Utah Harems.

Yesterday when the Union Pacific train arrived, bringing in fifteen car loads of Mormon emigrants, there was much bustle, and people were seen running hither and thither in search of expected friends. Many scenes of interest were witnessed, where relatives met and shed tears of joy together after a separation of many years. But there were other meetings less affectionate and more in the shape of business. One case will illustrate how the old polygamists enter into the business of bartering for the transportation and purchase of young girls to become additions to their harems and enter into polygamy and a life of wretchedness in the name of religion. Missionaries are sent by the church to proselyte in Europe for converts to the shrine of Mormonism. When a sufficient number are persuaded to leave the low walks of their native homes and come to Utah, where they are promised an earthly paradise, they are gathered together and stowed away in a vessel and sail for America. Their trip across the ocean, and thence by cars from New York to Utah, is made under the direction of some of these missionaries, who look after the matter of transportation and keep, if possible, members of the crowd from straying. These missionaries are of the shrewd class, and know how to act the part of shepherd over the flock, and at the same time make the most out of the business. They, too, are very accommodating, and ready to take charge of special cargoes of girls. When the train arrived yesterday the Weber river had no trouble in finding the returning missionary who could point out to him the fourteen-year-old Swedish girl who had been imported especially as an addition to the harem of this old gray-haired saint. Going up to the girl he greeted her in a very business-like manner, and taking her by the hand, went wandering among the crowd and around the depot. The girl was not specially pleased with his appearance and preferred not to accept him as her fractional husband; but then her fare had been paid all the way from Sweden by him and she had been shipped on the condition of being his upon her arrival, and she felt that she was bound and must accept the situation. The old brute, in his attempts to console her and make the situation pleasant, put his arm around her waist. This was too much for the young girl, and in her innocence she broke down in sobs and tears. The last seen of her was in a wagon with a motly crowd and by the side of the old sinner, travelling toward his home, and we presume she is to-day more of a slave than ever was any of the colored race in the South, for the breaking of whose chains caused the long and bloody war of the rebellion. Such cases as this, we presume, are far from being uncommon, but the actors in most of them possess too much discretion to permit a public expose. When girls are sold in Europe in the same manner, as was the case in this instance, it is time that the nation should arise and crush out the hellish system which carries on its disgusting business in the name of religion.—Oligon Pilot.

A Horrible Story.

A mysterious business is related from Garma, in the depths of Hungary. Borgo Levics, a bricklayer of that town, was near his cottage after the day's work, when a strange man stopped him in the road and asked him if he would undertake a job, for which he should be well remunerated. "I and my wife are living in a country house a little way out of town, and I want you to come with your tools and wall up a sort of cupboard. But you must come at once, for my wife declares she will not sleep another night in the place if the thing be not done before dark. I fancy the cupboard must be connected with some drain or passage, for it swarms with rats and mice; and that is why it must be walled up. If you will come at once you shall have 50 gulden." Needless to say that the poor workman collected together the necessary implements in all haste, and marched off after the stranger, who led him to a tumble-down looking and long-untended house about a mile out of town. A pretty young woman, who appeared very nervous and anxious, met them at the door. They traversed several rooms, and at last reached a kind of kitchen. A dark closet, which evidently reached some way back, opened into this room by a low doorway. "There's the place," quoth the lady, "it's full of rats; wall it up quick, ugh!" Levics went to work, but stopped short with a start of surprise at a noise he heard issuing from the hole. "Oh, those detestable rats!" exclaimed the lady, "only listen to them!" Once more the man took up his trowel, but after two or three artistic flops with the mortar, dropped it again with a jump. "Go on, go on!" begged the lady. But Levics now declared he would not lay a brick till he had looked for himself with a lantern what manner of place this was. More demands that he should finish his job, threats, tears, and offers of 100fl., 150fl., up to 500fl., if he would go on. But this only excited his suspicions the more, and he remained firm. "Well go and get a lantern, then," said the gentleman, "but take a class of wine first." You can guess what effect this had. He drank and went to sleep. When he awoke the house was empty. He staggered to the police station (for his head was still swimming from the doctored wine), and related what had happened. Search was made, and in the recess they found an infant about six weeks old, naked, and with its mouth gagged. It was still alive, but died that evening. So now the police have got a nice nut to crack. It will take them all their time, I should fancy.—London Globe's Vienna Correspondent.

The Fourteen Wonders of the World.

The seven wonders of the world in ancient times were the pyramids of Egypt, the Pharos of Alexandria, the walls and hanging gardens of Babylon, the Temple of Diana, the statue of Olympian Jupiter, the Mausoleum of Artemesia, and the Colossus of Rhodes.

The seven wonders of the world, in modern times, are the printing press, the steam engine, the telegraph, the photograph, the telephone, phonograph and the electric light.

The so-called "Seven Wonders" of the ancients, were mere trifles compared with those of the present time. The Brooklyn Bridge, for example, would make the hanging gardens of Babylon a mere toy, while the whole seven wonders put together would sink into insignificance could their builders have seen a lightning express train at full speed.

