Leap Year Sweethearts
(By Laura Jean Libbey.)

Down deep in their hearts there are thousands of women who have looked forward to the dawn of leap year, for one woman knows that that is the only year in four when even the shyest maiden can express her own thoughts on an alluring subject of matrimony without being deemed immodest.

Women who have backward lovers look upon leap year as a godsend for they can with all propriety put the question point blank. "Shall we marry, or shall we not?"

We hear a great deal about the woman's usurping the man's prerogative in leap year. There are prime people who will not have it that a modest maiden actually proposes to a man.

There are other jolly persons of whose well meaning there can be no doubt who declare that there isn't a bit of harm in nice young girls taking the reins into their own hands during leap year and of showing their preferences toward some nice young fellow who is not too bashful to speak for himself and plead his own case.

There are ways and ways of proposing. Even the most mischievous girl in the world would not have the hardihood to write to the young man whom she held dearest and nearest, a cold blooded proposal. The sly creature would be more apt to send him one of the dainty printed cards, purchased at a book store, which might read something like this "This is leap year. Why not marry? I for one thing it's sad to tarry."

She doesn't put her name to this little madrigal, but if the young man puts on his guessing cap he can decipher the chirography on the envelope. Many a good man needs to be helped along in his wooing. For them it can not come along too soon. They have feared to propose lest they might be refused and lose all future chance of winning the darling of their hearts. This uncertainty has played havoc with other hopes. If leap year proposals were not the merry custom, be assured that nice young girls would not indulge in it. Many a girl knows just how papa happened to marry mamma. She is not telling everyone that her mamma sent an invitation to papa to accompany her to a leap year ball, precipitating matters by handing him a candid motto bearing the magic words: "Barkis is willing."

Is there a brave fellow who is in love that would not take such a covert dare. Really, I fancy not. The chance only comes once in every four years. The pretty girl need not fear being turned down. The man she loves will be only too thankful to know that she is not averse to being a leap year bride.

Double-Header on Haliburton Line Jumped the Track—One Engine in Head Lake

A serious accident was narrowly averted on the Haliburton branch of the G.T.R. at a point known as Stewart's crossing about one half mile from the town of Haliburton Friday afternoon.

Two engines, Nos. 29 and 2016, pushing a snow plow left Lindsay about 9.15 a.m. to clear the road for the regular passenger train about to follow. No. 29 was in charge of Engineer Ralph Clarke and fireman A. Hind, while 2016 was driven by David Elliott, and his fireman, all responsible and reliable men. A van was attached to the two engines and the plow was a large one loaded with car wheels and iron of sufficient weight to enable it to pass through ordinary snow drifts without fear of being thrown off. The crew had passed over the road without any exciting experiences to mention of, not having run through any mountains of snow that had to be tunneled as is often done up around the Rockies and were steaming along at about 3 or 4 miles an hour within about four feet of the shores of Head Lake and about one half mile from the town of Haliburton when the plow struck a side bank of snow which demoralized everything.

Engine No. 29 which was in the lead and immediately behind the plow was thrown from the track and went careering down a slight embankment to the lake where it lay on its side amid clouds of escaping steam from the broken pipes. How Engineer Clarke and Fireman Hind escaped death was more than miraculous. The two men jumped as the train started to roll down the track and narrowly escaped being crushed to death by the rear engine.

No. 2016 was thrown crossways upon the track as was also the snow plow, none of the crew in either plow or latter engine receiving any injury.

News was at once despatched to Lindsay when a wrecking crew was despatched to the scene of the accident. They at once set about to clear the track and by seven o'clock p.m. had the road ready for traffic.

Engine No. 29 is still on the ice in Head Lake but can be taken out without much expense or difficulty.

The Haliburton train came in this morning on time and on board were many passengers, some of whom came through attracted by the desire to witness the scene of the wreck in passing by.

CAYGEON FAVORS CHURCH UNION
Nurse of Victoria Order May be Secured

Bobcaygeon, Feb. 23.—The vote of members and adherents of the Methodist church on the proposed basis of union was taken at the church on Sunday last. For the village it stood for adults over 18, 75 to 9 in favor with more votes to be returned later, and the vote including members under 18 and adherents, stood 102 to 13 in favor. In the country votes were taken from four outside appointments. Robinson, Bethel-Zion and St. John. The total vote standing so far 202 to 26 in favor. Two more congregations vote in the near future. In the Presbyterian church ballots have already been distributed and the vote is to be taken March 1st.

On Monday evening at the Epworth League the social literary committee had an evening with Dickens. Rev. Mr. Honey gave a short biography of his life. Miss Davey read the death of little Nell, and Mr. R. Stewart a selection from Dombay and Son.

Miss J. F. Robinson gave a missionary address of her work in India at the Mission Band, Presbyterian church, Monday afternoon, which was very much appreciated.

The adjourned meeting respecting the matter of securing the services of a trained nurse for the community under the Victorian Order of Nurses, was held in the public library Monday evening, quite a number being present. After discussing the matter it was decided to make a thorough canvass of the village and surrounding community for subscriptions, and if enough were secured they would proceed and form their committee of management and secure the nurse. We understand that both doctors have intimated their sympathy with the movement stating it will not interfere with local nurses in the least as they are generally short handed in that respect.

The curling club have undertaken a local bonspiel among the ten rinks, to be pulled off next week. We understand that Fenelon Falls club are doing the same. The winner of each club to compete in home and home games for a trophy which is very kindly donated by Dr. R. M. Mason, M.P.P., to be competed for yearly by single rinks from each club. This will add quite an interest to the only winter game.

The local curling club advertise a fancy dress carnival on Friday, March 1st.

