Frank Sullivan Denies The Gamey Story

Mr. Johnston in cross-examination asked: Were you in the smoking room with Gamey on the 9th, 10th, or 11th of September? A.—No, I was not.
Witness gave particulars as to the location of the smoking room, describing it as a place of general resort both by employees of the building and the public. Witness had had some money, about $250 or $300, which he got from Finn and McMann, at the completion of the harbor contract. His father had often assisted him in money matters, and he had got a couple of checks from him in October, November or December. He was anxious to lead Gamey to believe that he had considerable influence with the Government.
Mr. Johnston—On the first day you introduced Mr. Gamey to Mr. Stratton, that is, on or about the 10th of September, did you hear anything said about "consideration"? A.—In the discussion I think Mr. Stratton said: "You'll receive the same consideration as any supporter of the Government."
Q.—Mr. Gamey had at that time said he would support the Government? A.—Yes.
Q.—He says there were some written agreements between you; is that true? A.—No, that is not true. Every understanding we had was merely verbal.
To Chancellor Boyd, the witness made a sweeping denial that there were any written agreements of any kind between Gamey and himself.
Q.—You never got any money from the man at all? A.—No; never got a cent.
The Chancellor—Make that clear who is meant by "the man"?
Mr. Johnston—to witness—From Mr. Stratton, either? A.—No.
Q.—Or Myers? A.—No.
Q.—Nor Chase? A.—No.
Q.—Did Chase bring any money to the smoking room? A.—Not that I know of.
Q.—Was there any package brought there on that occasion? A.—No; never when I was there.
Q.—Was there any money given to you on the 29th January, in which it is said that Stratton gave the denomination of the bills, and that you opened it and gave Gamey half? A.—No.
Mr. Johnston—Was there anything said about a consideration which would be given Gamey if he would support the Government? A.—No.
Q.—Nothing of that took place in your hearing? A.—No.
Mr. Johnston then took the evidence of Mr. Gamey, and read it page by page, beginning at the statements relating to the alleged interview between Gamey, Stratton, and Sullivan, to discuss patronage and the payment of money, and leading to the carrying of the parcel to the smoking-room. Sullivan denied all the important points. He admitted taking Gamey to his room on the 9th of September, he thought. The question of something of value being passed was not discussed. Vance had not been discussed. He knew nothing of a letter being prepared which Mr. Gamey was to sign.
When the Gamey evidence regarding the receipt of the parcel in the smoking-room, the telling of Frank Sullivan picking up the envelope and so on, was read, Mr. Johnston said: "What have you to say to that?"
"That's a lie!" cried Sullivan.
Q.—Now I will tell you what Mr. Gamey says about the deal of January 29—reading from page 124 in the evidence of Mr. Gamey: "Frank was with me when I was conversing with Mr. Stratton about the Gamey interview, and Sullivan said that if I would sign that interview I would get $1,000 cash." Now is that true?
A.—No, sir.
Q.—This follows: Gamey says: "He and I went up to the Public Works Department that afternoon. After we came out of Mr. Stratton's office Frank said we would get a thousand." Is that true? A.—No, sir.
Q.—Were you and Gamey together in Mr. Stratton's private office on January 29? A.—No, sir.
Q.—Then he (Gamey) says: "When I was talking to the Globe reporter, Mr. Frank Sullivan came into the outer office of Mr. Stratton and said 'I am ready now.' Is that right? A.—No, sir.
Q.—"I followed him out." Is that right? A.—No, sir.
Q.—Continued reading of evidence: "Mr. Stratton and I spoke a few minutes, and Mr. Stratton said, 'I have given Frank so many fifty dollar bills, so many ten dollar bills and five dollar bills, making a thousand.' Did he give you any money? A.—No, sir.
Q.—Still reading from evidence: "Frank Sullivan told me that Mr. Stratton had the $750 in his office and got $250 out of the Attorney-General's office." Was the Attorney-General's office mentioned? A.—No, sir.
Mr. Johnston continued to read Mr. Gamey's evidence, in which he described leaving the Parliament Buildings by the west and parting at the car.
Q.—Is that true? A.—It is all true except the money matter.
Chancellor Boyd—What was said between you, if anything, in discussing whether Smyth of Algoma could be bought or not? A.—Never a word said about that.
Q.—What was said about withdrawing the petition against Smyth? A.—Never said a word about it.
Q.—What was said about sawing off petition of Mr. Davis? A.—Nothing said.

