GREAT FIRE AT FENELON FALLS

SANFORD FURNITURE FACTORY TOTALLY DESTROYED ON MONDAY EVENING.

The Fenelon Falls Furniture Co., Limited, was wiped from existence on Monday evening by fire, which originated in the paint room shortly after 8:00 p.m. The cause of the fire will never be known as it spread so rapidly that in less than an hour the whole building was consumed. A small house adjoining the works and owned by Mrs. Thos. McGlory was also destroyed with its contents and was unfortunately uninsured. The loss on the works cannot yet be estimated but the fire will be a serious loss to the village, as the firm employed nearly one hundred hands, who will now be forced to seek employment elsewhere. A small portion of stock was removed but it was very difficult to work on account of the smoke and heat. The pigery, owned by Mr. Henry Austin was also destroyed and was a loss to him of about $1,000. This village is entirely without fire protection, and had the wind been strong and from the south the station could scarcely have been saved, and it is difficult to state where the blaze would have been stopped. As it was, thanks to providence, the village was saved by a general scorching, and perhaps now some move will be made in the line of fire protection.

COST OF HOG RAISING.

THE COST OF HOG RAISING AND THE KIND OF HOGS PACKERS WANT.

Prof. G. E. Day, in discussing the subject of "Experiments in Hog Feeding" at the Eastern Ontario Live Stock Show at Ottawa last week, stated that in his own work he had found that pigs at weaning cost about $1.30 each, and may be prepared for market for about $4 a hundred weight. By having the best type of roots, the cost would be less. One pen of hogs that were fed solely on grain for a definite time, cost $10 for each hundred weight of gain, but by feeding roots the cost was afterwards reduced to $4.75. He emphasized the necessity of each farmer using the weighing scales on all his feed and on his hogs at each period of their growth.

Mr. C. W. Brown, of Montreal said that the packers and farmers were mutually interested in developing the export bacon trade. A small percentage of the Canadian bacon was equal to the best Danish bacon, but the percentage of inferior bacon was still too large. Recently fully 80 per cent. of the hogs received by the packers was of the bacon type, but a very large number was not fully developed. The packers want a hog that was long and weighed from 175 to 185 pounds, with not more than one and a half inches of fat evenly distributed over the back. Mr. Brown thought it was unfortunate that packers could not induce their drovers to buy hogs upon the basis of quality, as this would solve the present difficulty between the farmers and the packers. He believed that Denmark had already about reached the limit of its capacity to supply, and the future was in Canada's hands. Canadian packing houses to-day are able to handle 60,000 hogs a week, but not more than 18,000 are offered. The packers have faith in the industry, and are anxious that the farmers give them increasing quantities of mark and already increasing quantities of fat. IN MEMORIAM.

To the Late Marquess of Dufferin and Ava, former Governor-General of Canada.—1872-8.

Died Feb. 12, 1902.

When some pale petals flutter to our feet
Drifts softly down the balmy breeze of May.
We know that countless blossoms, fair and sweet,
With fragrance fill the meadows far away.

So may this token of remembrance prove
That "neath Canadian skies across the sea,
The fadeless flowers of gratitude and love
Still bloom within a nation's heart for thee.

SNOWSHOES.

They Differ Greatly in Shape and Make According to Locality.

In the intense cold of the far north-west, where the snow is deep and frozen to a dry powder, says a writer in Outing, the dog drivers use a shoe that is two and a half feet long and fairly narrow. The meshes are coarse in the spring, but midwinter and dry, hard snow necessitate an extremely fine mesh. The toe hole is placed about two-thirds the length forward, and the toe of the shoe is broad and upturned.

PASSED THE "AGE LIMIT."

Contradiction in the Ages of Prof. Osler's Immediate Relatives.

