

The Star of Bethlehem

(CHRISTMAS SONG)

Words by F. E. WEATHERLY Music by STEPHEN ADAMS

1. It was the eve of Christ-mas, The snow lay deep and white, I
2. Street to street it led me By ma-ny a man-sion fair, It sat be-side my win-dow And look'd in to the night; I heard the church bells ring-ing, I shone thro' din-gy case-ment On ma-ny a gar-ret bare; From high-way on to high-way, Thro' saw the bright stars shine, And child-hood came a - gain to me, With all its dreams di-vine.

al - leys dark and cold, And where it shone the dark - ness Was flood-ed all with gold.

Then, as I list-ened to the bells, And watch'd the skies a - far, Out of the East, ma - jest - i - cal, There
Said hearts for-got their sor - row, Rough hearts grew soft and mild, And wea - ry lit - tie chil - dren rose one ra - diant Star; And ev - 'ry oth - er star grew pale Be - fore that heav'nly glow, It Turn'd in their sleep and smiled; While ma-ny a home-les wan - der - er Up - lift - ed pa - teutic eyes, seem'd to bid me fol - low, And I could not choose but Seem - ing to see a home at last, Be - yond those star - ry

go. skies. And then the gates roll'd back - ward, I stood where an - gels trod - It was the Star, the Star of Beth - le - hem had led me up to God.

SUFFERED TERRIBLE PAINS OF INDIGESTION.

MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS CURED HER.
Mrs. Wm. H. MacEwen, Mount Tryon, P.E.I., writes:—"For more than a year I suffered with all the terrible pains of indigestion, and my life was one of the greatest misery. It did not seem to make any difference whether I ate or not, the pains were always there, accompanied by a severe bloating and belching of wind. I did not even get relief at night, and sometimes hardly got a bit of sleep. In my misery I tried many remedies said to cure indigestion, but they did me not a particle of good, and I fully expected I would always be afflicted in this way. At this time my brother came home on a visit and urged me to try Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, and got me a few vials. By the time I had taken one vial I began to improve, and could eat with some relief. I was greatly cheered, and continued taking the pills until all traces of the trouble had disappeared, and I could once more eat all kinds of food without the slightest inconvenience. I am so fully convinced of their virtue as a family medicine, I have no hesitation in recommending them."
Price, 25 cents per vial or 5 vials for $1.00 at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

"LET US ON OUR WAY"

Victorious and vanquished, winning champion crowned with the Olympian wreath of success, defeated candidates are yet alike upon the common ground of their high honor of citizenship, and whether winning or in defeat, each alike have this common duty and this common high position that neither victory nor defeat can change.
The election is over. Both the mayor-elect and the defeated candidate made promises, many and sundry as to their future policy, and as to what they would do for Lindsay. It is now up to the winning man to put these promises into effect. It is the high privilege, a privilege given to but few, opportunities ripe with golden promises for the town that has honored him with the position of Chief Magistrate, and it is a privilege in only a lesser degree for the late Mayor, the defeated candidate, to lend a most helping hand to his successful opponent, his successor.
The Warder has in no uncertain voice, and in no ambiguous terms declared a platform for the future of Lindsay, and it is a privilege for us to state that the candidate who declared himself for this platform was elected mayor of Lindsay by a substantial majority.
The citizens of Lindsay are to be congratulated at the beginning of this New Year on having as their Chief Magistrate a man who stands firmly upon a platform declared for sound financial policy, permanent civic betterment and improvement in her public utilities and a vigorous and determined industrial development of our town.
The serious duty resting upon the minds and consciences of the citizens of Lindsay in choosing their Chief Magistrate and administrative officers was successfully and brilliantly concluded yesterday; but this was only a part of the duty of citizenship resting upon each and all of us. It is now clearly our duty to continue the work begun Tuesday, and a man, regardless of personal prejudices and feelings, join hands with the newly elected mayor and his associates in the government of our town; join hands to help to carry out the publicly declared platform that the electors by their ballots endorsed.
It is not enough to elect men to office and then leave them without aid or encouragement. It is incumbent upon the citizens one and all, and particularly those who by their votes have placed these men in office to aid, encourage and assist in every way possible, the carrying out of the policy of those selected to administer the municipality's affairs.
The tucan of battle has sounded; battle for Lindsay's betterment; battle for Lindsay's growth. We have elected our leader and his lieutenants, and on them will rest the responsibility of doing valiant service for our town, but it rests upon the rank and file to stand behind them and back them up to the uttermost in carrying out the principles and the platform upon which they were elected.
If we give them this aid, this encouragement; if we shrink not part of our responsibility, and they then fall short, if they then betray our trust, we, the citizens are the final judges that sit in judgment upon them; but until they have fallen short, until they have shown that they cannot or will not sustain the platform on which they were elected, let there be no harping criticism, but let there be bright, wholesome, unselfish encouragement, lending vigor and strength to every movement that will tend to solve Lindsay's problems. Let us live up to our citizenship by being their earnest friends and associates, valiant champions of them as we expect them to be valiant champions of our rights, as we expect them to sustain our verdict of confidence given at the polls Tuesday. So "let us on our way"—the open road is before us. The road to progress, moral, intellectual and material progress and growth is before our town, so let us join with those elected to aid them, to make their road clear and plain; let us light it with our smiles; aid over the rough places by our cheers, gladcome-hearted and free to where the bright sun of promise shines—a bigger, better, greater Lindsay.