JOHN F. CUNNINGAS, Clerk.

UFFINGTON.

From our own Correspondent.

SOCIAL.—A social was recently held in the residence of Mr. Spring, in aid of the Presbyterian Mission. A large number of people assembled together and a very pleasant evening was spent. After tea had been served, a few short but pithy lectures were delivered, when the "young folks" as usual spent a very enjoyable time in singing and playing. The proceeds amounted to about $18.

DEPARTURE.—The Rev. Mr. Herold as mentioned in last week's issue, took his departure for college on Monday last. Farewell!

ARRIVAL.—Now that the hunting season has come, the Indians have once more made their arrival, and now the sound of the "musket" is heard on all sides of us.

BEAR SHOT.—Mr. Joseph Dowles shot a bear in Poverty Lake recently.

TIGHNABRUAICH.

From our own Correspondent.

A large number of hunters are at present camping around the lake. "The hounds deep bay and hunter's fire" may be heard reverberating through the woods to the terror of the fleet-footed deer. A few bears have been seen in this vicinity, and around the lake during the past three or four weeks; but as yet only one has been known to succumb to the leaden pill.

Messrs. Black & Eastcott have brought a new threshing machine into the neighbohood. It is doing very good work so far, and should this continue it will be a great benefit to the farmers here, who are in some cases without bars. Considerable loss and inconvenience has been experienced during the last few years through not getting in a machine in proper time to do the work.

BEXLEY.

From our own Correspondent.

Five deer were recently seen near Raven Lake, and also three bears at a spring on the 2nd Con. of Bexley. Partridge are numerous along the creeks and groves.

This part of the county can boast of a young man (whose father says he is a gentleman) who lies in the fence corners listening to what the people have to say when going from church on Sundays. It is said that he sometimes chases the smaller scholars when returning from school, using all kinds of oaths at them.

The potato crop here is behind the average this year, owing no doubt to the severe drought we have passed through. Those who planted early had the advantage.

It is reported that ice to the thickness of three-fourths of an inch froze on water in Carden on Tuesday night, Oct. 4th. Get your skates ready boys!

The Head Lake correspondent of the Warder states that several weddings are about to take place there. Strange to say, several have been talking of tying the inextricable knot around here all summer and have not got it done yet. It must be a big one.

NOTES.—Snow fell here on Monday morning—Wild geese are making for the south—Another severe frost on Monday night, Oct. 10th.

This and That.

BORCAYGEON is to have a public park. It already has a fountain.

THE Uxbridge Township Fair will be held at Goodwood, on the 13th and 14th of October.

DIPHTHERIA is said to be prevalent in Cannington and the attendance at the schools has fallen off in consequence.

THE Uxbridge Fire Brigade have disbanded because the village Fathers have refused to give them $250 a year.

The engines and boilers for McArthur & Thompson's mill at Fenelon Falls, have been received.

Blackstone, the name of England's greatest lawyer, and the name of a well known lawyer's pen of Esterbrook's make. The stationers have them.

On Saturday last a little boy, about seven years old, son of Mr. J. T. H. Hancock, near Foley, had the thumb and first finger of his left hand cut off while playing with other children round a straw cutter.

Burdock Blood Bitters is not a fancy drink, but a pure medicinal tonic, alterative, laxative and nerve, whose effect is to purify, restore and build up the impoverished blood and enfeebled body. Price $1.00, trial size 10 cents.

Mrs. Bates and her daughter, Harriet, who left Brooklyn about six weeks ago to reside in Michigan, perished in the terrible fires which lately swept over a large portion of that state.

M. S. Shelton, of Orford, Mich., writes: "I have used Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil on horses for different diseases and found it to be just as you recommended. It has done justice to me every time, and is the best oil for horses I ever used."

Mr. Geo. Ormiston, of Raglan had a valuable heifer killed by lightning on Friday morning, September 3rd. Mr. Ormiston had a day or so previous, insured his stock against lightning.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is the best remedy for infants teething, it is safe, pleasant and reliable, and cures promptly all forms of Bowel Complaints. For Canadian Cholera or Cholice and Dysentery or either children or adults there is no better remedy.

JOHN STEWART, of Brougham, is in trouble. He set fire to a stump near a neighbor's fence, and accused of it fired several shots from a rifle at his accusers. He has been arrested.

No wonder many a man's love has been turned into loathing on account of unsightly eruptions on the face, and of the offensive breath of his hance. This trouble could have been avoided if she only had sense enough to use Burdock Blood Bitters. Price $1.00, trial size 10 cents.

THE reporter of a Peterboro paper chronicles the horticultural fact that an apple tree in a garden in that town, presents a singular appearance. On one side of the tree the man of the house knocks down the fruit with a clothes pole, while around on the other side a frolicsome maid picks a bouquet of full blown blossoms.

A general alarm is needed when the frame is consumed with fever as with a slow fire, brought on by sluggishness of the kidneys, or torpidity of the liver; Burdock Blood Bitters will act on the system like a chemical engine, and remove all fever and restore to normal state of health. Price $1.00, trial size 10 cents.
