

Life Preserved by Dyeing

The life and usefulness of a wide variety of fabrics can be extended by making the goods new by dyeing them.

For all ordinary purposes the various handy package dyes are sufficient.

In dyeing a large quantity of goods the old-style chemical dyes may be better and more economical. No matter what is wanted in dyes we have it, also Maypole Soap.

Windsor Liveryman Struck Down and Killed—His Assailant Escaped

(Special to The Warder.)

Windsor, Ont., March 30.—Chester Perkins, a Windsor liveryman, was struck down in front of his barn last night about 10 o'clock by a man known as "Scotty," and died at his home, where he was at once moved, about midnight. "Scotty" has disappeared, and it is supposed he crossed over to Detroit.

The trouble which led to the fatal assault is said to have arisen over Perkins' refusal to rent a rig to "Scotty" on account of the latter being intoxicated.

Little is known of Scotty's antecedents, the man having made his debut in the city only last Sunday. Perkins leaves a widow, but no children. He was about forty years of age.

Concessions by Canada Prevent a Tariff War

Washington, March 27.—For the present, at least, there will be no tariff war with Canada. Following a conference between President Taft, Secretary of State Knox, Secretary of the Treasury McVeagh, Prof. H. C. Emory, of the Tariff Board, and Charles W. Pepper, the commercial adviser of the State Department, representing the United States, and W. S. Fielding, Minister of Railways, of the Dominion of Canada, Secretary Knox gave out this statement.

"The negotiations between the President and the Canadian representatives, which were begun at Albany some days ago, were resumed at Washington yesterday, and were concluded. They have taken a form which gives assurance that a friendly understanding will be come to immediately. It is expected that the official announcement will be made simultaneously at Washington and Ottawa, on Wednesday, the 30th inst."

It was understood, however, that when Mr. Fielding and Mr. Graham walked into the Cabinet room to meet the President they brought with them certain concessions. Just

PRESENTATION AT JANETVILLE

Janetville, March 29.—The people of Janetville spent a pleasant and social evening lately in the Foresters' hall. There was a short program rendered, after which the address and present was presented to Mr. Lloyd Johnston by the young people of this village. Various games were played and a dainty lunch was served.

THE ADDRESS.

Dear Lloyd,—We need scarcely say that it is with feelings of regret that we are assembled here to-night to convey to you an expression of our feeling and to bid you farewell ere you depart for your new home in the western part of our good Dominion. During the years you have spent among us we have found you to be a good and honorable friend and companion in all social functions you have ever been a leader and willing to help and carry out your plans. Also in our outdoor life your place in our baseball team which you filled so well and creditably will be hard now to fill. Your aid as pitcher has been much felt and has been the means of victory in many cases. Also when winter came with ice and snow and hockey was mentioned you were again to the front to see the good sport and exercise, carried out and filled the place of captain of our little team in good manner. And in the sleigh rides you also took an interesting part, but now the time has come when we must part. We to remain at our daily tasks about the homes of our and your childhood and you away to a new home in the West.

In your new home we wish you every success and health and well being. Our loss will be some other's gain. As a slight token of our esteem we ask you to accept this fitted suitcase which we hope you will be long spared to use, and that when using it you will remember us in your thoughts as friends and well wishers for a good and noble life in the place you have chosen to take up your abode. Again permit us to say farewell with the hopes of again seeing you at some future time. Farewell dear friend, and if forever fare thee well.

Signed in behalf of the people of Janetville.

REPLY TO ADDRESS.

Dear Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen,—This assembly has been a wonderful surprise to me, and I can assume and feel I have not been worthy of the sentiments of this address and presentation. Anything I have done to the interest of the village has only been a pleasure. The people of Janetville and vicinity have always been kind and affectionate to me and I have many pleasant recollections to remember this place by many social evenings we have spent together that I can never forget. Hockey and baseball were always in my line and I did my utmost to help along with such sport, but as we now must part I wish to see and have you call upon me in the west. Thanking you all for your handsome present and pleasant social evening, I will be found,

Truly yours,
LLOYD JOHNSTON.

what American exports will receive the benefit of Canada's best rate is not known, but it is believed that Canada has conceded enough to make it proper for Mr. Taft to find that she is not "unduly discriminating" against United States imports.

It was asserted on good authority also that for the present at least there will be no reciprocity treaty with Canada.

The President, by proclamation probably, will declare that Canada is not unduly discriminatory, and her goods will be admitted to the United States with the minimum rates assessed against them.

It would be difficult to get a trade treaty with Canada through Congress, and also hard to put it through the Canadian Parliament.

The success of the President in averting a tariff war which would have created a serious situation, both economically and politically, caused much favorable comment here.

The President was able to exercise judicial discretion in the matter, but was unwilling to strain a point in favor of Canada unless he could secure some tangible grounds on which to base favorable action.

DROPPED HAY.

Early this afternoon a man named Skippard, of the House of Refuge, was taking a load of hay to the market to be weighed, and was just turning down the lane on the north side of the fire hall when the rack and hay overturned on the road, but fortunately Mr. Skippard was not hurt. He was travelling rather fast around the corner.

DEER ARE SCARCE.

Geo. Stevens, of the Gull River Lumber Co., Cobocok, was in town Tuesday on his way home from Haliburton. He has been out for the past several days snow-shoeing around Howke, Kenesese and Redstone lakes, timber ranging. He reports deer as very scarce, seeing traces of only one, which the wolves had killed, nothing but the hair being left.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER SAVED BY GIN PILLS

The Famous Kidney Remedy.

44 Woolfrey Ave., Toronto, March 21st, 1909.

"While engaged as assistant at Sterling Mines, Gray's Siding, Ont., I became familiar with the merits of Gin Pills. On leaving Toronto, I left my wife (aged 51) and my daughter (aged 21) in poor health. The former had tried all sorts of remedies for her ailment—Middle Age or Change of Life. The joints in her hands were badly swollen and she suffered much pain.

It occurred to me that Gin Pills would help her and so advised her. This was a happy thought, for my wife wrote back to say she was trying Gin Pills.

Her next letter said that the pills were doing her good, and the second, that the swollen joints were fast disappearing. Also, her general health and color was vastly improved. Now she cannot say too much in favor of Gin Pills. My daughter has also derived much benefit from their use."
