

COLUMBIA

Graphophones and Grafonolas

Are certainly in the lead these days in the talking machine world. Such is the mechanical perfection of this instrument and such the material employed in its construction that it is at once "a thing of beauty and a joy forever." And the testimony of those who own one of these machines is the proof of these words.

AND COLUMBIA RECORDS!

Always in the lead, are now regarded as the standard by which all like products are judged. And to see and hear is to be convinced. Nothing more is required.

PRICE 85 CENTS EACH

A SAMPLE RECORD WILL BE FURNISHED ALL OWNERS OF DISC MACHINES FOR TEN CENTS.

Brown's Music Store

Kent-st., Lindsay.

Phone 463

You Don't Have To!

Necessity does not demand that you buy your jewelry here, but if you want to be certain that you are getting genuine jewelry and at the right prices, you will make no mistake in buying here. Our stock is so large, so varied—embracing everything that necessity demands or luxury could wish for, that it would be hard to conceive of a wish that could not be satisfied here. Your inspection is invited.

MCCARTY THE JEWELER
ISSUER OF MARRIAGE LICENSES
LINDSAY, ONT.

DO YOU WANT SATISFACTION

That is what we try to give to all our patrons. We are showing the latest Easter mountings.

Come in and see our OVAL FRAMES

A New Idea. Prices Right.

LEE

The Photographer in Your Town
New Beall Building.
Developing, Finishing and Enlarging for Amateurs. Picture framing a specialty.

WANTED.—A good maid to go to Toronto. Small family. Good wages. Apply to Mrs. L. V. O'Connor, corner Mill and Glenelg-sts.

All Skin Remedies Fail.

We have had so many inquiries lately regarding Eczema and other skin diseases, that we are glad to make our answer public. After careful investigation we have found that a simple wash of Oil of Wintergreen, as compounded in D.D.D. Prescription, can be relied upon. We would not make this statement to our patrons, friends and neighbors unless we were sure of it—and although there are many so-called Eczema remedies we ourselves unhesitatingly recommend D.D.D. Prescription. All druggists can supply you with D.D.D., or to them if you can't come to us. Or if you prefer to try D.D.D. free first, send to the D.D.D. Laboratories, Dept. L. W., 49 Colborne-st., Toronto. Enclose 10c. to pay the postage and they will send you absolutely free, a sample bottle of this great specific. E. Gregory, druggist.

Men's And Boy's Clothing

Workingmen Springtime

Special Made to Measure Clothing

Protection is What You Need—We Can Give It to You!

In shirts, pants, overalls, smocks, mitts and all other necessities.

For top wear on rainy days, rubber coats, oilskin coats, oilskin pants and hats.

Every thing new—Every thing guaranteed

Ed. C. Armstrong

Mens' And Boy's Hats And Caps

New Mens' Wear Store Next Beall Building, Kent-st.

Mens' And Boy's Furnishings

CRITICAL TIME OF WOMAN'S LIFE

From 40 to 50 Years of Age. How It May Be Passed in Safety.

So, Wellington, B.C.—"For a year during the Change of Life I was all run down. I was really too weak to walk and very dependent and thought I was going to die, but after taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier my health and strength returned. I am very thankful to you and praise your medicine. I have advised several women who suffered as I did to try your remedies. You may publish this if you wish."—Mrs. DAVID R. MORRIS, South Wellington, Vancouver Island, B.C.

No other medicine for women's ills has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement. We know of no other medicine which has such a record of success as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For more than 30 years it has been the standard remedy for woman's ills such as inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains and nervous prostration, and we believe it is unequalled for women during the period of change of life.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (Confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

It is long been said that "seeing is believing." The ear is not to be depended upon. But the eye sees and knows. Its judgment is dependable. The things which make the deepest impression on the mind are those that are seen; things that pass to the mind through the "eye gates" are not soon forgot; and the "eye gate" becomes the main channel of information.

Publishers of modern literature take advantage of this and use illustrations, so that the main points of the story or article may be impressed upon the minds of readers through the "eye gates" and thus be permanently established.