The New York Herald has the following special despatch from Toronto:

"In Toronto the statement attributed to Prof. William Osler about chloroforming people reaching the age of sixty has never caused the same amount of discussion as aroused elsewhere. The reason is that the Osler family is a remarkably long lived one, and Prof. Osler often traveled many miles to minister to his father, the late Rev. F. L. Osler, who died only a few years ago, well up in the nineties, leaving a widow who is now in her one hundredth year.

"Prof. Osler has just traveled from Old Oxford to Toronto to satisfy himself whether science cannot still help lengthen her days. Other records of great longevity in the Osler family are well known here; hence it is not surprising that the learned professor was joking when he made his famous assertion.

"Prof. Osler's brother, Mr. E. B. Osler, Conservative member of Parliament for Toronto West, has already entered his sixtieth year, but he shows no signs of accepting his medical brother's views on chloroform or any other means of exit from this world. Not only does he refuse to believe in the chloroform doctrine, but he laughs at the very idea of a man going out of business at sixty. He has recently fought a successful election campaign for the Canadian Pacific Railroad and Steamship Co. and of several big financial concerns, and spends from eight to ten hours in his broker's office on such days as he is not at directors' meetings.

"But most amusing of all is the fact that Judge Osler, an elder brother of the professor, who is within a few months of seventy years of age, persists in remaining bright, clear sighted, mentally and physically sound, and apparently good for another twenty years on the average, to which he adds years of honor. When Christian Scientists, faith healers or other faddists are before Judge Osler they are utterly unable to cloud the real issue, and it would be a world lesson if the professor with his sixty years age limit ideas had to stand up before his brother, who is apparently going to defy the eighty or ninety year age limit.

"With the success of the Osler family before them and the fact that almost every member of it defies the sixty year age limit, people in Toronto are sceptical about the application of chloroform as an easy means of exit from this world of those who have attained sixty years of age."

A Cautious Scot.

A Scotsman went on an English race meeting and boldly staked a sovereign. Strangely enough, the horse he backed proved a winner, and he went to the "bookie" to claim his winnings. The sporting man begrudgingly handed him 5 sovereigns. He looked at each one very carefully before placing it in his pocketbook. "Well," said the "bookie," with a snarl, "are you afraid they're bad?"

"Oh, no," said the Scotsman, "but I was just lookin' to make sure the bad yin I gied ye wisna among them!"

Recent Postal Regulations.

The Postoffice Department publishes notices to the effect that all mail matter enclosed in transparent envelopes, having the address on the enclosure, is to be treated as non-transmissible by mail in Canada, and the same regulation applies to matter in envelopes having a transparent front portion covering the address. Attention is drawn to the fact that the stamps used for prepaying postage on post-cards or unenclosed cards mailed to other countries as printed matter must be placed on the front or address side. The postal administration of the Commonwealth of Australia has given notice that the rates of postage on parcels sent from Australia to Canada have been reduced from one and one-half pence to one penny each for single postcards, and from three pence to two pence for reply post-cards, from Jan. 1st. A reduction has been made in the rates of postage on parcels sent from Canada to Dutch Guiana. The rate varies from 36 cents for one pound to $1.69 for 11 pounds. A convention has been arranged between the postal administrations of Canada and Trinidad for the direct exchange of parcels by parcel post. The limit of weight for a single parcel is seven pounds. Parcel mails for Trinidad are made up at St. John, N. B.

Herbert Spencer.

Dr. Alfred Russel Wallace told Herbert Spencer's reason for living in a London boarding house with "rather a commonplace set of people—retired Indian officers and others." "He said that he had purposely chosen such a home in order to avoid the mental excitement of too much interesting conversation that he suffered greatly from insomnia and that he found that when his evenings were spent in commonplace conversation, learning the news of the day or taking part in a little music, he had a better chance of sleeping."

No Sleep For The Kidneys.

Old people are especially liable to Kidney and Bladder Irritation. The organs are inflamed by age. This is not properly purged as it goes to the kidneys—and the bladder is unable to retain the urine properly. There is a constant desire to urinate day and night—and sound, restful sleep is unknown.
