AMONG THE CHURCHES

Archdeacon Casey Warns His Flock Against Socialism
On Sunday night Rev. Mr. Williams, who is supplying the pulpit of St. Andrew's preached on Zacheus and his meeting with Christ. This man was a tax-gatherer and as such despised by the people. When others despise a man he is apt to act so that he will come to despise himself. Distrust a boy's word and make him a liar, his honesty and make him a thief. Referring to the relation of capital and labor Mr. Williams spoke of "that ghastly gospel of the survival of the strong," which, when a man, even a millionaire believes, renders him a pauper, and occupant of an inner ward in the moral work house. The saying of Tennyson's "Northern Farmer" that "the poor in a lump are bad" was not true. At a recent meeting of a ministerial association Mr. Williams had been amazed at the puerility of the ideas of the clergymen who believed that social unrest could be cured by any organization or system. The cure, he said, must come not from below, but from above. Zacheus had become honest and liberal by contact with Christ. So employers and employees would do each other justice and live in peace only when they were right with God. After a somewhat discursive sermon the preacher laid down four propositions growing out of the text, that one could not help wishing he had made the framework of his sermon. They were: (1) A man should put himself in the way of good, as did Zacheus when he got into the tree. (2) One should not be discouraged by difficulties, when seeking good. Small man and big crowd, but Zacheus succeeded. (3) When a man is seeking Christ, Christ is seeking him. Jesus looked up at Zacheus, and (4) In the lowest human beings there are great possibilities. The reformed Jewish tax collector was an example. Only a dozen of the choir was present. The anthem was "Come unto me." Mr. Campbell and Miss Gross took the solos. After the sermon the choir sang "Seek ye the Lord"—a beautiful anthem. Leader Jackson is bringing the choir of St. Andrew's to a high standard. While the audience were gathering Organist Hamilton rendered "Guard while I Sleep"—a gratifying substitute for the regulation fuzzy-wuzzy performances that organists are addicted to at voluntary time.
At St. Mary's a large audience attended 10.30 mass on Sunday morning. Archdeacon Casey spoke in opposition to the present-day Socialist movement. Laboring men should not put themselves under the yoke of the state, but serve their individual employers. Socialist organizations tend to anarchy. Men should put up with their lots in this world, hoping for their reward in the next. At the Queen-st. Methodist church the pastor preached twice on Sunday. In the morning his text was: "I will bless thee; and thou shalt be a blessing." The central thought was that before a man can be a blessing, in the biblical sense, he must be blessed by God. At night the text was "Every man's word shall be tried by fire, of what sort it is." The idea was that only truth can finally survive. Next Sunday Rev. Dr. Galbraith, of Belleville, will preach morning and night. A Special music will be provided. A thank offering in behalf of the church debt, will be taken.
—Rev. R. McNamara, curate of St. James' Fenelon Falls, preached twice at St. Paul's on Sunday. Both sermons were good. At night Mr. McNamara made pointed reference to the relations of capital and labor. While commending the efforts of labor to protect itself, he did not fail to notice the man who did not care a dollar's worth of work and wanted two for it. Rev. Thos. Marsh, brother of the rector assisted in the sermons.
—On Sunday morning Rev. G. W. Henderson preached to mothers. At night he discussed the foreign mission fields. Next Sunday Rev. James Henderson D. D. assistant mission secretary of the Methodist church and one of its foremost orators will preach morning and evening.

CRAWFORD—MAUNDER
The home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Maunder, Peel-st., was the scene of unusual gaiety, on Wednesday March 11th, inst., when their youngest daughter, Roberta Llewella May was married to Mr. Geo. Crawford, a foreman in the Squier and Flavell firm of this town.
The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. J. Harvey Strike, pastor of Queen-st. Methodist church. About 4 o'clock to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march the bridal party approached. Mr. Geo. Babcock, acted as groomsmen and Miss Sophia McGee performed the duties of bridesmaid. The bride looked charming.
Only a few of the bride's personal friends were invited. The happy couple have gone west on quite an extended tour. A very large gathering of young people were at the station to see them off. The bride received some choice presents. Among them a beautiful gift from the Epworth League of the Queen-st. Methodist church of which she has for some years been a member. The Watchman-Warder joins their many other friends in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Crawford a long happy and useful life.
KERR—LOGAN
Rural Dean Marsh solemnized the marriage of Mr. W. J. Kerr and Miss Margaret Ann Logan at Mr. Robt. Bryans' residence, Holly Lodge, at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon.
The bride, who originally came from Bracebridge, has been in the employ of Mrs. Bryans for some years, and the groom is an old employe of Mr. Bryans.
Miss Lizzie Logan, sister of the bride, was her maid, and Mr. Lockie Calder was best man. Tea was served and a pleasant evening spent, after which Mr. and Mrs. Kerr went to their home on Russell-st. Several useful and valuable presents were received by the bride. Congratulations.

TROTTER—DEYELL
The home of Mr. and Mrs. John Deyell, Otonabee, was the scene of a very interesting event on Thursday, March 12th, when their daughter, Miss Edith Mary, was united in the bonds of matrimony to Mr. William Henry Trotter, of Laurier, Man., son of Mrs. (Sergt. Major) Martin of this town. At 4 o'clock the bride entered the parlor leaning on the arm of her father amid the strains of the wedding march, which was rendered by Miss Mary Deyell, cousin of the bride. The bride was accompanied by her sister, Miss Jennie, while the groom was assisted by Mr. Henry Deyell, cousin of the bride. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Thompson of Ashburnham, in the presence of a large number of invited guests. The bride looked charming, attired in white organdie trimmed with chiffon, and carrying a handsome bouquet of white carnations. The bridesmaid was attired in white organdie and carried pink carnations. After congratulations and good wishes a wedding banquet was served. The wedding presents were numerous and costly. Amid the showers of rice and good wishes the happy couple left on the evening train to visit friends in Lindsay, before returning to their future home in Laurier, Man. Many happy days.

Obituary

GEORGE MOORE
Mr. Geo. Moore died at his son's residence, Ridout-st., on Sunday night. Deceased had been sick for about three months, and his death was not unexpected.
Mr. Moore was born in Ireland 76 years ago and came to Canada when a lad. With his parents he settled at Carleton Place. From there a few years later Mr. Moore came to Lindsay, where he has lived ever since. He was a carpenter and builder, and the Keenan and Doheny blocks were erected under his supervision.
He married a sister of Mr. Hugh Shiver, and she and a family of five survive him. The family are: Mrs. J. D. Cameron, Mrs. E. Clarke, Watertown, N. Y.; Mrs. F. L. Morton, Chicago; Fred, of London and Arthur of town. Mr. Moore was an Anglican and a Conservative and was highly respected.
MRS. F. MOONEY
Peterboro Examiner, Monday: "Yesterday morning the death occurred of Elizabeth Martin, wife of Mr. F. Mooney, of Minden, who died at the residence of her sister, Mrs. A. Comstock. Deceased came to Peterboro from Minden for her health about Christmas. She was taken ill last October, a tumor being the cause of her sickness. She gradually became weaker until death called her away yesterday morning. She was 61 years of age; her husband living at Minden, and eight children survive her. She was born in Peterboro and has been a resident of Minden for the last 20 years. Her father was the late W. R. Martin, who was drowned some years ago at Burlingame Falls. Three sisters and A. Comstock, Mrs. Wm English and Miss Martin, and three brothers, Messrs. W. J. Martin, John Martin and R. B. Martin, are still living." Mrs. Mooney was buried at Minden yesterday.