In selecting a Bible to present to its readers, the Watchman-Warder found several that set up the claim of being illustrated, but, upon investigation, these were shown to merely contain "pictures" placed at random in the volumes. In the illustrated Bible selected by the Watchman-Warder, it accurately and appropriately portrays the subject matter which it accompanies and makes it clear—illuminates it—gives to it an added interest and an educational value.

The illustrated Bible distributed by The Watchman-Warder is bound in genuine limp leather, is stamped in gold, printed in large readable type on a fine quality of paper. It contains educational helps, marginal references, self-pronouncing tests and colored maps. With the six hundred magnificent illustrations which were prepared for this work at an expense of $58,000 are also full-page colored plates from the world-famous Tisnot collection, so it becomes a work of art not to be excelled. Get one now while they last—$1.18.

It is long been said that "seeing is believing." The ear is not to be depended upon. But the eye sees and knows. Its judgment is dependable. The things which make the deepest impression on the mind are those that are seen; things that pass to the mind through the "eye gates" are not soon forgot; and the "eye gate" becomes the main channel of information.

Publishers of modern literature take advantage of this and use illustrations, so that the main points of the story or article may be impressed upon the minds of readers through the "eye gates" and thus be permanently established.

In selecting a Bible to present to its readers, the Watchman-Warder found several that set up the claim of being illustrated, but, upon investigation, these were shown to merely contain "pictures" placed at random in the volumes. In the illustrated Bible selected by the Watchman-Warder, it accurately and appropriately portrays the subject matter which it accompanies and makes it clear—illuminates it—gives to it an added interest and an educational value.

The illustrated Bible distributed by The Watchman-Warder is bound in genuine limp leather, is stamped in gold, printed in large readable type on a fine quality of paper. It contains educational helps, marginal references, self-pronouncing tests and colored maps. With the six hundred magnificent illustrations which were prepared for this work at an expense of $58,000 are also full-page colored plates from the world-famous Tisnot collection, so it becomes a work of art not to be excelled. Get one now while they last—$1.18.

It is long been said that "seeing is believing." The ear is not to be depended upon. But the eye sees and knows. Its judgment is dependable. The things which make the deepest impression on the mind are those that are seen; things that pass to the mind through the "eye gates" are not soon forgot; and the "eye gate" becomes the main channel of information.

Publishers of modern literature take advantage of this and use illustrations, so that the main points of the story or article may be impressed upon the minds of readers through the "eye gates" and thus be permanently established.

In selecting a Bible to present to its readers, the Watchman-Warder found several that set up the claim of being illustrated, but, upon investigation, these were shown to merely contain "pictures" placed at random in the volumes. In the illustrated Bible selected by the Watchman-Warder, it accurately and appropriately portrays the subject matter which it accompanies and makes it clear—illuminates it—gives to it an added interest and an educational value.

The illustrated Bible distributed by The Watchman-Warder is bound in genuine limp leather, is stamped in gold, printed in large readable type on a fine quality of paper. It contains educational helps, marginal references, self-pronouncing tests and colored maps. With the six hundred magnificent illustrations which were prepared for this work at an expense of $58,000 are also full-page colored plates from the world-famous Tisnot collection, so it becomes a work of art not to be excelled. Get one now while they last—$1.18.

It is long been said that "seeing is believing." The ear is not to be depended upon. But the eye sees and knows. Its judgment is dependable. The things which make the deepest impression on the mind are those that are seen; things that pass to the mind through the "eye gates" are not soon forgot; and the "eye gate" becomes the main channel of information.

Publishers of modern literature take advantage of this and use illustrations, so that the main points of the story or article may be impressed upon the minds of readers through the "eye gates" and thus be permanently established.

In selecting a Bible to present to its readers, the Watchman-Warder found several that set up the claim of being illustrated, but, upon investigation, these were shown to merely contain "pictures" placed at random in the volumes. In the illustrated Bible selected by the Watchman-Warder, it accurately and appropriately portrays the subject matter which it accompanies and makes it clear—illuminates it—gives to it an added interest and an educational value.

