While Dying Man and Woman Were Married

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 19.—Despite the phantom of death, companion of their grim honeymoon, George Sicler, of Germantown, and his bride, who was Miss Genevieve Laurente, of Pittsburg, are happy. On adjoining cots in the Dermady Cottage Sanatorium, at Morton, Pa., they are awaiting daily the final summons. Both are in the last stages of tuberculosis.

They were married on Saturday, when their cots were pulled close together so that the dying man might place the ring on the finger of his dying bride as Rev. George Wilson read the words of the marriage ceremony.

The wedding was the culmination of a romance began seven years ago, when Sicler was ordered to Mount Airy by the physicians. At Mount Airy Sicler met and fell in love with Genevieve Laurente, who engaged to nurse the man back to health. She contracted the dread malady and her health failed apace with his.

Three years ago they decided it was a losing fight and both were removed to the sanatorium at Morton. For those three years they have occupied adjoining cots, constant companions, each trying to cheer the other. Last Saturday they both had premonitions of the end, a matter, according to the physicians, of days. Then they decided to die as man and wife.

Sicler called to his bedside Miss Margaret O'Hara, superintendent of the sanatorium, and told her of their wish. She arranged for the ceremony. She and Miss Lillian May, of Germantown, acted as witnesses. The end draws near, but Mr. and Mrs. Sicler are happy.

The Soo Y.M.C.A. has already raised $27,000 for its new building.

Leap Year Party Held at Norland

Norland, Feb. 20.—On Friday evening, Feb. 16, the girls of the village gave a leap year party which was very much enjoyed by all.

A jolly sleigh load left the village at 7 o'clock and drove to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong, Beach Lake, where as usual a very pleasant evening was spent. Games and contests were indulged in until midnight when a novel lunch in the form of hot pan cakes and maple syrup was served. After this the boys were allowed to elect their own partners for dancing which lasted till the wee small hours.

On Thursday evening a load of 24 young people drove to Cobocook to witness the hockey match between their team and Kirkfield. After the game all enjoyed a skate.

Miss Jean Parker, of Dongola, spent the week end with her friend, Miss Nicholls. Miss Kate McIntyre, of Highland Grove, is spending a month at home. A hundred new books have been added to the already good selection of books in our public library.

Rev. Mr. Webster, of Cobocook, took the afternoon service in the church on Sunday and the service at the Army hall in the evening.

Skip Flavelle and Lindsay Rink in the Jewelry--Lindsay's Curling Reputation Afully Upheld--A Reception Would be Proper Thing

The unbeatable crack Winnipeg skip, D. M. Braden, and his rink of A.I. players yesterday put the Lindsay rink, skipped by J. D. Flavelle, out of the last event, the Tetley Tea competition, winning by three shots. At that, the veteran Flavelle put up a magnificent game, he being seven points down before touching the chalk at all.

It is expected that the Lindsay rink will arrive home Friday, and they will not be coming empty handed. Skip Flavelle, at the head of the veterans, sixty years and over, won the Black Girvin cup, and with it the diamonds rings. The Lindsay rink is also sure of third or fourth prize in the Tetley competition. If Braden, the Winnipeg champion, wins the event the Lindsay four will bring home the third prizes, namely four cutlery sets, but if Braden loses the Lindsay rink will be sure of the fourth prize, four silver mounted umbrellas. Besides, L. V. O'Connor, of the Lindsay rink, is high man in the points competition with a score of 45, and looks like a winner, the second highest man in the competition being G. A. Little with 39, which is quite a distance ahead of the next nearest competitor. The record in the points competition is held by the famous curler, Bob Dunbar, at 60 points. However, the highest score in this competition made last year was 44, which was made by no less a person than Dunbar. It is also expected that the Lindsay rink will win second prize in the Grand Aggregate competition, which has already been won by Skip Braden, of Winnipeg, who has a string of thirty wins.

FLAVELLE HAS HELPED THE CURLING GAME.

