Mr. Ross Robertson on Skates.

The first appearance of Mr. John Ross Robertson, ex-M. P., Toronto. in 40 years on skates at the O. H A. match on a recent Saturday night brings back recollections of his early career in athletics. He was a good swimmer, and on one occasion, in 1857, he swam across Toronto Bay, with three other U. C. College

In 1859 he was stroke of a sixeared boat, that was manned by college and Model School boys. A good photograph of the crew, by Carson, an old picture taker, hangs in a room at U. C. College. Max Strange, an uncle of Strange of the Argonauts, and nephew of Judge McLennan; the late Dr. Tom White of Hamilton, and Dr. Alec McDonald, chief surgeon of Ward's Island, N. Y., were in the crew. Mr. Robertson managed and played in the hockey, or rather, shinney, games in 1856-1857, when U. C. College played Knox Academy, and the old King street Model School. These were played on the Bay, between York and Sincoe streets.

He started the first game of foothalf at U. C. College, and through his efforts the gymnasium at the U C. Cotlege, on King street, was started and built.

He ; layed cricket on the old Wellington Club, that had its grounds on the corner of Front and Brock streets, when the Brunel family lived tee.

MORE ABOUT ELI HYMAN.

One Chance That Greed Missed to Save Some of Its Money.

The writer met him on the street some time after the failure of the Farmers' Loan and Savings Company, and, on enquiring how things were going with him financially, he exclaimed passionately: "Oh! I hev big robbed, robbed; first it was the Financial Loan wot went busted and done me up, and now the Farmers Loan peoples haf got on to me and dey're making me pay up on the uncalled stock." "But," I said, " thought you were going to make some sort of a compromise with the liquidators?" "No," he replied, "dey would not make no gompromise mit me, dey put in dem dam bailiffs and seized onto everting I haf, and I am near dead."

It appears that he could have made at one time a good compromise with the Farmers' Loan people, but, while he was trying to squirm out of his debt altogether, the liquidators of the company got to know about his wealth and circumstances, and right-By made him pay up in full. This and other losses drove him to the "walking sandwich" mode of employment and rags and bottles business again. The miserable old man lived in a shed, denied himself almost the bare necessities of life, and died in the hospital, through the charity of the city, worth about $100,000, but declaring his poverty to the last breath. The ruling passion strong in death .- A. M. C. in Monetary Times.

Big Rush of Settlers.

Returns received by the Crown Lands Department show that 1,346 farms were located in the Temiskaming region last year, equal to 215,-360 acres, or nearly ten townships. This is estimated to represent the arrival of about 3,000 persons, and does not include the veterans, of whom several hundred have recently taken land up there. Altogether between 500 and 700 veterans have already located, the next most popular sections being Rainy River and Thunder Bay districts.
