A LITTLE OF EVERYTHING

Gleaned From Our Exchanges

A Roman Catholic church unique in the history of Roman Catholicism in England, in that it has been built entirely by pauper labor, has just been opened in London. The sacred edifice is located in the Marylebone work house. For many years past the lunatics of the house in question belonging to the Roman Catholic church have performed their devotion in one of the wards improvised as a chapel. As time went on the number of Roman Catholic poor seeking the shelter of the Marylebone union grew to such an extent—in fact, there are now over 400 Roman Catholic inmates in the house—that the little chapel was found too small for the congregation, and the guardians resolved to provide a large one. The work was accomplished entirely by pauper labor.

The stupidity, carelessness, or willful neglect of deputy returning officers who fail to initial ballots cast at an election will not be allowed to disenfranchise voters. In this opinion Mr. Justice Street has concurred with Chancellor Boyd, and their Lordships today handed out formal decision to that effect in connection with the North Bruce election.

The Hamilton Herald suggests that the present is a fitting time for the calling in of light and mutilated coin, to be replaced by a new issue. It is a fact that a large proportion of our silver coin is light weight. Many of the pieces are so worn that banks and storekeepers refuse to take them, and the holders are frequently compelled to make expenditures they did not intend to get rid of them. The government should arrange with the banks to redeem all such coins at face value.

Some of the most valuable furs seen in Canada for some time are now in the possession of Mr. Russell McDougall of Owen Sound, and were secured from Indians near Rat Portage. They have been sold to an eastern syndicate. In the collection there were two silver fox skins, each valued at $300. Other valuable skins are five cross fox skins, twenty lynx, two hundred mink, sixty red fox, thirty-five fisher and many black bear and muskrat. The whole purchase is between $2,500 to $3,000.

Major McCalmont is little known in America, but some Americans have met him at Newmarket, which he represents in parliament. He is just forty years old and worth about $40,000,000. His father, a barrister in moderate circumstances, had two uncles, Robert and Hugh, who were partners in the stock broking business for fifty-three years without a single change, no one else being taken into the firm. When at the end of fifty-three years Robert, the elder of the two, who had married a sister of Lord Cairns, died a widower and childless, he left his property to his brother Hugh, and it was the latter, who never married, that bequeathed the whole fortune, his own and his brother's, estimated at four millions sterling, in trust for his great-nephew to inherit when he attained the age of 32.

Verdi bequeathed three to six million lire ($600,000 to $1,000,000) for a home for aged musicians.

Prof. Robert Gersuny, one of the most eminent surgeons of Austria, reports an important discovery which he has made. This discovery consists in the use of a mixture of paraffin and vaseline in curing physical deformities and filling cavities formed by the removal of portions of bones. In a large number of experiments this treatment has proved perfectly successful. The mixture is injected beneath the epidermis at a temperature of 104 degrees. It hardens quickly and remains in position without the possibility of shifting. It does not irritate the surrounding parts, and is in no way harmful to the blood. In a case where the jaw was removed this injection filled out the hollowed cheek to a perfect contour. Another patient suffered from a defect in the palate, which caused an impediment in his speech. After an operation the malformation in the palate was corrected by the injection described, and the speech became distinct. It is believed possible that this injection may also prove of great use in cases of muscular constriction, but experiments in this direction are not yet complete. A number of surgical authorities have declared that the mixture will possibly be invaluable for developing thin persons, concealing deformities of the face and body. Prof. Gersuny declines to allow the discovery to benefit him financially, declaring that he values it purely from medical and scientific standpoints.

It is announced by the Militia Department that the Imperial Government have offered ten commissions for captains and fifteen for lieutenants in the South African Constabulary, in the event of 1000 men being recruited in Canada for service in that force, or a proportionate number of commissions should fewer than 1000 men enlist, the appointments to be made on recommendation of His Excellency the Governor-General. The appointments will be for not less than three years. Officers will not be confirmed in their appointment until they have served for three months to the satisfaction of the Inspector-General. The rates of pay are: Colonel commanding division, £1200 per annum; lieutenant-colonel, £1000; major, £750 to £900; captain, £510 to £600; lieutenant, 23 shillings to 25 shillings per diem; second lieutenant, 20 shillings per diem.

Local fur dealers have called attention to the fact that there is a good opportunity for the Canadian farmer to make a neat little fortune every year by raising coon cats on his farm. The demand for them is steadily increasing among fur dealers, and at present the supply, which comes mostly from Maine, is hardly large enough to meet the demand. Coon cats, it may be explained, are a cross between a raccoon and a common cat, and there is no reason why they should not be bred as easily on Ontario farms as on a Maine farm. Coon cats are worth today from five dollars to one hundred dollars a piece. Exceptional specimens have been known to fetch two hundred or even three hundred dollars. At the present time all of them come from Maine, simply for the reason that the breed is peculiar as yet to that State. Their popularity is such that the business of breeding them has been rapidly growing during the last few years in that part of the country, and one shipper, not very far from Bar Harbor, exported in 1899 no fewer than three thousand of the animals.