Toronto Telegram: Flavelle, of Lindsay, is the Ontario skip who has done best at the Winnipeg tournament and it might be just as well to remark that though his rink is one of the strongest that ever went west it was not specially drilled for the occasion. In fact it is doubtful if the four men now in Winnipeg played one game as a rink before they started for the big jewelry hunt. When Grandites went to Lindsay for a friendly game just before the Tankard finals Flavelle, Little and Butler each skipped rinks against them and Flavelle stated at the time that his Winnipeg rink had not played a game together. In the Tankard they were split up, Flavelle skipping one rink and Little the other. Still they went out and won where rinks that had been drilling together for years and practising the doctrine of team play went down with considerable of a bump. And there is a moral in all this. There have been seasons practically spoiled for whole clubs in order to let pet rinks to write their names on Tankards. Flavelle has proved that making the club welfare of the first importance does not interfere with winning either in tankards or Tankards. He has indeed done much for the game.

The Lindsay rink have done well and deserve considerable credit. By far the best Ontario rink at the 'spiel was that headed by the veteran, Skip Flavelle, and the citizens of Lindsay are pleased to know that some of the jewelry comes this way. In Winnipeg, in fact, throughout curlingdom Skip Flavelle is heralded as one of the king of curlers and a thorough sport. He plays the game for all it is worth and plays exceptionally well. His rink was strong and composed of the best players available from the local club, and as the rink is bringing home the honors of the spiel, it is only fit and proper that they be greeted with a rousing reception on their return. The management of the Lindsay curling club could not make a better move than give the veteran and his braves a right royal welcome back to the home town.

All through their games the great western bonspiel the veteran and the Lindsay players played magnificent games, and ably upheld the reputation of Lindsay as the best curling town on the map to-day. Hats off to Skip Flavelle and his rink.

HYMENEAL.

BEST--CUNNINGHAM. Quietly at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Cunningham, Marguerite-st., Toronto, on St. Valentine's Day, was celebrated the marriage of their daughter, Annie Viola and Mr. Ernest H. Best, of Hartley, Ont. Rev. J. A. Ferguson, Belgrave, Ont., officiated. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a dainty gown of white embroidery and carried a shower bouquet of roses and lily of the valley. Mrs. D. A. Jamieson, sister of the groom, of Islay, Alta., played the wedding march. When leaving for their home in Hartley the bride wore a brown silk with fur-lined coat and brown velvet hat.

CARD OF THANKS.

The members of the Lindsay Advancement Club take this opportunity of thanking the citizens, the contributors, the merchants, the judges, the Lindsay fire department, the police and all who assisted in any manner whatever in making the Lindsay winter carnival the great success it was. To the manufacturers who so generously responded to the call for a "Made in Lindsay" exhibition and put up displays that were a credit to them and their products, this club is indeed grateful, for their assistance was a great factor towards success. While it is an impossibility to reach everybody with our personal thanks we ask you to accept this card as being directed to you personally and we trust that on all future occasions we shall have the same staunch support you so kindly gave us on this occasion, we are, yours respectfully,

Valentine Concert Held at Lornville

Lornville, Feb. 20.—Mrs. G. Lornville is spending this week with her daughter, Mrs. B. Stacey, who has not been enjoying the best of health.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Burton are still on the sick list, but we trust they will soon be all right again. A baby boy came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bailey on Thursday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. D. MacIntyre were in Toronto last week. Miss Muriel Bruce is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. Fisher.

The mild weather of the past few days came as a welcome change after the intense cold, which prevailed for several weeks. Bare ground is showing in many places as a result of it, and the skating rinks also suffered, but not in attendance.

Among those from here who attended the Midland-Peterboro hockey match last Wednesday night at Peterboro were Messrs. Plank, Stacey, J. Fisher, A. Fisher, P. Campbell, Bradley, J. Campbell and D. McPherson. A special from Midland went through at 4.30 p.m.

Misses Clara Lapp and Edna MacAlpine visited friends in Lindsay last week, returning on Monday.

The W. I. concert on the evening of Valentine day was a success. Rev. Mr. Archer, of Woodville, occupied the chair and kept the audience in constant good humor. The Argyle orchestra gave several selections, each time responding to a hearty encore. Master C. McKay, of the Glen, Mariposa, also called forth loud applause by his Scotch songs and violin selections. Little Miss Florence and Master Gerald Burton delighted the audience with their singing. The duets rendered by Mrs. Coad and Mrs. Thomas were greatly appreciated as were also the solos given by Misses Jean Ross, Prouse and Melissa Warren. Miss Leone Sproule's recitation was well rendered and in keeping with the day. After the program the ladies served sandwiches, cake and coffee. The proceeds amounted to $21.

The railway commission settled the Brockville connection difficulty by ordering both the C.P.R. and G.T.R. to change the time of their trains.
