Lindsay Pet Stock and Poultry Show

—Show by People and for the People

The residents of Victoria county and the citizens of Lindsay are reminded that the annual show of the Lindsay Pet Stock and Poultry Association will be held this year a week from next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, namely on Jan. 17, 18 and 19.

The reminder is given for various reasons: It is of a highly educative nature and the residents of the country would do well to visit Lindsay in large numbers on the above dates. Here they will be able to see several hundred birds of all colors and breeds; they are privileged to ask questions and seek information from the judges as to why certain birds are awarded prizes; they wish to purchase birds if they are too glad to answer any questions as to how the birds should be bred and cared for.

The citizens of Lindsay would also do well to attend the show, an exhibition which has attracted widespread attention amongst the poultry fanciers of the Province. Mr. D. C. Trew, Lindsay's expert poultry judge, who has already appointed a number of poultry shows this year and who is much in demand as a judge every year all over the Dominion, stated to a Warbler man that the Lindsay Pet Stock and Poultry Association show was one of the best in the Province. It promises to eclipse all past records for this year as the directors are putting forth extra efforts to make the 1911 show a big success. It is Lindsay's show and the people of Lindsay should take an active interest in the show.

Money can be made by the wise poultry fancier and the poultry question is to-day a very important one, one that a very intelligent country should be interested in. Many pointers can be learned by attending the annual show in Lindsay.

A meeting of the association was held last night in Mr. D. A. Maclean's office, with President B. L. McLean in the chair and considerable business of a routine nature was transacted by way of making arrangements for the show this year. Secretary J. P. Ryley stated that he had received a large number of enquiries in regard to entry blanks and that everything assured well for the show this year.

Mr. Bennett, of Toronto, will again assist Mr. D. C. Trew in the judging and Messrs. Ross Jones and Gordon Henderson were appointed markers to assist the judges. The assistants who will help the judges to handle the birds will be Messrs. Thos. Trotter and A. Eck. The committee comprising Messrs. Steve. Oliver (chairman), A. Eck and Thos. Trotter was appointed to arrange for the hiring of a caretaker, removing the same, arranging for use of hall, also as to whether the show should be held up stairs in the town hall or in the market building as well, etc.

Mr. Isaac Dyeil will be on hand and will look after decorations, etc. The following gentlemen will be on the town council. D. C. Trew, B. L. McLean, J. P. Ryley, and J. O'Reilly. A committee to wait on the county council on a similar mission will comprise Messrs. P. J. Ryley, Wm. Jordan, Alex. Horn, J. good, Wm. J. O'Reilly.

It was decided to place a nicely printed ribbon on the special awards, the same to be given to the exhibitor. This year a number of special prizes will be offered, some fifty in all, including medals and a cup.

On the whole the 1911 show promises to be bigger, better and brighter than ever and it should receive the patronage of all the citizens from town and country. It is well deserving of such patronage.

Keep the date in mind, Jan. 17, 18 and 19.

Mr. Adams introduced the report of the special committee appointed to obtain information and report relative to the desirability of a house of refuge, and as to the workings of houses of refuge. It practically recommended the establishment of a house of refuge, and states that $20,000 will be a suitable sum, towards which there is an Ontario Government grant of $4000, leaving $16,000 to be provided by the county.

Some Numbers at Coming Concert

Some program numbers to be given at the concert in the Academy of Music on Tuesday, Jan. 17.

Two excellent numbers by Miss Alexander will be "A Scotch Sermon," and a scene from "Romeo and Juliet," by Shakespeare.

Some of Mr. Hollinshead's numbers will be "Glorious Devon," by the great tenor, "La Donna Trovatore," from Rigoletto, by Verdi. Besides these Mrs. Kennedy will sing a group of bird songs by Liza Leymann.

There will be several duets by Miss Kennedy and Mr. Hollinshead and altogether this will be the most attractive program given in Lindsay for a long time. The plan opens to subscribers next Thursday, Jan. 12.

How People Suffer By Farmers' Bank Failure

Millbank, Ont., Jan. 6.—The situation in connection with the failure of the Farmers Bank is, indeed, serious. Altogether, the hard working farmers in this section are supposed to have $85,000 deposited.

The tales of woe are numerous. One widow sold her farm after the death of her husband, and deposited all she realized for it.

