

MARCHION!

Just what We Mean to;

And in that March we will exhibit the most Beautiful Designs of New Spring Dress Goods...

Having a trusted reputation for carrying the best Black Dress Goods, we feel we will be fully justified in this season's purchase...

In gauze effects, Voiles, Crepolines, Crepe-de-Chine, Monsseline-de-Soie, Canvas Cloths and Eoliennes are the fabrics of the well dressed women...

Should you desire heavier goods for suitings, we recommend the Knickerbokers in black, green, blue, and biscuit.

Zibolines in biscuit, blue, gray, green and brown, also Cheviots, Friezes, Broadcloths, Serges and Cashmeres in all shades.

O'LOUGHLIN & McINTYRE

Cash and One Price KENT-ST. LINDSAY

READY FOR HOUSE CLEANING ALABASTINE PAINTS BRUSIES Carpet Sweepers J.G. Edwards & CO

McLennan & CO

Builder's Hardware Blacksmith's Supplies Spades Shovels Washing Machines Stoves Tinware Graniteware Glazed Sewer Pipe Portland Cement Fire Bricks

Lowest Prices at McLennan & CO

CHAP Comes from the Dutch word "kappen"-"to cut," so when the skin is Chapped it really means that it is covered with minute cuts...

"Witch Hazel" Cream is an infallible cure for all chapping and skin irritation. It heals as if by magic...

BOXALL and MATTHIE FUEL IS HIGH Do away with your old Cook Stove and buy an up-to-date SOUVENIR or HAPPY THOUGHT RANGE.

LIBERAL CABINET MINISTER CHARGED WITH CORRUPTION

Mr. R. R. Gamey, the new Member for Manitoulin Makes the Charge

BRIBED FOR HIS SUPPORT

Hon. J. R. Stratton Charged with Having Indirectly paid the Manitoulin Member to Support the Liberals

(Thursday's Mail and Empire.) Had a second Mont Pelée burst beneath the Government benches in the Ontario Legislature yesterday...

Alex. G. McKay of North Grey, and Valentine Stock of South Perth, had moved and seconded the address in reply to the speech from the throne.

In the ordinary course of events Mr. J. P. Whitney would have risen to continue the debate upon the speech. As Mr. Stock resumed his seat amid applause from the Liberals, however Mr. Gamey suddenly arose from the desk which he occupied at the extreme end of the Opposition's front row.

A WHISPERED CONFERENCE When Mr. Gamey's narration was evidently nearing its close Mr. Stratton rose from his place and stepped quickly to the side of his chief.

Mr. Gamey began by asking the indulgence of the house for a short time. He had, he said, heard with interest the speeches of the two honorable members who preceded him.

Several times did Mr. Gamey break off in the reading of his story. Once he paused to interject a word or two as to what his personal feelings were in the distasteful task which he had felt himself obliged to undertake.

WHAT MR. GAMEY CHARGES

The extended statement made by Mr. Gamey is thus summarized by the Mail and Empire:

On August 4, 1902, two months after Gamey's election for Manitoulin Capt. John Sullivan advised Gamey to resign, saying he would otherwise be disqualified in the pending protest.

Gamey was then interviewed by a prominent Liberal lawyer of Toronto. The proposed deal was discussed under the guise of a stock transaction, by which Gamey was to make $3,000 inside of six weeks, and $2,000 in the spring.

On January 29th, Gamey saw Mr. Stratton, and was given a typewritten interview, which he was to sign, and which was to be published in the Globe.

Mr. Stratton then told Mr. Gamey he had given Frank Sullivan $1,000. On leaving the Parliament buildings on Sullivan produced the money in an envelope. Gamey gave Sullivan half of it.

The same evening Mr. Gamey wrote to Mr. Whitney that he had withdrawn his support from the Conservative party. Later the Government sent emissaries to J. C. McMillan, Socialist opponent of Mr. Gamey, asking him if he would run as Government candidate when Gamey resigned the seat because of the press-given of public opinion.

On Tuesday night of the present week Mr. Gamey had three short hand reporters concealed behind piano in the office of the Crossin Piano Co., at 110 Adelaide street.

