CANNOT FAIL TO INTEREST WOMEN

ALBERTA LADY TELLS OF HER CURE BY DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

WAS WEAK, NERVOUS, RUN-DOWN AND SUFFERING FROM RHEUMATISM—DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS MADE HER A NEW PERSON.

Neauvalon, Alta., April 14.—(Special).—Women who are nervous, run down and suffering from rheumatism, cannot fail to be interested in the case of Miss Gertrude E. Royome of this place. She was exactly in that condition. To-day she is as she puts it herself "a new person." Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her. Here is her statement given for publication:

"My Kidney Disease started from a cold two years ago. Rheumatism set in, and I was weak and nervous, and in a run down condition. I was attended by a doctor who did not appear to understand my case. Three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills made a new person of me."

Is not Miss Royome's condition an exact description of nine-tenths of the ailing women of Canada? The doctor did not understand her case. It was simple enough. It was Kidney trouble. And kidney disease is the one great cause of women's troubles. Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure it.

OBITUARY.

LATE MRS. CONLON.

The remains of the late Mrs. Conlon were taken to their last resting place on Friday afternoon. The following were the pall-bearers: Messrs. M. Hanahoe, P. O'Neill, A. McDonnell, P. Gassien, D. Walker and Mr. Matthews.

MRS. A. H. WELLS.

On Friday, April 14, at the early age of 81 years, Mabel S. Wells, wife of Mr. A. H. Wells, was called to her eternal reward after a lingering illness of about seventeen months. Mrs. Wells was a daughter of Mr. William Finkes, Albert-st., and has been a resident of Lindsay all her life except for two years spent in the Canadian West. She was a member of the Baptist church and of the Daughters of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen in Manitoba.

Besides a sorrowing husband and the following children, Gladys, Harold, Theodore and Helen, there are left to mourn their loss, four sisters, Mrs. Harry Britton, Winnipeg; Lily, Beatrice and Stella, of Rochester, and two brothers, Frank in Pennsylvania, and Leslie in Elmore, Sask.

MRS. JANE HORTON

The many friends of Mrs. Jane Horton, relict of the late Joseph Horton, will regret to hear that she passed to her eternal reward on Wednesday afternoon at the age of 64, after a lingering illness of almost a year.

Deceased was a resident of Fenelon Falls for some years, moving from there to Kilmount, where she has resided for a number of years, being on a visit to her daughter, Mrs. E. Higgs, Hamilton-st., at the time of her death. In religion Mrs. Horton was a Baptist, being a valued worker in that church until she took ill.

Four children will mourn her death: Mrs. E. Higgs and Miss Minnie Horton, of town; George, of Markville and Tom, in the west. Mrs. Adam Rutherford, of Sturgeon Point, and Mrs. Richard Booth, of Burnt River, are sisters of the deceased. One brother, Mr. John Earl, resides in Morris, Man.

LATE M. L. NUTTING.

Referring to the death of the late M. L. Nutting, principal of the Uxbridge public school, and formerly of Lindsay, the Uxbridge Times in part says:

"The community grieves and grieves deeply. A man has been snatched from our midst, a true, strong, broad man, a man of sterling Christian character, of indomitable energy and boundless enthusiasm for the right, a man whose whole being was made up of sympathy for the sorrowing, charity for the needy and erring, and kindness for all. Respected, admired, loved, he stood unique among his fellows, the living type of a Christian gentleman.

"To know him was to love him. To know him intimately, and to be associated with him in any one of his numerous activities was to love, admire and revere him the more.

"Seldom, if ever, is a town stirred to its very depths as Uxbridge was Saturday. When the news of his death spread it was painful to witness the grief of friends. Numb with the poignant sorrow, they could only whisper in hushed tones, 'how can we get along without him.' Rarely is such heartfelt sorrow so generally seen.