Owing to the storm the Farmers' and Womens' Institute billed for here on the 22nd, had to be cancelled. Mr. Wm. Thurston, the genial secretary, left early in the week for his annual tour with the speakers, but was held up at Fenelon Falls. He arrived home last night about 10 p.m. by belated train via Lindsay, glad to get home, he having to leave his horse at Fenelon till the roads are broken.

Mrs. Wm. Kennedy was taken ill on Saturday with pneumonia and is now in a critical condition.

Mr. A. E. Buttum is attending the hardware convention this week.

The Ladies' Guild gave Mrs. (Rev.) Barber a farewell tea Tuesday, preparatory to their departure to Fenelon. We understand Rev. Mr. Barber will move about March 6th.

Plant Colonists.

Britain for several thousand years it appears has been receiving plant colonists from all sources, and the process still goes on. The oldest element in our flora—the Alpine—occurs on nearly all our mountains; for it once occupied the intervening areas, and it does not greatly depend on conditions of soil. The limestone, aquatic, and Lusitanian flora, on the other hand, are more recent introductions; they can never have occupied continuous areas, and their present distribution is full of singular anomalies. These three elements of our flora are steadily growing in importance, while the Alpine element, according to "Knowledge," is stationary, or tends to die out.

An Ancient Custom.

The ancient custom known as the hunt of the wren was generally observed throughout the Isle of Man recently. Gangs of boys bearing poles decked with ivy and streamers went from house to house singing a quaint ballad detailing the pursuit and death of the wren, subsequently demanding alms. Formerly the boys actually engaged in the chase of the wren, objecting the bird to death, with the objection of distributing its feathers for luck among their patrons.

For the South Pole.

An Australian Antarctic expedition under the leadership of Dr. Douglas Mawson sailed from Hobart, Tasmania, Dec. 2, on the Aurora. Included in the equipment is an aeroplane, the first to be taken into the polar regions.

Girl Cured of Disfiguring Pimples

By Cuticura Ointment. Broke Out on Face when Twelve or Thirteen. Were Most Embarrassing. Had Tried Everything.

A Nova Scotia girl, Miss Mabel Morash, of Dover West, writes: "When I was about twelve or thirteen years of age, my face broke out with pimples, and I tried everything to get rid of them, but failed. The pimples were like a volcano, and they spread later into sores. Being on my face they caused great disfigurement, and were most embarrassing.

"After trying so many remedies without success, I saw the Cuticura Ointment advertised, and I saw for a box. I then applied it to the pimples, and in a week I saw a great change in my face. I kept using it, and in a few months it rendered a complete cure. Now you cannot tell I ever had pimples, thanks to the Cuticura Ointment." (Signed) Miss Mabel Morash, Mar. 31, 1911.

Baby's Face Like Raw Beef

"My baby boy had a large pimple come on his forehead. It burnt and spread all over his face which soon looked like a piece of raw beef, all smothered with bad pimples. It was awful to look at. The poor little thing used to scratch it and cry ferriently. I took him to a doctor but he only got worse until I was quite frightened that he would always be disfigured. Then I got two tins of Cuticura Ointment, together with Cuticura Soap, and in two months had quite cured him. Now of course I use Cuticura Soap for all my children." (Signed) Mrs. E. Perry, 99, Waterloo Rd., Aldenholme, England, May 21, 1910.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold throughout the world, but be those who have suffered much, lost hope and are without faith in any treatment, a liberal sample of each with a 25-c. booklet on the skin and scalp will be mailed free on application. Address: Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., 28 Columbus Ave., Boston, U.S.A.

Mr. Arthur Hawkes

Unfair attacks continue to be made upon Mr. Arthur Hawkes, the special immigration commissioner of the Dominion Government, because of that gentleman's conscientious efforts in the last general election in bringing about the defeat of reciprocity, and thereby the Liberal Government.

In the Commons the other day two Nova Scotia members, Messrs. A. K. McLean and E. M. Macdonald, endeavored to discredit Mr. Hawkes, both men doubtless being sore yet over the result of the able Englishman's campaign work in the Maritime Provinces. Mr. Macdonald complained that Mr. Hawkes was sending despatches from England written by himself and was getting them printed. "Reading his self-advertising you would think that nobody in the country knew anything until Mr. Arthur Hawkes came here," said the member for Pictou. Hon. Mr. Rogers, Minister of the Interior, replied that Mr. Hawkes was just the man for the work he had to do. He knows the West and he knows the East, too, and his ability to get advertising shows that he ought to be able to get it for the Dominion.

Mr. Rogers said that he himself had recommended the appointment of Mr. Hawkes some time during November.

The defence of Mr. Hawkes was not necessary, for when he was appointed immigration commissioner no less a Grit paper than the Montreal Herald commended the Minister's choice in the warmest terms.

Mr. Hawkes who is just back from England, is still "sawing wood" and says he is willing to work his work and record speak for itself. That is the only true test.

A DAILY THOUGHT

So many little faults we find,
We see them for not blind,
Is love; we see them, but if you,
and I
Perhaps remember them, some by and by
They will not be
Faults then—grave faults to you and me,
But just odd ways, mistakes, or even less
Remembrances to bless.

EAGE KILLED CHICKENS.

Windsor, Ont., Feb. 25. — Albert Arner, a farmer living near Amherstburg, yesterday captured a fine specimen of the American eagle, measuring seven feet six inches from tip to tip. For some time he has been losing his chickens, and he believed chicken hawks were responsible and set a trap to catch them. When he visited the trap yesterday he found the eagle inside and quite uninjured. The bird will be sent to Windsor this week for exhibition purposes.