The illustrated Bible distributed by The Watchman-Warder is bound in genuine limp leather, is stamped in gold, printed in large readable type on a fine quality of paper. It contains educational helps, marginal references, self-pronouncing tests and colored maps. With the six hundred magnificent illustrations which were prepared for this work at an expense of $58,000 are also full-page colored plates from the world-famous Tisnot collection, so it becomes a work of art not to be excelled. Get one now while they last—$1.18.

It is long been said that "seeing is believing." The ear is not to be depended upon. But the eye sees and knows. Its judgment is dependable. The things which make the deepest impression on the mind are those that are seen; things that pass to the mind through the "eye gates" are not soon forgot; and the "eye gate" becomes the main channel of information.

Publishers of modern literature take advantage of this and use illustrations, so that the main points of the story or article may be impressed upon the minds of readers through the "eye gates" and thus be permanently established.

In selecting a Bible to present to its readers, the Watchman-Warder found several that set up the claim of being illustrated, but, upon investigation, these were shown to merely contain "pictures" placed at random in the volumes. In the illustrated Bible selected by the Watchman-Warder, it accurately and appropriately portrays the subject matter which it accompanies and makes it clear—illuminates it—gives to it an added interest and an educational value.

The illustrated Bible distributed by The Watchman-Warder is bound in genuine limp leather, is stamped in gold, printed in large readable type on a fine quality of paper. It contains educational helps, marginal references, self-pronouncing tests and colored maps. With the six hundred magnificent illustrations which were prepared for this work at an expense of $58,000 are also full-page colored plates from the world-famous Tisnot collection, so it becomes a work of art not to be excelled. Get one now while they last—$1.18.

It is long been said that "seeing is believing." The ear is not to be depended upon. But the eye sees and knows. Its judgment is dependable. The things which make the deepest impression on the mind are those that are seen; things that pass to the mind through the "eye gates" are not soon forgot; and the "eye gate" becomes the main channel of information.

Publishers of modern literature take advantage of this and use illustrations, so that the main points of the story or article may be impressed upon the minds of readers through the "eye gates" and thus be permanently established.

In selecting a Bible to present to its readers, the Watchman-Warder found several that set up the claim of being illustrated, but, upon investigation, these were shown to merely contain "pictures" placed at random in the volumes. In the illustrated Bible selected by the Watchman-Warder, it accurately and appropriately portrays the subject matter which it accompanies and makes it clear—illuminates it—gives to it an added interest and an educational value.

The illustrated Bible distributed by The Watchman-Warder is bound in genuine limp leather, is stamped in gold, printed in large readable type on a fine quality of paper. It contains educational helps, marginal references, self-pronouncing tests and colored maps. With the six hundred magnificent illustrations which were prepared for this work at an expense of $58,000 are also full-page colored plates from the world-famous Tisnot collection, so it becomes a work of art not to be excelled. Get one now while they last—$1.18.

It is long been said that "seeing is believing." The ear is not to be depended upon. But the eye sees and knows. Its judgment is dependable. The things which make the deepest impression on the mind are those that are seen; things that pass to the mind through the "eye gates" are not soon forgot; and the "eye gate" becomes the main channel of information.

Publishers of modern literature take advantage of this and use illustrations, so that the main points of the story or article may be impressed upon the minds of readers through the "eye gates" and thus be permanently established.

In selecting a Bible to present to its readers, the Watchman-Warder found several that set up the claim of being illustrated, but, upon investigation, these were shown to merely contain "pictures" placed at random in the volumes. In the illustrated Bible selected by the Watchman-Warder, it accurately and appropriately portrays the subject matter which it accompanies and makes it clear—illuminates it—gives to it an added interest and an educational value.

The illustrated Bible distributed by The Watchman-Warder is bound in genuine limp leather, is stamped in gold, printed in large readable type on a fine quality of paper. It contains educational helps, marginal references, self-pronouncing tests and colored maps. With the six hundred magnificent illustrations which were prepared for this work at an expense of $58,000 are also full-page colored plates from the world-famous Tisnot collection, so it becomes a work of art not to be excelled. Get one now while they last—$1.18.