"Successful in his profession, Mr. Nutting was respected and loved by his pupils and assistants. Enthusiastic and energetic in church work he carried untold burdens on his shoulders. Treasurer of the Methodist church, president and one of the principal organizers of the Business Men's Bible Class, he was never weary in well-doing for the cause of the Saviour. Manly and eager

A Glimpse Into the Past—Mr. John Way Tells of Big Fire in 1861 and Consequent Building Operations

John D. Way, the subject of this brief sketch, has flowing through his veins the good old blood of the natives of the land of the brave and the free—England. A well-to-do, large head crowned with a shock of silver hair tells his own story, namely that Mr. Way is well advanced in years. In truth he has braved and overcome the struggles of life for almost eighty summers and winters, and as he says himself, is still hale and hearty and ready for a great number more. In fact he enjoys his three square meals a day the same as any other healthy Englishman, sleeps well and enjoys being out of doors, all of which accounts for his rugged, hale and hearty appearance. John Way, who is known to the majority of the residents of Lindsay, has carved out his own destiny by honest toil, and integrity of life, and to-day is regarded by his fellow townsmen as a man of sterling character. In private life he has a host of friends which he has drawn to him by his genial manner.

Mr. Way is one of the oldest residents of Lindsay and in his sojourn in this, the shire town of the banner county of Victoria, he has witnessed many big changes. He settled in Lindsay just before the big fire in 1861 and can give a very interesting account of the event. At that time the stores were of frame with here and there a brick one. The fire commenced in a small store situated where Dr. Blanchard's house now is, and spread rapidly, destroying the whole of Kent-st., as far as William-st., and practically the whole town was wiped out of existence.

Temporary buildings, he stated, were built on the side streets and work was at once started to rebuild, the buildings being of brick as they now stand. Mr. Way stated that he had plastered almost every building on the street, together with Mr. F. Reeves, who is still living on Durham-st., and also Messrs. Bartlett and Lane, who are now dead. In fact they may be said to have plastered the town. Mr. Growden, Mr. Williams and Mr. Geo. Coombs, did most of the brick work, but they too have passed into the Great Beyond, with the exception of Mr. Growden, who resides in the east ward.

The town grew very rapidly after the fire and there was plenty of work for everybody. A few years after the disastrous conflagration the Court house was built, but the registry was not erected for some time after. Mr. C. L. Baker, father of Mr. W. E. Baker, built the Adams corner and conducted a large grocery and feed business. He also erected the packing house at the rear of the store and Mr. Geo. Matthews ran it for a number of years until he started in business for himself.

Mr. Way also remembers the building of the Sylvester works which he stated took place about 35 years ago, as well as other substantial in sports his clean wholesome spirit, and his unceasing activities were to be had for the asking. Sincere and faithful he lived up to his Masonic obligations as few poor mortals could. Gifted with a wonderful memory and a keen sense of perception, the quality of his work had made him famous in every Masonic lodge in this district, and his services were eagerly sought for and unsparingly given.

Fearless and upright he outspokenly and trenchantly condemned the wrong. His very presence was a check to all that was unseemly. For the wrong doer he had no mercy, for the repentant sinner a word of cheer and a strong hand clasp to help and raise to better things.

He lived well, he did good. His good work and example lives, and will live, an honor to his memory.

 Captain—Peter Campbell,
 Sec.—Treas.—Ben Stacey.

THE LUTINE'S BELL

The Lutine, a 32-gun frigate of the British navy, was lost off one of the entrances to the Zuyder Zee, October 9, 1799, with a cargo of coin and specie, valued at £1,217,000 ($6,085,000). Since that time £100,824 ($504,120) has been recovered, the bulk of it in 1800. Recently the wreck was located again and it was decided to attempt to pump the sand from her in search for gold. Arduous work has already resulted in the opinion that the treasure will be recovered. The Lutine's bell is rung by the "caller" at Lloyd's whenever news is received of an overdue ship and when definite news comes of the loss of a ship. At its tolling all transactions are suspended until the purpose of the message is known.

Mr. W. M. Robson built the block where the Primeau grocery store is now located, and ran a store there. Mr. J. Anderson erected the store where Anderson & Nugent's store now stands. An hotel, the Mansion House, was doing business at the corner of Victoria-ave., and Glenelg-st.

Mr. Way well remembers when the post office was looked after by Mr. Adams on Lindsay-st., immediately at the rear of the Y. M. C. A.; also when the Midland Railway had a station in the east ward where the present coal oil warehouse is at the present time located. This railway ran between Port Hope and Lindsay and was afterwards connected with the Whitley line. Some time afterwards the G.T.R. bought this line and built a station where the present freight shed is.