Speaking at a meeting of the Canadian Temperance League in Toronto Monday night, Mr. W. H. Munnis said: "That the licensed liquor interests in the province paid a total of $589,381 a year in fees, and turned over $21,558,000 in business. Only let this amount be spent in legitimate lines of business, said Mr. Munnis, and there will be little talk of over-production. It was under-production and not over-production that caused distress in the labor market."

A report from Monterey, Mexico, declares that the miners in Mexico substantiate the claim that the Chinese discovered this continent long before the days of Columbus. But it is not a mining question. It is a question of history.

The population of Australia is 4,480,000, and that of Canada about 6,000,000. Let us keep ahead of them.

George Lynch, an English war correspondent, who has arrived in New York on his way to England, having gone through the disturbances in China, said of the atrocities committed by the allies' soldiers, from which the Americans, the Japanese, and the English troops were exempted: "Any thoughtful person who has been in Pekin with the allies cannot but speculate as to what effect this visitation will have on the population of China. It is luminously evident to my mind that for generations to come the progress of Christianity in China is absolutely killed. In China the faith was practically making no real progress, but what little progress it has made among the lower classes and the destitute coolies, who form the bulk of the so-called converts, is now utterly wiped out. It will be generations before the recollection of this latest crusade is erased from the memory of the Chinese people."

They say John D. Rockefeller's money makes him unhappy. Why doesn't he burn more of it?

Hail, King Edward!

The Chicago papers estimate the Armour fortune at $70,000,000. What the old pork packer actually devised was fifteen millions. The calculations were about four hundred per cent. wind.

Frank James, the former bandit, was a candidate before the Missouri Legislature for doorkeeper of the House, but failed to get a place. He says: "I feel deeply humiliated over my defeat. I reached the conclusion that the people of Missouri are, at least very ungrateful. I asked an endorsement of the years I have lived as a peaceful and honest citizen, and I have received condemnation. I have fulfilled every promise I made to Governor Crittendon at the time of my surrender, carried out every compact to the letter. I had pledged from fully two-thirds of the Representatives, and yet when the caucus was held received but 13 votes. Revenge? No. I am not seeking it. I have fought my first and last political battle, and lost."

Sir Henry Littlejohn, medical officer of Edinburgh, believes that Murray Hall, the Tammany politician, who upon death Jan. 17th was found to be a woman, was the same person who, in 1871, was brought to the smallpox hospital dressed as a man, but who was subsequently found to be a woman. An employee of the hospital, supplementing the statement of Sir Henry Littlejohn, says: "A woman who went under the name of John Campbell and was a stonemason, married a girl in Edinburgh. The bride complained to a magistrate that her supposed husband was a woman, and the magistrate locked up the impostor on a charge of trifling with the registration laws. Campbell suffered from a slight attack of small pox, and was taken to the hospital. She was released when she recovered. She gave as a reason for her conduct that she was left an orphan and had dressed up in the clothing of a dead brother because it was easier to get employment. At that time time she was supposed to have gone to the United States."

Plans are being made for a party of scientists to leave Victoria in June for the Big Glacier on Mount Fairweather, where the "Silent City of Alaska" is seen every year about that time. The expedition will be backed by some Californians. Tents, photographic and surveying apparatus will be taken. The mirage, which stretches for a distance of five miles across the great glacier, is said to be a representation of the City of Bristol, England, and in order to note the time and weather when their observations are made and all characteristics of the mirage. Then, as soon as one of their number can get into communication with the City of Bristol enquiries will be made by telegraph with scientists at that city of the weather conditions prevailing at Bristol when the observation was made. When the Duke of Abruzzi climbed Mount St. Elias four years ago he made a pen and ink sketch of the silent city.

Not till they sang "God Save the King" in church last Sunday did the full reality of the fact that Victoria is no longer on the throne take possession of the minds of many of our subjects.

Smallpox is not as deadly a disease as is generally supposed. In Wisconsin there have only been two deaths in two months out of 400 cases. A Toronto physician states that he would rather treat a patient for smallpox than for consumption; that he would less dread the consequences of contagion and have greater hope of success with his patient.

Mrs. S. M. Saunders of Mount Vernon, N.Y., has a piece of Queen Victoria's wedding cake, which came to her from her mother, the daughter of a Prussian officer who was with Blucher at Waterloo, to whom it was presented by Lady Mulgrave, one of the maids of honor at the wedding. The piece was shown to the Queen at her golden jubilee, enclosed in a silver casket.

Official notice has been given that ladies who intend being present at the opening of Parliament are to wear mourning costumes. None others will be admitted to the floor of the Senate. The instructions are not definite as to what is the correct thing but it is understood that ladies who have seats on the floor as well as in the official gallery will wear an evening dress of a modified type. The order for mourning means absolute black without any purple or white shades. X
