The Sheep Industry in Victoria County -A Profitable Industry for Farmers-

The first wool to be marketed in Lindsay this season was brought to town on March 22nd by Mr. James Found, of Little Britain and sold to the Horn Bros. Woolen Co. mills. The wool was of good quality, free of dirt and chaff, and netted the seller an average of $1.25 each for his eighteen fleeces. Mr. Found is not a sheep raiser, but he is a shepherd. His sheep are kept in a warm place for the night and are protected from the cold by a warm blanket. The sheep are kept in a warm place for the night and are protected from the cold by a warm blanket. Summers, Box 26 Windsor, Ont., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her name if some children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

Obituary

MARGARET H. GRAHAM. In the death of Margaret H. Graham, at the Ross Memorial Hospital, on Saturday, March 23, a person has been removed from our midst, who was endeared by all who knew her. The deceased was 61 years of age, and was the beloved wife of Mr. Francis Brien, of Fenelon township. Mrs. Brien had been in failing health for some time, but it was through the breaking of a lower limb the fatal results were brought about. The deceased formerly lived in Smith township from which place she moved with her husband in 1877 to Fenelon. In 1880, she was an attendant of the Baptist church, Victoria County. Possessed of a kind disposition, and sterling qualities the deceased was beloved by a wide circle of friends, who will ever cherish her memory.

The surviving relatives are her sorrowing husband, Mr. J. W. Kenney, and one brother and sister. They are: Miss Elizabeth, at home; Miss Minnie, of the Ross Hospital staff; Mrs. Everette Mitchell, Emily township; Mrs. Wm. Kennedy, Verulam township; Dr. J. W. Brien, Windsor; Thomas of Fenelon; Mr. H. A. student at the L.C.L. Lindsay; Mrs. Jos. Kent, of Lindsay, and Dr. James Graham, of Fenelon, were sister and brother of the deceased.

Take Over Store at Bobcaygeon

Two well-known Lindsay men are branching out into the general store business at Bobcaygeon this week in the persons of Mr. E. T. Carter and Mr. Geo. Baldwin. Some time ago Mr. E. T. Carter, who was a foreman at Horn Bros. woolen factory, resigned owing to his health, and on looking around for other vocations to follow he decided to start in the general store business, securing a good offer on the premises of the business of Miss Orr, Bobcaygeon. Mr. Geo. Baldwin, who for many years was an employe at J. H. Murray's oak front grocery store, decided to enter into partnership with Mr. Carter and the deal at Bobcaygeon was consummated. Miss Orr's general store at Bobcaygeon is well established and is recognized as the home of quality and reasonable prices.

War Has so Far Cost Italy Forty Million Dollars

Rome, March 21. - The bill introduced in the chamber authorizing the extraordinary expenditure made on behalf of the expedition to Tripoli over $40,000,000. Of this nearly $20,000,000 goes to defray the cost of the expeditionary corps from the end of last September to the end of the month of February, five months in all, and to the transport of troops and stores of every kind from food and clothing to aeroplanes, and the actual maintenance of the troops in Tripoli. The value of all kinds, which, removed to Tripoli, has had to be replaced in Italy is estimated at $8,000,000.

Rural Mail

The recent announcement by Postmaster General Pelletier that rural mail delivery was to be extended in Canada with energy and systematically under the direction of a special branch of the post office department will be hailed with gratification on all sides. Hon. Mr. Pelletier thus referred to the matter in parliament: "The Government regards rural mail delivery as important and soon will have a system of rural mail delivery which will be better than any other in the world. It will be a more businesslike way, and with less duplication than obtained under the late Government. The people would be served better than by the loose way in which the scheme had formerly been carried out. He would soon ask the House to concur in the establishment of a special branch of the department to deal with this subject. The cost would amount to something, but the money would be well spent. The routes would be mapped out on a regular systematic and economical manner. They could not go into every county at once, and they must plan each at once, and so as to fit into the next one. There is a strong demand in rural sections for an extension of the mail delivery system and the Government will make no mistake in going to the farthest possible limit in so doing. Good roads, rural telephones and rural mail delivery are three essentials in Canadian rural life to-day, and will go far towards solving the problems of how to keep the younger generation on the farm and the development of the agricultural possibilities of Canada. There is no money better spent than in developing a scheme of rural mail delivery."

Carew Lumber Co. Had Very Successful Winter

The John Carew Lumber Co., Ltd., finished up another season of successful operations in the different lumber camps on their northern limits and also those south of Lindsay. This enterprising and progressive firm had four camps engaged in cutting the pine and spruce, and transporting to different landings, where it will be cribbed and towed on the opening of navigation to the company's mills in Lindsay, there to be manufactured into lumber, shingles, lath, box material and many different uses to which wood is turned.