to the story of the meeting at the piano factory.
Q.—Did you see anything inside the room that attracted your attention?
A.—Yes.
Q.—What? A.—A wet umbrella.
Q.—Did you think it strange? A.—Rather.
Q.—Did you call Mr. Gamey's attention to it? A.—Yes, and he said he guessed the old man (Crossin) had left it for him.
Q.—Had you been there before?
A.—On one or two occasions on business.
Q.—What was done with the candle? A.—I put it out after lighting the gas.
Q.—You knew the story on which you had agreed? A.—The substance.
Q.—At the Parliament Buildings whom did he say brought the money to the smoking-room? A.—He said Myers.
Q.—Did you correct him? A.—No.
Q.—Who shaped the conversation?
A.—Mr. Gamey.
Q.—Did you originate anything?
A.—Latterly.
Q.—As to any subject? A.—No.
Q.—Had you any suspicions at the time? A.—I can't say I had. When I saw the umbrella at first I had a little but I went in.
Q.—Did you go toward the piano?
A.—Latterly.
Q.—Were you intercepted? A.—Mr. Gamey stepped between me and the piano.

THE WEATHER FOR MAY

Some Tornadoes are Promised for the Month

Prof. Irl Hicks in Word and Works makes the following forecast for May: A regular volcanic storm period is central on the 1st, extending to the 4th. The opening stages of this period fall in the last days of April, that is, change to warmer, falling barometer and southerly winds set in on those days in western sections of the country. From the 1st to 3rd inclusive, these changes to growing storm conditions will increase as they advance eastward across the country, with active storms of rain, wind and thunder on and touching the 2nd and 3rd. In the nature of things, rising barometer, change of winds to westerly and northerly, and much cooler weather will follow close on the rear of these storms, giving many northern and central sections touches of chill and frost during some of the nights in the first week in May. See if this does not prove to be true.
On and touching the 6th and 7th look for decided and rapid change to falling barometer and quite warm, resulting in sharp electrical storms on the 6th and 7th. Moon crosses the celestial equator on the 6th in a reactionary storm period, and heavy thunder storms will be most natural and next to that day.
On and touching the 8th across the storm pass eastward barometer and much cooler will follow from the west, giving possible frosts in sections northward on the nights between the 7th and 10th inclusive. See!

DANGEROUS STORMS
A regular storm period covers the 10th to 15th. This is one of the May periods we will venture to put down as dangerous. By this time the focus of the sun's magnetic and electrical energy, the central states, or the sections most subject to violent, tornadoic storms. As we enter this period, say about the 10th, the barometer will begin falling in the west, a decided change to summer temperature will begin in the same section, vast cloud areas will begin to move eastward across the country, and from the 11th to about the 14th, storms of rain, hail and thunder—some of them furious and tornadoic—will visit many states in their sweep to the Atlantic seaboard. Storms at this and the remaining periods in May, are apt to repeat themselves in daily cycles, or at about the same time of day for several successive days. A decided rise of the barometer, change of wind to the west and cooler, will mark the end of the series of storms, and the end of the nights cold enough for frost in northern to central states. We must not be understood as saying that tornadoes must occur at this time, but we do affirm that the astronomical outlook is such as to make such storms decidedly probable. Let no one yield to foolish and overmastering fear and forebodings, but all should have some plan and time to take, calculated to reduce danger to life and limb, and property to a minimum, in case of sudden and destructive storms. This general admonition is always applicable in heavy storms at this period of the year; but it is of special importance during the present combination of the Venus, Mercury and Vulcan periods. The general aspects of sky, clouds, wind currents, temperature, barometer, and hygrometer, will give timely and ample warnings as to whether the storm centres are coming your way.
The center of the Mercury period falls on the 18th and the reactionary storm period is central on the 17th and 18th. About these days storm conditions will reach another maximum, even if the daily cycle, which set in at the preceding period should not subside up to this time—a thing very probable in a combined Venus and Mercury disturbance. After storms about the 17th and 18th look for change to very much cooler for two or three days.
The last regular storm period for May reaches from the 22nd to the 28th, merging really with the reactionary disturbances due on the last three days of the month. This is another period in which heavy and dangerous storms are entirely probable. Monday the 25th to Thursday the 28th will be the time of greatest violence and probable danger, although general daily disturbances may continue to end of the month.

