QUEEN VICTORIA IS DEAD

After thirty-six hours of suspense during which hope had fought a losing battle with despair, the people of Lindsay heard the sad tidings that Her Majesty the Queen was dead. The news was received about half-past two o'clock. Mayor Ingle ordered the town flag at half-mast and the peals of the bell announced to the people that their Queen had passed away. The court house flag was already drooping from the mast. Others rapidly were displayed, St. Paul's church bell was soon tolling, in the windows of many business places pictures of the dead sovereign were draped in black, and awed by these emblems and their meaning the people on the street sadly said to each other "So the Queen is dead." The schools were dismissed and the county council promptly adjourned its session. While the solemn demonstration fell short of what the occasion demanded yet there was no mistaking that the people were deeply moved at their gracious sovereign's death.

O bells that toll in every zone and clime!
There is a sound of sobbing in your breath.
East, west, north, south, the solemn clamor goes,
Voicing a great, a universal grief!

Victoria County Court

Copeland Brewing Co. vs. W. A. Brooks and Henry Brooks.—This long-drawn-out case passed another stage Wednesday morning. It commenced with an injunction granted on April 26th, 1900, stopping the sale of goods in the Brooks Hotel under a chattel mortgage held by Henry Brooks. After various changes and setting aside of judgment the defendants asked to have the damages assessed, which damages they claimed to have suffered by reason of stopping the sale. The evidence was heard by His Honor Judge Dean in December and Thursday morning his Honor gave a long written judgment holding that the plaintiffs must pay Henry Brooks the balance due on his mortgage and with interest and his costs of sale and costs of suit, and as to W. A. Brooks, the judgment is that any injury inflicted on him was from the removal of the goods rather than from stopping the sale, and so was not covered by the injunction nor by the solicitor's undertaking given when the injunction was granted; and as to this W. A. Brooks is to be at liberty to bring an action of trespass against such parties as he may be advised, or His Honor will with consent of all parties go on and assess the damages on the evidence already adduced. In the judgment the Division Court hallif received some very valuable hints as to his conduct in allowing himself to be made use of for objects beyond the collecting of executions in his hands. T. Stewart and W. Steers for the Copeland Brewing Co.; H. O'Leary for Henry Brooks; and G. H. Hopkins for W. A. Brooks.

Toronto University Alumni Association

On Friday after noon last a meeting was held to organize an Alumni Association for the graduates and undergraduates of the University of Toronto resident in the county of Victoria. Dr. J. C. McLennan of the University staff addressed the meeting in place of Dr. Reeve who was detained on account of some operations, and would otherwise have been present. As a result of the meeting an organization was effected and officers elected as follows:—
Hon. President...W. W. Dean M.A.;
President...J. C. Harstone, B.A.;
1st. Vice-Pres...J. A. White M.D.;
2nd. Vice-Pres...Rev. J. McD. Duncan, B. A., B. D.;
3rd. Vice-Pres...L. V. O'Connor B.A. Sec-Treas...Miss E. G. Flavell, B.A. Councillors—Dr. Cornwall, Omenino, Rev. L. S. Hughton, B. A., B. D., Dr. Grant, Victoria Road, Dr. Neill, A. E. Gregory, Fenelon Falls A. E. Gregory, Miss M. E. T. Addison, B. A.

A clause in the conditions provides that all graduates and undergraduates of the university of Toronto, in all the faculties; and in the affiliated schools are eligible for membership. The annual fee is $1.25 which includes the fee for the university monthly. The annual meeting is fixed for June. The secretary-treasurer will be glad to receive the names and fees of any who would like to enroll as members.

Academy of Music

On Tuesday night the Slayton Jubilee Singers gave the third concert in the Y.M.C.A. course. The house was packed. The company comprised eight people—an equal number of men and women. A good deal of the program consisted of individual minstrel turns, that were fairly well done. To those who had been accustomed to the old-time jubilee singers the number and quality of the choruses must have been a disappointment that extracts from the variety stage could hardly atone for. Yet the entertainment taken all together had considerable merit.