Another farmer deposited all his savings, with which he intended to build a house for his family this spring.

Another farmer's wife inherited $2,500 and deposited all in this branch about a week before the bank collapsed.

TOWNSHIP HARD HIT.
While Woodstock has no branch of the Farmers Bank, and therefore very few shareholders and depositors, there are three branches in this township. There are 50 shareholders, with about $30,000 invested, the president of the bank, Colonel James Munroe, being the largest shareholder, with $10,000 invested. The other two branches are in North and West Zorra and North Norwich, a large number of farmers are depositors, but it is understood none to a very great extent. The township of West Zorra had a $20,000 being deposited in this branch before the actual payment of taxes.

RETIRED CITIZEN'S LOSS
Bellefleur, Ont., Jan. 6.—The failure of the Farmers' Bank did not mean anything for the late Mr. G. W. Living, a retired farmer, who is living in a retired life, had we are credibly informed, $10,000 on deposit.

LINDSAY PEOPLE PULLED OUT.
As came out in the evidence of the Farmers Bank sums amounting to over $50,000 were withdrawn from the Farmers Bank at Lindsay, Jan. 6, and the money was sent to the bank at Nelson, and Newellton, and other places, and Messrs. Fleury and Coulter, the result being that the few depositors who had still accounts in the Farmers Bank were for small amounts. Only one person was hit seriously in Lindsay. He will lose about $1,000, but he is a gentleman in the eighties, who is perhaps well able to stand the loss. Deposits amounting to $30,000 were in cash brought at Dunsford from the bank, which was established on the 1st of 1900, all savings, and nobody will be broke although they will probably have to "skimp." About $5,000 was lost in the branch at Newellton, but Lindsay and Janetville branches were cleared out before the "fall" of the bank.

HALTON SUFFERS GREATLY
Milton, Jan. 6.—Halton has more farmer and other victims of the Farmers Bank suspension in proportion to population than any other part of Ontario, having been one of the ought, canvassed about the time the bank was established, and the time the creamery was started. The heaviest losers are chiefly farmers or retired farmers, who have been considered prosperous, but will be more or less embarrassed. The suspension, however, will be a more serious blow to some of the smaller holders. It is said there that struggling farmers mortgaged their lands to raise money to invest in bank stock.

There are widows, too, and children of deceased shareholders, who have inherited stock which, instead of being a source of income, will impoverish them through the double liability.

BASTARD TOWNSHIP'S LOSS
At this branch about two thousand dollars was the limit of any one depositor. The township of Bastard will be the heaviest loser in this county. The collector deposited the money for this year, amounting to four thousand five hundred dollars, in the Phillipsville branch, and the collector, Mr. Fleury and Coulter, gave the treasurer a check for the amount. This check the treasurer held at the time of the bank's suspension.

H. B. Clemes Presented With Cabinet of Silver

Mr. H. B. Clemes, who has been for fourteen years connected with Flavell's Limited and who leaves for Toronto, on Monday where he becomes manager of Dunn's Limited, was last night presented with a beautiful cabinet of sterling silver by about seventy-five of the prominent citizens of Lindsay.

The presentation took place in the coal office of Flavell's Ltd. about eight o'clock last night, a number of friends being present. Mr. Clemes, in introducing the matter stated that he was sure that he would voice the feelings of the citizens of Lindsay when stating that they were sorry to lose such an estimable citizen as Mr. Clemes. He wished him success in his new field of labor.

The presentation was then made by Mr. Benson, of the Bank of Montreal, which was accompanied by the following short address:

Howard B. Clemes, Esq., Lindsay, Ont.—

Dear Mr. Clemes—That we, together with all of Lindsay, regret you are about folding your tent and leaving us, goes without saying. Good men are not so plentiful that we can look with complacency upon the loss from our midst of so good a fellow as you.

It's what one is, and does, that counts. You have been a good citizen, good sportsman, good friend, and we hope you will follow all round, and we hope to see you again. However, you're going, and we, just a few of us, who perhaps know you the best, want you to take with you this modest remembrance of your old Lindsay friends.