Mr. Johnston then led the witness

WAKELY & FORD THE SAFE SATISFACTORY STORE

..City Like Lindsay..

How often it has been said, and truthfully, that Lindsay is more like a city than some so-called cities. In our own business we've found a large demand for goods that usually are found only in city stores. By catering to this demand we have kept in Lindsay a good deal of money that usually went to the city stores.
We do not believe in winning about people doing their buying in city stores. We know from experience that Lindsay people will buy in Lindsay stores if they can get the kind of goods they want.
Can't blame people for going to the city for what they want if they cannot get it at home.
We've got goods to supply the most exclusive tastes—quality equal to the best city stores—choice wide enough for the most critical, prices we believe as low or lower than you can get the same goods for in any store either here or city wards.

SPRING HAT BEAUTY

AFTER ALL THE HAT MAKES OR MARS THE LADY'S APPEARANCE.

Men may ridicule women's love of beauty in Hats but they secretly admire a pretty face under a pretty hat just the same.
And there's no face so pretty that a becoming hat won't make just a wee bit prettier and there's no face so plain but can be improved by a handsome hat.
The first thing to consider in a lady's hat is a becomingness. You'll have no trouble to choose a becoming hat to suit your own liking. Here we have scores fresh from the fashion marts and each one is characterized by its beauty and individuality of style that would be a credit to any city store. Prices are fully twenty-five to fifty per cent. lower than city prices

Charming Shirt Waist ..Styles..

Modish Waists of all the correct materials are represented here in big variety. All the fashionable ideas as embodied in the latest modes, got up with cleverness and taste, are shown in the Wakely & Ford Waists.
Only by seeing them can you obtain a tangible and realizing idea of their infinite merit and the comprehensiveness of the showing.
Materials are Muslins, Silks, Lustras and Silk Organdy.
Prices start at 49c and go as high as $3 for Muslin, Silk at $3.75, $4.50, $5, $6.50 and $8.50. Organdies at $5 and $6.50, Lustras at $2.75 and $3.50.

A Wealth of Women's Wear

Outer Garments generally—priced at a little more than half real value. A man in Montreal, famous as a fine cloak manufacturer, wanted to dispose of all his samples at one transaction. We had a splendid stock of our own, so we made an almost absurdly low bid for his new, handsome, perfect samples. He surprised us by accepting; now a surprise awaits you. Think of saving $3 to $13 on a Spring Suit. And these beautiful Silk Coats that are now in such high favor $4 and $5 less than our already moderate price. Then there are Skirts and Waists and Capes—various late, approved styles—choose anywhere among the—sure of getting an unmatched bargain. These prices show big savings:

SUITS		SKIRTS
$25 kinds $18.50	$20 kinds $15	$10 kinds $7.50	$7 kinds $5
15 kinds 10.00	10 kinds 7.50	7.50 kinds 5.00	5.00 kinds 3.50

A SPLENDID SHOWING OF NEW DRESS GOODS
We do like to talk on this subject. Dress Goods is a topic as close to our hearts as it is to women's kind generally. May be its because we have such an excellent assortment of rich charming new spring fancies, and in the way we price them. Heaps of beautiful new Dress Stuffs, arrayed in all their spring beauty are here in lavish profusion to tempt fair femininity, and the prices are in every instance small enough to please the most economical. They start at 15c and range up to $3 a yard.

...WAKELY & FORD... Lindsay. The Safe, Satisfactory Store

WOULD HAVE TO STOP HER WORK AND SIT DOWN.

The moon is at now on the 26th, at greatest declination north on the 27th, and in passage on the 28th. These facts, added to other existing causes, lead us to say that storms of wide and dangerous proportions are very probable on and touching the 26th, 27th and 28th. Phenomenally high temperature, high humidity and very low barometer will precede the storm serving effectually as premonitions and warnings of coming storms. Many parts of the country will get heavy Venus downpours of rain and hail at this and other May periods. Builders and contractors might save themselves and others heeding these suggestions, and by much loss and embarrassment by bracing and securing unfinished structures against other phases of abnormal perturbations.
May and June are the months this year in which to collect and store supplies of water. Those depending on rains for such supply will do well to heed this warning. As we close this last forum of May Word and Works, harrowing letters describing death and ruin in recent tornadoes, are pouring into our office.
