FARMERS AND RECIPROCITY

The Canadian Century of Montreal believing that Reciprocity with the United States would imperil the future of Canada and that it would be specially disadvantageous to Canadian farmers, wishes to place its view of the question before the whole farming community and has arranged for a series of articles in newspapers of both political parties. The first article follows and others will be published from week to week.

THE DOOR WIDE OPEN

(From The Canadian Century, Feb. 19th.)

If the reciprocity compact merely opened the door of the Canadian market to American farmers, it would be very injurious to thousands of Canadian farmers. It costs no more to transport American farm products to Canadian towns and cities than it does to transport Canadian farm products to cities of the United States, and the American farmers have the advantage of an earlier season. Moreover, there are at least ten times as many farmers in the United States as there are in Canada, and so ten American farmers will get entrance to the markets of Canada for one Canadian farmer who gets entrance into the markets of the United States. That the American farmers will take advantage of the open door, there can be no doubt. Even with a tariff wall against them they have succeeded in selling immense quantities of farm products in Canada, more than Canadian farmers have been able to sell in the United States. With reciprocity in farm products the ten American farmers will crowd the one Canadian farmer pretty close in his own market.

But this is not all that the Canadian farmer has to face under the reciprocity compact. Owing to favorability granted by Canada to the United States must also apply to the following countries: Argentina, Republic, Austria-Hungary, Bolivia, Colombia, Denmark, Japan, Norway, Russia, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Venezuela.

Then it is provided "that the advantages granted to the United States shall extend to the United Kingdom and the several British colonies." This will bring about free entrance of farm products, from those great food exporting colonies, Australia and New Zealand.

In fact Canadian farmers will have to compete in their own home market with farm products from all the great food producing countries of the world.

ADDING TO THE UNCERTAINTY.

There is always some uncertainty about farming. The farmer never knows when he puts seed in the ground what the weather conditions will be. There may be frost or hail, or drought or too much rain.

Added to all these uncertainties due to nature's variations there is the uncertainty regarding the prices which will prevail when the crop is harvested. How many acres should be devoted to one crop, and how many to another depends upon a guess as to what demand there will be for the different agricultural products at the time of harvesting, and what prices will prevail. What is true of farm crops is also true of live stock. It is comparatively easy for the farmer to study the conditions of the home market, but when he has to compete with the farmers of the world at large it is much more difficult to determine what the future will be.

It is now proposed to add to the uncertainty of Canadian farming, imported farm products from the United States, the Argentine Republic, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Russia, Australia, New Zealand, and a number of other countries coming into Canada without payment of any duties will to a considerable extent displace Canadian farm products in the home market as a result of the reciprocity compact.

To make up for losses in the home market, the Canadian farmer will have to very greatly increase his exports to the United States. In so doing, in raising stock, in growing vegetables and fruit he will be likely to satisfy American demands. And after he has made his arrangements, while his crops are still unharvested and the live stock, which he is raising specially to suit the American market is half grown, the United States Congress may suddenly decide to shut out Canadian farm products of all kinds. Remember the reciprocity compact is not a treaty. It may be ended at will by the United States Congress or the Canadian Parliament. It is well that we are not tied down to a permanent agreement. Even the Free Trade Convention in Ottawa on December 15 and 16, 1910, recommended that a permanent treaty should not be made, but that any understanding arrived at should be put into effect by concurrent legislation. All classes of the community were of the same opinion in this regard, and the government could not have defied the unanimous sentiment of the community. So when we point out that either the United States Congress or the Canadian Parliament is at liberty to end the agreement at short notice, we are not blaming the Government for this. We believe that Canadians in general, including both farmers and city people, will find the arrangement so unsatisfactory that they will be thankful Parliament has the power to terminate it, but if this forecast should prove wrong, of uncertainty regarding the attitude there will always overhang the cloud of the United States Congress.

Sad Death Reported at Kinmount

Kinmount, Feb. 20—On account of warm weather here Saturday last, the junior game with Cobocook was postponed.

Mr. Baker, of the Minden Echo, passed through our village last Saturday en route for home.

Miss B. Chessell, who is attending the Lindsay Collegiate, spent the week end with her parents.

Miss Birdie Clarke, of Fenelon Falls, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. (Dr.) White, for some time, returned to her home last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McKenzie, of Whitby, passed through this evening for Hailburton.

Mr. A. Y. Hopkins is a Lindsay visitor to-day.

A baptismal service was held in the English church here yesterday at 3 p. m., a number of children receiving this rite of the church.

New lights have been installed in the Baptist church, as the old ones (lamps) were nearly out of date. Two lights have been put in, and they are very brilliant, making it much better than the old system of lamps.

Mr. Thos. Marshall, who has been employed by Mr. Austin of the mills here, left to-day for Garden Hill, where we understand he takes up farming. He moved his family from here.

Presentation to Manila Family

Manilla, Feb. 20—A surprise party was held Monday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Ferguson. Their commodious and comfortable home was filled with young people desirous of spending a social evening together ere they take their departure for their home near Cannington. Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson and family have resided in this neighborhood for the past fourteen years and have endeavored themselves to their neighbors and friends, of which the following address and presentation is tangible evidence. Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson were invited to be seated in the parlor when Mrs. Edwards presented Mr. Ferguson with a handsome easy chair and Mrs. Ferguson with a beautiful silver butter cooler, after which Miss Patterson read the following address:

"To Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson and family: Dear and respected friends: We have gathered together this evening because we have learned of the separation so soon to take place, and the accompanying loss to us. And yet we will not dwell upon our regrets, for we know that our loss will be but another's gain. We ask you to accept this token of our appreciation, not because of its intrinsic value, but because of the feeling that prompts us in giving. Someone has said, "Brief as a song is this life of ours, fleeting as sunshine and frail as the flowers," and we feel it to be true, and even while it lasts, life is full of changes and we are often called upon to give up the old friends for the new, but in this case, we do not feel the sadness of that to the full, for there are but a few miles to separate us, and we feel assured, a bond that still unites. We sincerely hope that you may be long spared to enjoy your new sphere of usefulness, assured that the best wishes of many friends follow you to your new home. Signed on behalf of your neighbors, K. Patterson and M. M. Edwards.

The recipients were taken quite by surprise. Mr. Ferguson in behalf of his wife made a brief but suitable reply, expressing heartfelt thanks for the beautiful gifts bestowed on them.
