Burned to Death While Watching the Baby's Bath

New Year's Day at the home of Mr. Henry Hall, 17 Hillcrest Park, Toronto, was rendered a sad occasion by the death of Mrs. Hall, who succumbed to severe burns.

It was about noon that Mrs. Hall was watching the bathing of her eight-year-old grandson at the hands of his mother, Mrs. J. I. McKnight, of Niagara Falls, formerly of Lindsay. While the little tot was spluttering in the bath tub Mrs. Hall's apron came in contact with a gas heater. In a moment the garment was in flames, and in her anxiety to save the other members of the family, Mrs. Hall rushed down stairs, attempting to beat out the flames as she ran from the room. In the drawing room one of the daughters succeeded in smothering the blaze by wrapping a coat around her mother.

Dr. J. A. Kinnear, who was attending a patient a few doors away, was promptly on the scene, along with Dr. W. F. Bryans.

The gas stove was one of the ordinary style used for heating rooms, and had been used many times before.

Mrs. Hall was an active worker of St. Enoch's Presbyterian church. Besides her husband five daughters survive, Misses Mabel, Lillian and Margaret at home; Mrs. J. I. McKnight, Niagara Falls, Ont., years old, was a former resident of Port Perry. The funeral will be private.

Mr. J. I. McKnight, son-in-law of the deceased, and Mr. Chas. Hall, a son of the deceased lady, formerly worked with Dundas & Flavell Ltd.

Young Couple Killed - Struck by a Train

Montreal, Jan. 2.—While driving home from a New Year's dance this morning near Bainsville, Ont., Patrick Sullivan and Miss Sadie Mitchell were struck on a level crossing by the Grand Trunk passenger train from Toronto. Miss Mitchell was killed instantly and her body was thrown some distance up the track. Sullivan was very badly injured about the head and was brought in to Montreal on the train which struck him. He died in the General hospital here this morning. Miss Mitchell was a daughter of William Mitchell of King's Hill. She was about twenty-three years of age. Mr. Sullivan acted as her escort to a Masonic ball at Bainsville last night. The horse was killed and the buggy smashed to kindling wood.

The engineer of the train stopped the moment the collision took place. He blew his whistle, but nobody answered for half an hour. As a doctor could be secured, though efforts were made to get one, the crew did the best they could to fit up Sullivan's wounds and put him on the train for Montreal.

Quite a number of our young people assembled at the home of Mr. Evans, on Tuesday last. The evening was spent in vocal and instrumental music. Among those who took part were: Mr. L. McGuire, who gave a solo entitled "I never saw him till he caught me by the shoulder." Mr. J. M. Porter and Mr. G. Page also gave a duet entitled "Just before the Battle Mother." At the close of the evening Mr. Evans gave a short address on the hammering of a saw.

AND "RED EYE" GOT A YOUNG MAN INTO TROUBLE.

At this morning's police court a well known young man from the east ward, came up for sentence. Magistrate Jackson dealt out justice in short form to the offender, who has a very unsavory verbosity when excited, or under the influence of spirits. For this and biting the finger of a local hotel man, he was assessed $87.50, which included fines and costs, or the usual term in the county jail.

SOME LESSONS.

The Ontario government's Christmas holiday bar closing regulation came into force for the first time on Monday last. From all parts of the province come commendatory expressions of opinion as to the results. It seems to be general opinion that there was much less drunkenness and considerably less drinking than usual for the holiday, and if this was the case, there can be no gainsaying that the holiday closing idea is a good one, and bound to grow in popularity.

And in this connection it is worth noting that almost every temporary closing of these public drinking places is proven to be an aid to the cause of sobriety. Notwithstanding the fact that men become addicted to the flask habit, it is admitted that Sunday and Saturday night closing is a good thing, as is also the closing of these places on election days. Without doubt the number of men who drink from flasks when the bars are closed is very much smaller than the number who would drink if the bars were open.

JOHN MEEHAN IN "THE ROSARY"

"The Rosary," which will be presented at the Academy of Music in a week or so, is a picture of misery and unhappiness that surely comes upon a man who lacks faith in the supreme good. A typical American family is taken as a fair example of every day conditions that obtain throughout the United States. The husband is a man immersed in business, the exacting business of Wall-st. and the stock exchange. Little by little he has fallen away from the faith of his fathers. The wife believes her confidence in an all-wise, all-pervading good has not been shaken, and so when the storm comes the man with no anchor is swept away with the storm of agony; the woman remains steadfast, moored by faith to outside the tempest. Through all the heart-break and anguish, through all the agony and tears, through all the pain of a Catholic priest, whose life has been dedicated to the service of his fellow men. It is the priest's faith and God-given power that sets them free. The story is interwoven with humor.

John Meehan, the well known Lindsay actor, will be seen in the role of Father Brian Kelly.

HAD PERILOUS RIDE.

A runaway of a rather serious nature occurred early on Wednesday when a cab belonging to Workman's livery barn was upset while turning off William-st. on to Wellington-st. east.
It appears that the young lad driving the cab had responded to a call from a north ward lady who wished to catch the C.P.R. train, and a hurried run was being made to get to the depot on time. Owing to the snow on the corner mentioned above the sleigh slewed and the cab was thrown against a telegraph pole. The driver was thrown from his seat and the team continued wildly in their mad career down the Wellington-st. hill, dragging the upset cab with the lady inside along after them. The horses turned north on Lindsay-st., where they were stopped and the lady was removed from beneath the cushions, buffalo robes, etc., piled promiscuously in the cab.
After being extricated the lady without awaiting to pick up her baggage made a rush for the station and boarded the train. A resident on Lindsay-st. picked up the baggage and returned the same to the lady before the train pulled out from the depot.