It is long been said that "seeing is believing." The ear is not to be depended upon. But the eye sees and knows. Its judgment is dependable. The things which make the deepest impression on the mind are those that are seen; things that pass to the mind through the "eye gates" are not soon forgot; and the "eye gate" becomes the main channel of information.

Publishers of modern literature take advantage of this and use illustrations, so that the main points of the story or article may be impressed upon the minds of readers through the "eye gates" and thus be permanently established.

In selecting a Bible to present to its readers, the Watchman-Warder found several that set up the claim of being illustrated, but, upon investigation, these were shown to merely contain "pictures" placed at random in the volumes. In the illustrated Bible selected by the Watchman-Warder, it accurately and appropriately portrays the subject matter which it accompanies and makes it clear—illuminates it—gives to it an added interest and an educational value.

The illustrated Bible distributed by The Watchman-Warder is bound in genuine limp leather, is stamped in gold, printed in large readable type on a fine quality of paper. It contains educational helps, marginal references, self-pronouncing tests and colored maps. With the six hundred magnificent illustrations which were prepared for this work at an expense of $58,000 are also full-page colored plates from the world-famous Tisnot collection, so it becomes a work of art not to be excelled. Get one now while they last—$1.18.

It is long been said that "seeing is believing." The ear is not to be depended upon. But the eye sees and knows. Its judgment is dependable. The things which make the deepest impression on the mind are those that are seen; things that pass to the mind through the "eye gates" are not soon forgot; and the "eye gate" becomes the main channel of information.

Publishers of modern literature take advantage of this and use illustrations, so that the main points of the story or article may be impressed upon the minds of readers through the "eye gates" and thus be permanently established.

In selecting a Bible to present to its readers, the Watchman-Warder found several that set up the claim of being illustrated, but, upon investigation, these were shown to merely contain "pictures" placed at random in the volumes. In the illustrated Bible selected by the Watchman-Warder, it accurately and appropriately portrays the subject matter which it accompanies and makes it clear—illuminates it—gives to it an added interest and an educational value.

The illustrated Bible distributed by The Watchman-Warder is bound in genuine limp leather, is stamped in gold, printed in large readable type on a fine quality of paper. It contains educational helps, marginal references, self-pronouncing tests and colored maps. With the six hundred magnificent illustrations which were prepared for this work at an expense of $58,000 are also full-page colored plates from the world-famous Tisnot collection, so it becomes a work of art not to be excelled. Get one now while they last—$1.18.

It is long been said that "seeing is believing." The ear is not to be depended upon. But the eye sees and knows. Its judgment is dependable. The things which make the deepest impression on the mind are those that are seen; things that pass to the mind through the "eye gates" are not soon forgot; and the "eye gate" becomes the main channel of information.

Publishers of modern literature take advantage of this and use illustrations, so that the main points of the story or article may be impressed upon the minds of readers through the "eye gates" and thus be permanently established.

In selecting a Bible to present to its readers, the Watchman-Warder found several that set up the claim of being illustrated, but, upon investigation, these were shown to merely contain "pictures" placed at random in the volumes. In the illustrated Bible selected by the Watchman-Warder, it accurately and appropriately portrays the subject matter which it accompanies and makes it clear—illuminates it—gives to it an added interest and an educational value.

The illustrated Bible distributed by The Watchman-Warder is bound in genuine limp leather, is stamped in gold, printed in large readable type on a fine quality of paper. It contains educational helps, marginal references, self-pronouncing tests and colored maps. With the six hundred magnificent illustrations which were prepared for this work at an expense of $58,000 are also full-page colored plates from the world-famous Tisnot collection, so it becomes a work of art not to be excelled. Get one now while they last—$1.18.

It is long been said that "seeing is believing." The ear is not to be depended upon. But the eye sees and knows. Its judgment is dependable. The things which make the deepest impression on the mind are those that are seen; things that pass to the mind through the "eye gates" are not soon forgot; and the "eye gate" becomes the main channel of information.

