Is capable of reproducing every class of music, whether vocal or instrumental and every form of speech from the magnificent addresses of the late President McKinley down to the inimitable drollery and fun-making recitals of "Uncle Josh," with a perfection that is simply astounding and such as has won for the Columbia Grafonola, the very first place among all instruments of this class. "Hearing is Believing," and the records are positively peerless. One has to but see and hear to be convinced. And these unequalled records are only

Catarrh or Colds Never Quickly Cured By Swallowing Drugs

COUGH SYRUP, TABLETS, ETC. GO TO THE STOMACH, PERHAPS SICKEN IT, BUT DON'T KILL THE GERMS OF CATARRH.

THE DIRECT BREATHING CURE IS BEST.

To cure an ailment in the throat or chest, to root out Catarrh or Asthma, it is essential that the medicine be conveyed direct to the affected parts. This is why no other remedy has achieved such world-wide success as Catarrhazone, which alone can be breathed in one second to every air cell in the breathing organs. The healing vapors of Catarrhazone mix with the breath and descend through the throat, down the bronchial tubes, to the deepest air cells in the lungs—all parts are saturated with the rich piney essences that ease, heal and cure.

"No one ever contracted a more obstinate attack of nasal catarrh than I suffered a month ago," writes Mr. G. E. Root, a well-known resident of Bridgetown, W.I. "My head ached terrifically, I sneezed about every three minutes, but still my nostrils were entirely closed and I couldn't breathe through them. Ten minutes inhaling Catarrhazone gave me a little relief, so I continued to use Catarrhazone every hour, and before the day was out I had improved. Catarrhazone quickly cured me. I am well ever since."

There is no remedy so certain and safe as Catarrhazone, but being a good remedy it is imitated. Beware of the substitute. Large Catarrhazone lasts two months, price $1.00; smaller sizes 25c. and 50c. At all storekeepers and druggists, or The Catarrhazone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

The Shame of the United States

(From the Duluth Herald.)
Imagine a three-year-old boy or girl going to work every morning with a dinner pail swinging from one hand, and spending the day at confining labor. Imagine your wife or mother or sister or sweetheart working from fourteen to nineteen or twenty hours a day at any kind of drudgery, day after day and week after week—and getting paid at a rate of 10 cents an hour.

And those conditions are not dug up in some remote part of some old world monarchy, but in the great State of New York, in Free America! And they actually exist! They have been found within the last few months by the State Factory Inspecting Commission, and their existence has been reported officially to the Legislature of that State. Oh, yes, there is a law against it. But the law is not enforced. Why? God knows! Perhaps because the men appointed to enforce it did not believe it possible that men could be

Use and Abuse of the Telephone

I have avoided the telephone myself, chiefly because I got tired of it in the city and did not want anyone to call me up to talk things over unless I wanted to talk. I have always sympathized with the British in their attitude to the telephone. The best families may have one in the kitchen to make ordering supplies easy, but they refuse to be disturbed by it themselves. When a Britisher goes to his home he wants it distinctly understood that his home is his castle, and when he takes up the drawbridge and lets down the portcullis no one can intrude on him without his permission. I have a very distinct recollection of having an interview with an English business man, and while we were talking the telephone bell on his desk began ringing. Instead of stopping to hear what was wanted he reached out and took the receiver from the hook and placed it on his desk so as to stop the ringing. He would not allow anyone to reach him by the telephone any more than he would be letting them enter through the door of his office while he was keeping an engagement. As a contrast to this, I remember an advertising man in New York telling me with much glee of being refused admission to a business man, and instead of being discouraged he went up to the nearest telephone booth, called the man up, submitted his proposition and got his order. We people of the new world lack the necessary poise to use the telephone properly. When the bell rings we are consumed with curiosity until we know who is speaking and what is wanted. It is also a rule in the best clubs of London that no member can be called up by telephone. When a man goes to his club or his home he does not allow himself to be disturbed unnecessarily. If we could learn the British method of using the telephone only when we need it, instead of using it for gossiping and all kinds of nonsense, and instead of being slaves to its constant ringing, there would be no good ground for objecting to it. There are still a few things that we can learn from the people in the Old Country.