Time has wrought many changes but Mr. Way misses the old familiar faces, very few of the sturdy pioneers of those early days in the making of the Town of Lindsay are alive to relate their story of the early life. Old friends, bosom chums, have passed into the Great Beyond, from which no traveller returns, but all of Mr. Way's friends hope that he may be long spared to favor them with the benefit of his helpful and pleasant association. Mrs. John Way, sr., is still living and is well and over ninety years of age. One son is also living.

Reminiscences Gleaned From Files of Warder

Glimpses of Doings in 1860 BY BUSYEYES

Omenee, Feb. 26, 1892.—A large gathering of people assembled at the station awaiting the arrival of the 11.20 train from Lindsay, on which were expected Hon. J. Dobson, lately appointed senator; Charles Fairbairn, M.P.; and Major Sam Hughes, M.P., the successful candidate in the recent South and North Victoria bye-elections. On the arrival of the train, Senator Dobson and Major Sam Hughes were presented with two very beautiful bouquets by Misses Ethel Norris and Annie Johnson. A procession was formed and a meeting held in Bradburn hall where speeches were given by Messrs. Hughes, Dobson, Cornwall and Stephenson. Mr. Fairbairn arrived about 2.25 p.m. and was received with loud cheers, after which he was presented with a handsome bouquet by Miss Maggie Adams.

A FIRE.

On Wednesday night last the frame dwelling owned and occupied by Mr. T. H. Jones, Adelaide-st., was destroyed by fire together with all the contents. The fire was caused by the explosion of a lamp after the family had retired.

On Monday the American flag was flying over the office of Mr. Dill, the American consul here, it being the anniversary of the birthday of President Washington.

A PRESENTATION.

North Manvers, March 4.—On Friday evening, Feb. 19, about fifty of the neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. Joseph McGill to make their last visit before his departure to Manitoba. After some time had been spent in games, refreshments were served, after which an address and presentation was given to Mr. and Mrs. McGill and family, to which Mr. McGill made a suitable reply, thanking them for their kind remembrance.

LINDSAY WON.

A very interesting hockey match was played on Wednesday evening between Lindsay and Peterboro, resulting in favor of the local team by the score of 3 to 1.

THE WINNING RINK.

On Friday evening a joint committee of the citizens and curling club entertained the well known Flavell rink, the winners of the challenge cup at the international bonspiel at Winnipeg, at a banquet at the Simpson House. The room was very tastefully decorated with flags and His Worship Rey occupied the chair, on his right being seated the victorious rink, composed of John Flavell, skip, W. Simpson, J. McLenan, and J. McMillan. After the tables had been cleared toasts were proposed and responded to, after which a complimentary address was presented to Mr. Flavell, to which he replied in his usual happy manner.

Stephen Arnold, a young man of about nineteen years of age, while engaged on a horse power working a straw cutter at William Moynes', about four miles north of town, accidentally got his foot in the gearing, it being badly lacerated and one bone broken. Although very badly injured there is some hope of saving the foot.

London Families Had Narrow Escape

London, Ont., April 16.—Fire completely destroyed W. G. Wood's confectionery store at an early hour this morning. Mr. and Mrs. Wood and Miss Eliza Smith, who were sleeping above the store, had a narrow escape for their lives, they having to escape in their night robes over the roof.

W. Smith's store next door was also slightly damaged. The family live above the store and they also had to escape in scant clothing.

WHEN SPRING IS HERE.

When tireless agents greet me with smiles from ear to ear, and do their best to tempt me, just as they did last year, by selling fruit trees, fruit-ess, or cornets that are toothless, I know that spring is here. When I am tired and bilious, and feeling staid and queer, and doctors' prescriptions about my door appear, and dope me up with potions, and rub me down with lotions that stir up strange emotions I know that spring is here. When to its pasture fragrant proceeds the lowing steer; when from his lair the vagrant comes forth, intent on (how I see neighbors shakin') around their gardens, thrashin' in idiotic fashion, I know that spring is here. When truant schoolboys, go fishing at the weir; and women all grow dotty, as in the yester-year, and tear the house to pieces, to scrub where dust or grease is, just like so many geeses, I know that spring is here. When flies begin to tickle the victim's nose and ear; when skeeters prod and prickle, with small but poignant spear; when birds come back and bring us the songs they used to sing us, and bees come up and sting us, I know that spring is here.