Publishers of modern literature take advantage of this and use illustrations, so that the main points of the story or article may be impressed upon the minds of readers through the "eye gates" and thus be permanently established.

In selecting a Bible to present to its readers, the Watchman-Warder found several that set up the claim of being illustrated, but, upon investigation, these were shown to merely contain "pictures" placed at random in the volumes. In the illustrated Bible selected by the Watchman-Warder, it accurately and appropriately portrays the subject matter which it accompanies and makes it clear—illuminates it—gives to it an added interest and an educational value.

The illustrated Bible distributed by The Watchman-Warder is bound in genuine limp leather, is stamped in gold, printed in large readable type on a fine quality of paper. It contains educational helps, marginal references, self-pronouncing tests and colored maps. With the six hundred magnificent illustrations which were prepared for this work at an expense of $58,000 are also full-page colored plates from the world-famous Tisnot collection, so it becomes a work of art not to be excelled. Get one now while they last—$1.18.

It is long been said that "seeing is believing." The ear is not to be depended upon. But the eye sees and knows. Its judgment is dependable. The things which make the deepest impression on the mind are those that are seen; things that pass to the mind through the "eye gates" are not soon forgot; and the "eye gate" becomes the main channel of information.

Publishers of modern literature take advantage of this and use illustrations, so that the main points of the story or article may be impressed upon the minds of readers through the "eye gates" and thus be permanently established.

In selecting a Bible to present to its readers, the Watchman-Warder found several that set up the claim of being illustrated, but, upon investigation, these were shown to merely contain "pictures" placed at random in the volumes. In the illustrated Bible selected by the Watchman-Warder, it accurately and appropriately portrays the subject matter which it accompanies and makes it clear—illuminates it—gives to it an added interest and an educational value.

The illustrated Bible distributed by The Watchman-Warder is bound in genuine limp leather, is stamped in gold, printed in large readable type on a fine quality of paper. It contains educational helps, marginal references, self-pronouncing tests and colored maps. With the six hundred magnificent illustrations which were prepared for this work at an expense of $58,000 are also full-page colored plates from the world-famous Tisnot collection, so it becomes a work of art not to be excelled. Get one now while they last—$1.18.

It is long been said that "seeing is believing." The ear is not to be depended upon. But the eye sees and knows. Its judgment is dependable. The things which make the deepest impression on the mind are those that are seen; things that pass to the mind through the "eye gates" are not soon forgot; and the "eye gate" becomes the main channel of information.

Publishers of modern literature take advantage of this and use illustrations, so that the main points of the story or article may be impressed upon the minds of readers through the "eye gates" and thus be permanently established.

In selecting a Bible to present to its readers, the Watchman-Warder found several that set up the claim of being illustrated, but, upon investigation, these were shown to merely contain "pictures" placed at random in the volumes. In the illustrated Bible selected by the Watchman-Warder, it accurately and appropriately portrays the subject matter which it accompanies and makes it clear—illuminates it—gives to it an added interest and an educational value.

The illustrated Bible distributed by The Watchman-Warder is bound in genuine limp leather, is stamped in gold, printed in large readable type on a fine quality of paper. It contains educational helps, marginal references, self-pronouncing tests and colored maps. With the six hundred magnificent illustrations which were prepared for this work at an expense of $58,000 are also full-page colored plates from the world-famous Tisnot collection, so it becomes a work of art not to be excelled. Get one now while they last—$1.18.

It is long been said that "seeing is believing." The ear is not to be depended upon. But the eye sees and knows. Its judgment is dependable. The things which make the deepest impression on the mind are those that are seen; things that pass to the mind through the "eye gates" are not soon forgot; and the "eye gate" becomes the main channel of information.

Publishers of modern literature take advantage of this and use illustrations, so that the main points of the story or article may be impressed upon the minds of readers through the "eye gates" and thus be permanently established.

