He has both the mood and muscle to make it uncomfortable for those juveniles who seek recreation in turning out street lights, breaking glasses, and otherwise tampering with the plant. He is taking steps to have a police court case for their benefit.
A jolly crowd of good fellows met at the Royal Hotel on Friday night to say good-bye to Mr. A. T. About 25 were present. Mr. Bayley was very popular with a large circle of friends, who wish him prosperity.
Buck's Falls Arrow—What is believed to be the largest acetylene gas plant in Canada is being established in the town of Lindsay. The town has given a ten years' contract for the acetylene company have laid down pipes on the principal thoroughfares and undertaken to supply 125 lights of 150 c.p. each, at the rate of $15 per lamp per year, and 6 1500 c.p. lights at $35. Little Local Lines

Miss Morton slipped and sprained her ankle badly one day last week on Cambridge-st.
The snow has nearly all gone in the north country. Wheels are being used at Kinnmount.
The Oakwood Cheese and Butter Factory purchased a 10 horsepower boiler from McCrea's foundry this week.
On account of the bad roads the funeral of the late Mrs. Thorndike of Oakwood had to come to Lindsay by train on Saturday.
In a letter to a professor of Toronto University Mr. E. J. Kyle says that political questions are often subjects of public debate in the colleges of Oxford, and adds this significant sentence: "The freedom with which opinion is expressed is invigorating after the tin horn loyalty so prevalent in Canada."
The recent thaw has proved disastrous to the lumbermen of this district. To those who have kept up with their cut it means an early spring with a vengeance, but with others who are less fortunate it means that their logs must remain in the woods until next winter. One of Mr. J. Carew's camps has been forced to close. The logs had all been drawn.
It is not generally known that Lindsay's industries have recently been augmented by a ship yard. Mr. J. McCrea, the foundryman, has added this line to his already numerous manufactures. Not only does he supply the machinery but also the hull and other parts. At present he is constructing two flat-bottomed, side-wheelers for the Rathbun Company. One of them will be used on the Ottawa waters, while the other will do service on the Trent system.
A special train took the Lindsay hockey team and about 200 supporters to Fenelon Falls on Tuesday night for the return match with the team of that burg. Play began late. Mr. O'Neil of Lindsay was referee; the Fenelon boys objected to his appointment and late in the game one of them refused to obey his order to leave the ice. A free fight ensued, in which some spectators took a hand and which was stopped by the police. Gross of the Lindsay team got a heavy blow on the cheek. Apart from a good deal of roughness it was a good exhibition of hockey. The score went against Lindsay by 9 to 5.
Paddy Donoghue's well-known character about town has been missing since early Tuesday morning. On Monday he was the worse of liquor and was locked in the cells. At 10 o'clock, however, he was liberated and went to his home. It is locked. It is not known how he spent the night; but a young man named O'Brien claims to have seen him near the Lindsay-st bridge at 6.30 in the morning. A short time after a hat and overshoe were found on the north bank of the river close to the bridge. There was a hole in the ice adjacent. Mrs. Donoghue recognized the clothing as Paddy's. For a time it was believed he was about somewhere and would turn up all right. As time passed and he did not appear the theory that he had gone into the river gained credence. Chief Nicholson and assistants have been searching the river without avail. By some it is thought some one is playing a practical joke on the authorities, others say Paddy was to have appeared in court and is hiding, while others believe the unfortunate man has either intentionally or in a drunken stupor become a prey of the river.

The section around Grand Harbor is mostly settled with Canadians from Huron county. Mr. Graham's neighbors are sons of the late Geo. Hoover of Mariposa. Obituary

EMMA JANE LEVEY
On Monday afternoon Miss Emma Levey, daughter of Mr. J. M. Levey, died at her home on Lindsay-st. For nearly a year she had been ill with consumption. She was 24 years of age. Miss Levey was a young lady of most amiable disposition and her work as member of the Methodist church has won her the highest esteem and hosts of friends. The choir and young people's society have lost a valued member by her death. The funeral took place yesterday. Many floral tributes silently bespoke the regard of friends and were emblematic of the life so soon cut off. The sorrowing relatives have a heartfelt sympathy of a multitude in their bereavement.