In the four camps 140 men and 50 horses were employed, working from the 6th of November, 1911, until March 20th, 1912, without any intermission. Mr. Wm. Patterson took charge of the camp in Harvey, where the foreman and his stalwart men, succeeded in taking out a cut of 25,000 logs, which were dumped on Deer Bay, below Buckhorn. Mr. Chas. Goodhand was foreman in a camp in Harvey also. He took out 20,000 pieces besides wood and tanbark. This output was also landed on Deer Bay below Buckhorn. Mr. Sandy Logan as foreman look- and cribbers will start about April 15th next. The steamer which will tow the stock to mill will ply upon the waters later on. Taken in all the big lumber firm had a prosperous year, not even an accident marred the work of the concern all winter.

The Carew Lumber Co. own 3,500 acres of land in Harvey, being one of the largest tax payers in that township. Besides the cutting of all this timber the firm bought several thousand cords of wood and logs from loggers and farmers. After the Galway camp and placed 20,000 pieces in Swamp Lake. South of Lindsay at Cross Creeks Camp Capt. Smith had a large force of men under his supervision, taking out 5,000 pieces and 1700 cords of wood. Of this latter amount 800 cords was delivered by the two brickvards, the balance of this season's cut coming to town.

The drives will be on Burnt River, Union Creek, Nogie's Creek, Squaw River and Massasauga Creek. The Carew Lumber Co. also purchased the Austin Park stock of 35,000 pieces. This large amount of timber on different lakes will keep the mill humming all summer, till the time to go to camp rolls around once more. To do this work 250 men will be employed by the firm until the close of the season. It is expected that the mill drive was made the recipient of a very beautiful Bible and hymn book by the congregation of Bethel church, who wished to show their appreciation of her services as organist. Mr. Jones read the address and Dr. Irvine made the presentation. Although altogether unprepared for such a surprise as it proved to be Mrs. Davidson made a short but very appropriate reply. Conspicuous among the many pretty costumes worn on this happy occasion were Mrs. S. Stinson, mother of the bride, who wore shepherd check silk; Miss Valera Laidley, who was charmingly gowned in ivory satin trimmed with cream; Miss Winnie Wilson, who looked pretty in pink satin and overlace; Miss Lulu Bushnell, beautifully gowned in pink silk collette trimmed with pink satin; Miss Ethel Mulligan, who looked fine in pink satin, trimmed with seed pearls and fringe; Miss Josie Stinson, who was sweetly gowned in check silk; Mrs. (Ir.) Irvine, who looked pretty in a gown of green voile over green silk; Mrs. E. M. Sluggett, who was daintily dressed in white satin, trimmed

After the ceremony congratulations were received from the happy couple's many friends and while the register was being signed, Mrs. (Dr.) Irvine, of Lindsay, sang "Because," in her accustomed sweet voice. The guests then repaired to the spacious dining room to partake of the many delicacies there provided. The tables were decorated with white and pink carnations and smilax. The wedding cake rested in the centre of a very pretty centre piece. Just before the conclusion of the last course Mr. Jones, who acted as chairman, delivered a neat speech. He then called upon Mr. Lawrence Blackwell, who proposed a toast to the happy young couple who marriage is the subject of this sketch. The groom ably replied. Mr. Wm. C. Davidson then proposed the health of our Host and Hostess to which Mr. Stinson suitably responded. Dr. Irvine, Lindsay, then proposed a toast to the ladies, to which Mr. T. Stinson, Lindsay, made a very eloquent reply. Mr. N. J. Wilson also replied. The last but not least in the list was "The Wearer," proposed by Mr. A. E. Wilson and responded to by Mr. E. M. Sluggett. The groom's gift to the bride was a sunburst of pearls; to the bridesmaid, a brooch set with pearls; to the pianist, a brooch set with pearls; and to the groomsmen, a pair of gold cuff links. It would be impossible here to give any idea of the number and beauty of the presents received by the bride, consisting as they did of sterling silver, cut glass and to the groomsmen, a pair of gold cuff links. They were quite costly and showed the high esteem in which the bride is held. Before leaving on their tour the bride

Practical Papers At W I Meeting

A regular meeting of the Cambay branch of Woman's Institute was held on March 6th, at the home of Mrs. G. Bagshaw. After the usual business the sick committee reported one member sick, and the secretary was instructed to send a letter of sympathy from the branch. Then followed the regular program: A paper, "What can Women do for the Country," was given by Mrs. P. J. Wilkinson in a very able manner. This paper was exceptionally good, and was thoroughly enjoyed by all. "Importance of being Punctual," was the next paper given by Mrs. Gordon Tompkins, and was full of good sound advice and met with praises from everybody. Mrs. A. Cragg then gave a paper entitled "Easter Thoughts," which was also good. It reminded each member of the coming Easter and the good thoughts that found expression in her paper will certainly prove helpful to the members. A discussion followed each paper, which made the meeting especially interesting to all. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. Arksy. The names of the ladies taking part in the program for this meeting are as follows: Miss H. McLean, Mrs. Gilbert, Mrs. W. Sinclair, Mrs. W. Fair and Mrs. J. Wood and Mrs. G. Bagshaw. A cordial invitation is extended to all the ladies of the vicinity to attend.