He took Frank Sullivan there and caused him to discuss the whole deal and other party matters. The short-hand writers took down a full report. This concluded Mr. Gamey's story.

At Mr. Gamey's first mention of Capt. Sullivan's name the look of complacency faded suddenly away from the faces of the government supporters, giving place to expressions of surprise and alarm. Then, as they realized that the whole hidden truth must out, they settled back doggedly in their seats, endeavoring to maintain a composure which few could have really felt.

The scene was one dramatic in its intensity. There was a silence as of death in the chamber as page after page was turned over by Mr. Gamey, a silence broken only on the Opposition side of the House when each fresh point scored drew forth a round of vigorous applause.

The Premier, after the first startled glance at the man who was ringing the Government's death-knell, manifested an indifference which was too obviously feigned.

Hon. J. M. Gibson sat with a half scornful smile upon his face. Further down the line Hon. Mr. Davis gazed fixedly in front of him, turning once or twice to glance quickly toward his leader and the Attorney-General, but never looking at his desk mate, Hon. Mr. Stratton. Hon. Mr. Dryden eyed his desk for the major part of his time.

When Mr. Gamey's narration was evidently nearing its close Mr. Stratton rose from his place and stepped quickly to the side of his chief. Premier Ross, Mr. Gibson and Mr. Stratton, with heads almost touching held a whispered colloquy for a couple of minutes.

Several times did Mr. Gamey break off in the reading of his story. Once he paused to interject a word or two as to what his personal feelings were in the distasteful task which he had felt himself obliged to undertake.

WHAT MR. ROSS SAID

"I am assured by my colleague that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much, however, has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin that it becomes us to take steps to make an early and a thorough investigation.

"I want to say to the country that unless our character will stand clear of reproach, above suspicion, vindicated of all such insinuations and charges as have been brought against us by the hon. member for Manitoulin, then we do not want any longer to govern the country.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

R. R. GAMEY, M.P.P. Who Charges Hon. J. R. Stratton With Corruption.

into it had I known I would have to keep it up so long. We expected an early session and never dreamed that it would drag along until March 10th before assembling.

Another dramatic pause was made when he reached that portion of his statement dealing with the receipt of the second instalment of cash amounting to $1000, half of which was given to Frank Sullivan.

When he had reached his final page Mr. Gamey laid down his manuscript and in "straight-flung words and deep and impressive note in his voice. "No matter how possibly be more serious than the one which has engaged the attention of the House for the past half-hour," he said.

"It is a matter to be considered and spoken of with the greatest possible seriousness, and it is not to be even thought of lightly. If things have come to such a pass as has been alleged in the Province of Ontario, then the people of the province will demand an investigation in such terms that even the Ontario government dare not stand in the way of purifying the political atmosphere.

"I am assured by my colleague that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much, however, has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin that it becomes us to take steps to make an early and a thorough investigation.

"I want to say to the country that unless our character will stand clear of reproach, above suspicion, vindicated of all such insinuations and charges as have been brought against us by the hon. member for Manitoulin, then we do not want any longer to govern the country.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

deep and impressive note in his voice. "No matter how possibly be more serious than the one which has engaged the attention of the House for the past half-hour," he said.

"It is a matter to be considered and spoken of with the greatest possible seriousness, and it is not to be even thought of lightly. If things have come to such a pass as has been alleged in the Province of Ontario, then the people of the province will demand an investigation in such terms that even the Ontario government dare not stand in the way of purifying the political atmosphere.

"I am assured by my colleague that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much, however, has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin that it becomes us to take steps to make an early and a thorough investigation.

"I want to say to the country that unless our character will stand clear of reproach, above suspicion, vindicated of all such insinuations and charges as have been brought against us by the hon. member for Manitoulin, then we do not want any longer to govern the country.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.

"I am assured by my colleague," he said, evidently referring to Mr. Stratton, "that the charges affecting his honor are untrue. So much has been said by the hon. member for Manitoulin, however, that it becomes us to take steps towards an early and thorough investigation.