In selecting a Bible to present to its readers, the Watchman-Warder found several that set up the claim of being illustrated, but, upon investigation, these were shown to merely contain "pictures" placed at random in the volumes. In the illustrated Bible selected by the Watchman-Warder, it accurately and appropriately portrays the subject matter which it accompanies and makes it clear—illuminates it—gives to it an added interest and an educational value.

The illustrated Bible distributed by The Watchman-Warder is bound in genuine limp leather, is stamped in gold, printed in large readable type on a fine quality of paper. It contains educational helps, marginal references, self-pronouncing tests and colored maps. With the six hundred magnificent illustrations which were prepared for this work at an expense of $58,000 are also full-page colored plates from the world-famous Tisnot collection, so it becomes a work of art not to be excelled. Get one now while they last—$1.18.

It is long been said that "seeing is believing." The ear is not to be depended upon. But the eye sees and knows. Its judgment is dependable. The things which make the deepest impression on the mind are those that are seen; things that pass to the mind through the "eye gates" are not soon forgot; and the "eye gate" becomes the main channel of information.

Publishers of modern literature take advantage of this and use illustrations, so that the main points of the story or article may be impressed upon the minds of readers through the "eye gates" and thus be permanently established.

In selecting a Bible to present to its readers, the Watchman-Warder found several that set up the claim of being illustrated, but, upon investigation, these were shown to merely contain "pictures" placed at random in the volumes. In the illustrated Bible selected by the Watchman-Warder, it accurately and appropriately portrays the subject matter which it accompanies and makes it clear—illuminates it—gives to it an added interest and an educational value.

The illustrated Bible distributed by The Watchman-Warder is bound in genuine limp leather, is stamped in gold, printed in large readable type on a fine quality of paper. It contains educational helps, marginal references, self-pronouncing tests and colored maps. With the six hundred magnificent illustrations which were prepared for this work at an expense of $58,000 are also full-page colored plates from the world-famous Tisnot collection, so it becomes a work of art not to be excelled. Get one now while they last—$1.18.

It is long been said that "seeing is believing." The ear is not to be depended upon. But the eye sees and knows. Its judgment is dependable. The things which make the deepest impression on the mind are those that are seen; things that pass to the mind through the "eye gates" are not soon forgot; and the "eye gate" becomes the main channel of information.

Publishers of modern literature take advantage of this and use illustrations, so that the main points of the story or article may be impressed upon the minds of readers through the "eye gates" and thus be permanently established.

In selecting a Bible to present to its readers, the Watchman-Warder found several that set up the claim of being illustrated, but, upon investigation, these were shown to merely contain "pictures" placed at random in the volumes. In the illustrated Bible selected by the Watchman-Warder, it accurately and appropriately portrays the subject matter which it accompanies and makes it clear—illuminates it—gives to it an added interest and an educational value.

The illustrated Bible distributed by The Watchman-Warder is bound in genuine limp leather, is stamped in gold, printed in large readable type on a fine quality of paper. It contains educational helps, marginal references, self-pronouncing tests and colored maps. With the six hundred magnificent illustrations which were prepared for this work at an expense of $58,000 are also full-page colored plates from the world-famous Tisnot collection, so it becomes a work of art not to be excelled. Get one now while they last—$1.18.

It is long been said that "seeing is believing." The ear is not to be depended upon. But the eye sees and knows. Its judgment is dependable. The things which make the deepest impression on the mind are those that are seen; things that pass to the mind through the "eye gates" are not soon forgot; and the "eye gate" becomes the main channel of information.

Publishers of modern literature take advantage of this and use illustrations, so that the main points of the story or article may be impressed upon the minds of readers through the "eye gates" and thus be permanently established.

In selecting a Bible to present to its readers, the Watchman-Warder found several that set up the claim of being illustrated, but, upon investigation, these were shown to merely contain "pictures" placed at random in the volumes. In the illustrated Bible selected by the Watchman-Warder, it accurately and appropriately portrays the subject matter which it accompanies and makes it clear—illuminates it—gives to it an added interest and an educational value.

