Failed to Catch the Tune.
A professor in an old Pennsylvania village was conducting a review in Latin. Of a sleepy looking youth he asked the question, "What construction is that at the top of page twelve?" "I don't know," was the prompt reply.
"Why not?" thundered the professor. "I have been harping on that construction all term."
"I know you have, professor," was the soft reply, "but I haven't caught the tune yet."

HON. J. R. STRATTON WAS AGAIN NOMINATED FOR W. PETERBORO

Senators Cox and McHugh were at the Nomination Meeting

On Saturday last Hon J. R. Stratton was given the unanimous nomination of the Liberals of West Peterboro in a meeting which crowded the large auditorium of the Opera House. He was nominated by Mr. Peter Hamilton, who had been his nominator ever since he entered politics.

Mr. Stratton, in accepting, thanked the electors for their continued confidence during sixteen years. After referring to the pulpwood concessions and to the railway policy of the government, both of which showed concern for the interests of the people, Mr. Stratton turned to speak of the referendum, on which he said the government was a unit. They believed the people wanted a chance to express themselves on the subject, and if the law were carried the government would take the full responsibility of enforcing it. They would not have been justified in placing such a law on the statute books without first having the support of public opinion.

Senator Cox said he was glad to come down to his former home, and was just as anxious for its welfare as when he first came there 38 years ago. "There is," continued Senator Cox, "one thing that I may say to the electors of Peterboro, and I speak as a business man. I regard it as of first importance to this country that the Ross government should be sustained in the coming elections. From impressions I have gathered during my trips throughout the province I cannot for a moment believe that there will be anything but the most triumphant victory for that government. I regard it, too, as of first importance that you should retain in the legislature an influential member of the government, and send back Mr. Stratton to represent you there. I ask you to do it, and I am sure you will."

After a brief speech by Senator McHugh, Mr. Andrew Pattullo, M.P.P., spoke of Mr. Stratton's services as Provincial Secretary, the institutions under his care being administered so as to call forth from American experts the opinion that they were the best managed in the world.

THE ART OF PUBLIC SPEAKING

Some Observations About Political Speakers That May be suggestive to Others

In a capital sketch of some of the speakers in the Ottawa House, Mr. H. P. Gadsby of the Toronto Star has some things to say about the French members, that will be readily understood by those of our readers who heard Bourassa and Lacombe. After saying that the French member at Ottawa quickly learns that gesture is largely superfluous in making a speech that most people will know through the newspapers alone Mr. Gadsby continues about the Frenchman thus:

But when it comes to the voice—to those fine shadings that denote the emotions, and that make a French speech intelligible to a listener who knows nothing of that tongue, he will not yield one iota. His lycum training is too strong for him. * * * If—so he argues—the word is the body of the thought, then the voice is its beauty, the outward and visible sign of inward, spiritual grace. Why then should he send a grand thought out into the world without some garniture of expression? As well expect a bird of paradise to walk abroad without feathers. He cannot understand why the English member puts so little value on these gawds of rhetoric, which are to oratory what Hogarth's line is to art. Why should a man deliberately rob himself of an advantage so easily acquired? Why do those cold-blooded English Philistines make of every speech something as even and monotonous as a priest intoning the ritual? What wouldn't a little vocal training, a few soft feggi practices every morning, diaphragmatic breathing, and dumb-bells, do for these stoical fellows?

Oh, for a little fire! Chin up chest out, body resting lightly on the left foot—the proper position for fencing, singing or speaking, the easy pose for thrust and parry, lunge and retreat. Speak up Ontario and the rest of you! Wring the tears out of your voices, shake out the smiles. Let the thunder roll and the little rills bubble. This is a fine chamber to speak in—this green chamber. The acoustics are perfect. There is no danger of jarring the roof off. The gothic arches will not reverberate disagreeably. The clock is nailed to the wall. The mace will remain on the table of its own weight. The stained glass is not from Venice, and it wouldn't break at a harsh word. Bourinet will not be frightened—the wheels of his great mind are not to be out of gear by mere rhetoric. Why do some men tell all their secrets to their whiskers? Why do others neglect to let one side of their mouth know what the other side is doing? Does the British Lion ever roar and lash its tail and wake the echoes? We want no steam siren, no callopie, no Stentor, no Gabriel's trumpet, but we would like a voice, full, round and satisfying—something thing velvety but abysmal, something with a purr to it like the diapason of a great organ.

THE TELEPHONE COMPANY TRYING TO GET AN ADVANTAGE

Asks Permission to Put Up Poles in Spite of Municipalities.