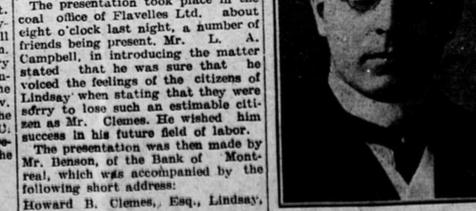

In it is incorporated, though not visible, our warm regard, and best wishes for you and Mrs. Clemes. May your future be full of success, and may you have many years to rejoice with all the happiness that any one of us mortals may reasonably aspire to.

Here's to you, old friend, and if you keep along the same course you've followed here in years to come, we will be able to proudly say, when we hear something good about Sir Howard, "Why, we were old friends together years ago in Lindsay."

Mr. Clemes was exceedingly surprised and surprised his friends in his words to express his deep appreciation towards the "gentlemen and boys" as he put it. In leaving Lindsay he stated that he was leaving a host of valuable friends, and he was sure he would not be able to bid better friends and believe that he did not have a single enemy in the town, which he had learned to love, and his staunch friends, and thank you from the bottom of my heart on behalf of Mrs. Clemes and myself, and when you come to Toronto to come and see me, and I will always be pleased to see and entertain any one of you.

As Mr. Clemes stated some weeks ago Lindsay is losing a valuable citizen in Mr. H. B. Clemes, who has at all times taken an active interest in the affairs of the town. He, as an address says, has been an all round good man, and Lindsay is sorry to lose him.

As a result of a railway right of way dispute Booth's big lumber business at Ottawa was tied up for two days.

H. B. CLEMES.

The Price of Good Butter

First Deputy-Reeve M. J. Lewis, proprietor of the Victoria Creamery, Farm and Dairy, says:

The high price at present prevailing for dairy butter would not be so favorable to the home butter maker were it not for the creameries. Creameries have put up the price on butter. If all butter were made at home as it used to be, the price would fall rapidly to its old level. If farmers realized that their cream would bring all their cream to them, they would instead of making it up at home. The greatest difficulty which creameries have at the present time is to get a paying quantity of cream without having to go too far for it. If all cream was sent to the creamery, we would be able to make our butter cheaper and give the patrons larger returns.

One difficulty that I have mentioned is that many farmers expect to see as much for the butter fat in their cream when sent to the creamery as they would if they made it up at home, taking no account of the time and labor expended in making the butter and disposing of the product in home dairying. Were a reasonable value put on their cream, they would soon find that the proposition of the two I have in mind is an instance of a lady who used to send her cream to our creamery. She is now making the butter at home and is pleased.

Every Saturday this woman and her son come on to the market and spend a full half day there disposing of their butter. I do not suppose they get more than 50 or 60 cents more for it than they would if the cream was sent to the creamery.

There is more sympathy and cooperation needed between the butter maker and his patrons. Patrons must realize that it costs money to make butter and market it—even at a creamery. Few of them appreciate how much this cost can be reduced if all of the cream in a section were sent to the creamery instead of making it at a convenient method of disposing of milk when it is inconvenient to dispose of it any other way.

Chat From a Farmer's Wife

Farm and Dairy, a magazine published in Peterboro, prints the following article in reference to a chat held with a farmer's wife in Victoria county:

I settled on a farm, because I happened to see enough good in a certain farmer who asked me to marry him, to do so. I am not at all sorry that he was a farmer, as farm life had always appealed to me. I had for many years planned to sometime have a small farm. Now I am on a farm, and I shall not leave it until I am carried off.

Of course I would not like to be on a farm far from a fair sized town. We often go to the town near us, to attend concerts, lectures, or for shopping and general seeing and visiting.

HARD WORK IN THE CITY.
Of course the work on a farm is hard, but if it is properly arranged and the same care and experience are given as done in a town home, it is no more difficult. I speak thus, because I know. You are busy in both places, but over different things. The city woman with her round of social duties, is more tired than the comfortably well-off farmer's wife, with her home duties and her occasional visits, which are really friends' visits.

We have not had good crops in the last four years, but we have made some, and many improvements, so we cannot complain much. We have often been disappointed. We have had to do our work over and over again, but that is a test of our patience. We have done without many things we wanted, but we lived and are still without them, and we think that it will not always be thus.

Sometimes a man pays empty compliments when he is full. Some people imagine they are good because they are harmless. Feasting fame is apt to leave a man smaller than ever.