The illustrated Bible distributed by The Watchman-Warder is bound in genuine limp leather, is stamped in gold, printed in large readable type on a fine quality of paper. It contains educational helps, marginal references, self-pronouncing tests and colored maps. With the six hundred magnificent illustrations which were prepared for this work at an expense of $58,000 are also full-page colored plates from the world-famous Tisnot collection, so it becomes a work of art not to be excelled. Get one now while they last—$1.18.

It is long been said that "seeing is believing." The ear is not to be depended upon. But the eye sees and knows. Its judgment is dependable. The things which make the deepest impression on the mind are those that are seen; things that pass to the mind through the "eye gates" are not soon forgot; and the "eye gate" becomes the main channel of information.

Publishers of modern literature take advantage of this and use illustrations, so that the main points of the story or article may be impressed upon the minds of readers through the "eye gates" and thus be permanently established.

In selecting a Bible to present to its readers, the Watchman-Warder found several that set up the claim of being illustrated, but, upon investigation, these were shown to merely contain "pictures" placed at random in the volumes. In the illustrated Bible selected by the Watchman-Warder, it accurately and appropriately portrays the subject matter which it accompanies and makes it clear—illuminates it—gives to it an added interest and an educational value.

Make Good use of These "Eye Gates"

It has long been said that "seeing is believing." The ear is not to be depended upon. But the eye sees and knows. Its judgment is dependable. The things which make the deepest impression on the mind are those that are seen; things that pass to the mind through the "eye gates" are not soon forgot; and the "eye gate" becomes the main channel of information.

Publishers of modern literature take advantage of this and use illustrations, so that the main points of the story or article may be impressed upon the minds of readers through the "eye gates" and thus be permanently established.

In selecting a Bible to present to its readers, the Watchman-Warder found several that set up the claim of being illustrated, but, upon investigation, these were shown to merely contain "pictures" placed at random in the volumes. In the illustrated Bible selected by the Watchman-Warder, it accurately and appropriately portrays the subject matter which it accompanies and makes it clear—illuminates it—gives to it an added interest and an educational value.

The illustrated Bible distributed by The Watchman-Warder is bound in genuine limp leather, is stamped in gold, printed in large readable type on a fine quality of paper. It contains educational helps, marginal references, self-pronouncing tests and colored maps. With the six hundred magnificent illustrations which were prepared for this work at an expense of $58,000 are also full-page colored plates from the world-famous Tisnot collection, so it becomes a work of art not to be excelled. Get one now while they last—$1.18.

It is long been said that "seeing is believing." The ear is not to be depended upon. But the eye sees and knows. Its judgment is dependable. The things which make the deepest impression on the mind are those that are seen; things that pass to the mind through the "eye gates" are not soon forgot; and the "eye gate" becomes the main channel of information.

Publishers of modern literature take advantage of this and use illustrations, so that the main points of the story or article may be impressed upon the minds of readers through the "eye gates" and thus be permanently established.

APRIL FOOL JOKES

TUESDAY WAS ALL FOOL'S DAY. WHERE YOU FOOLED?

The first day of April caught many unawares Tuesday, and some were the victims of practical jokes. The following conversation took place between a certain citizen and a well-known clothing store man:

"Hello, have you got any large caps?"

"Yes, lot's of them."

"How large?"

"Oh, seven's, and some three-quarter sizes."

"Hardly large enough."

"Well, how large a size do you want?"

"One large enough to fit the head of Ken-st."

"Bang!!!"

The following conversation also took place over the telephone:

"Is that you Mrs. —? Would you like to get a nice fish for dinner?"

"I would be delighted."

"Well, just hold the line a little longer. (Five minutes later) "Hello, Mrs. — Have you got that fish yet?"

"No, not yet."

"Well, —ust hold the line a little longer."

"Bang!!!"

The telephone rang up in a tobacco store to-day. Hello, Mr. Dealer, how are you fixed for pipe stems? Got an A1 stock replied the man of choicest Virginia. Well, said the speaker, I want a large stem for a pipe I have got. What make of a pipe is it? he asked, a bent bowl or straight one? The stand-pipe replied the customer. Bring it down and I'll give you one for nothing he replied.