to commence business again in our village, we could safely guarantee them a good patronage.

Meanness.—Some mischievous individual has taken the trouble to break one of the large panes of glass in the front of the Regulator. Our worthy constable, Mr. Thos. Morrison has authorized us to offer a reward of two dollars for information as will lead to the conviction of the culprit. We hope he may be found and rigorously dealt with. A stern example would be very beneficial just now.

That Phrenologist.—Our village was visited last week by a fellow styling himself a Phrenologist. He was gifted with an immense amount of eloquence with which he succeeded in gulling a number of the unwary into having their "bumps" read. He departed immediately after show day; since that our exchanges have been full of "that Phrenologist" and his exploits, in fact some places which he visited took such an interest in him that they rotten-egged him, while others admired his talents so much that they declined to have anything to do with him.

Signs.—About this time the farmer takes a walk of a pleasant Sunday afternoon to get points on weather indications for the coming winter. If he finds the muskrat houses unusually thick and strong, the fish collecting in the deepest water, the squirrels thick in the sugar bush, and covered with an especially heavy coating of fur, he shrugs his shoulders and takes a look at the family woodpile. The season is sure to be a cold one. All these signs are reported to be strongly marked this year: Bears and squirrels are more numerous this season than they have been for many years past; and from this fact is adduced the belief that an early and severe winter is before us. Those who have made observations in nature, say that the near approach of those animals to the dwellings of men, in the early fall, is an infallible sign.

Ghost.—'Twas the witching hour of last Friday night. The members of our establishment had retired to rest, and everything around was calm and still. Suddenly a terrible yell awoke the whole house with its piercing and heart-rending agony, a yell which curled the very blood and made our hair fairly raise on end, arose from the regions of the cellar. Our fame for bravery has never been sung by poets nor have we figured conspicuously among those who have performed great deeds, therefore our hesitation in descending into those lower regions above referred to is explained. We didn't go, but quietly waited for a repetition of the fearful sounds. They came not, and we retired again to rest. Next morning upon investigation several handfuls of hair which at one time must have adorned the form of some unfortunate feline, was found adhering to our ink roller. Since the above occurrence occasional wails which would rend the heart of a stone, or overwhelm a wheelbarrow with grief, arise from the region of our cellar. Close investigation has failed to bring the wretched object of our torture to light, and if the agony continues much longer we shall be forced to evacuate.