On Monday night both council and Board of Trade met to consider a request from Mayor Howland of Toronto, for a deputation to help fight the Bell Telephone and other companies. These companies have succeeded in getting a bill into the Dominion parliament giving them power to put up poles, wires and any other part of their equipment on the streets without the consent of the municipality concerned. A deputation was to go to Ottawa yesterday and protest against the bill becoming law. Mayor Howland asked Lindsay to send delegates. The matter was discussed by council and Board of Trade together. Council decided to ask Senators McHugh and Dobson and Messrs. Vrooman and Hughes to represent this town.

Mr. J. D. Flavelle said that now when wires were being put underground and poles becoming a nuisance on the streets, it was very important that companies should be subject to municipalities and that no arbitrary legislation in favor of the companies should be adopted.

Mr. Steers said that the provincial law provided that if railways are to run along the highway permission must be got from the municipality concerned. The Dominion law required that the Railway Committee of the Privy Council should give its consent to the railway being built. Some such safeguards ought to be given the municipalities with regard to the companies using the streets.

Mr. G. H. Hopkins—The more we see of these companies the more clearly we see the need for safeguards against them. It won't do to leave it with the Railway Committee of the House either, nor anybody but the municipalities themselves; for if you leave it to these committees you don't know what they will do, and it is an expensive thing sending delegations down to fight companies before the committee. We want to be able to settle these things at home.

Right here two years ago, the Bell Telephone Company offered the town $200 for an exclusive franchise. Then another company was asking permission to come into the town. In a little while the Bell people had bought off that competition and then declared they had no money for anything. No person nor single municipality can fight these companies. The only thing is to keep all the concessions in our own hands.

Mayor Ingle—At the municipal conference last fall, there was a good deal of discussion on this question, and from St. John's to Winnipeg the opinion was strongly expressed that municipalities must carefully guard their rights.

H. J. Lytle—The Bell Telephone people are raising their rates in other places—Orillia, for example—and we must expect it soon. We should retain the control of our streets.

Council adopted a resolution asking Senators McHugh and Dobson and members Vrooman and Hughes to represent Lindsay on the deputation protesting against the bill.

Dr. Burrows wanted to know if, at the same time, Lindsay's request for a grant to improve the river should not be pressed. It was decided that that matter was being fully dealt with by Senator McHugh.

Mr. J. D. Flavelle was going to Ottawa in behalf of the I. B. & O.

THE WEATHER FOR APRIL

There are to be Several Storms But Very Nice Weather on the Whole

Word and Works gives a 3-column forecast of the weather for April, which may be briefly stated thus: The last few days of March will be stormy but April will open fine for three days with frosty nights. A storm period will begin on the 3rd and extend to the 8th, reaching its crisis on the 5th. This will be accompanied by warm weather. Thunder storms may be looked for about the 6th or 7th. Then will follow cold clear weather. On the 10th the moon comes nearest to the earth and "April showers" will develop into decided storms for a few days. Then it turns cooler. Dangerous storms are predicted from the 16th to the 19th. The editor says about this period: "The ghastly record of ruin and death as the lengthening seasons roll on, ought, it seems, to put an irrefragable emphasis upon this question."

Wicked storms of rain, hail, wind and thunder are to come along between the 21st and 23rd. Frosts follow. All these storms are in the north, likely to tend to sleet and snow, for the editor says the period is under the influence of Mercury which he calls "our sleet god." From the 26th to the 30th warm weather will occur with decided storms travelling from west to east. The editor concludes: "Upon the whole, we believe April will prove a nice month for general outdoor work. We doubt if the rainfall for the month will be all that is required in many sections of the middle west." In some places it will be more than is needed but its average is to be below normal.

Here Are The 20 Tints

Church's Alabastine comes in 20 beautiful tints and white, too—here is the tint card that all up-to-date dealers have to show you. We sell Church's Alabastine because it gives universal satisfaction to our customers. It won't peel, rub off or scale. It is recommended by eminent physicians on account of its healthfulness. It grows harder with age. It is the only permanent water color wall and ceiling coating that is made to use with cold water.

It will not fade. It can be applied over coat if you wish to change the tint. It is never sold in bulk. That which pays our customers pays us, and that is another reason why we sell Church's ALABASTINE.

Sold by J. G. EDWARDS & Co.

Col. Hughes Right.
The Canadian Military Gazette says:—What man of spirit would submit to such dictation as came from Major-General Hutton to Col. Hughes—a dictation which amounted to impertinence—a dictation which went so far as to forbid him, a member of parliament, from speaking on military questions in the House of Commons? Indeed, had Col. Hughes submitted to such dictation he would be unworthy to represent a constituency or to hold his Majesty's commission.

Quite Different.
Dr. Young B. Ginner—Did I understand you to say you were never sick and therefore didn't have any regular physician?
Krusty—Not at all. I said we didn't have any regular physician and are therefore never sick.
