Romantic Foods

In part of Vermont, it is said, the grooves for chickens and watermelons may be partly due to the love of romance and adventure. A boy who would not steal an apple from a shop would rob an orchard. Let some kind of farmer invite him to help himself, and the peculiar charm of the apple will vanish. Grow your own potatoes, and as your fork brings half a dozen fat fellows to the surface, you feel just as if you had landed a black bass. The chicken-raiser talks of "hunting" eggs. In romance and adventure, which shows itself even in his choice of food.

A woman who before marriage had faith in man that would move mountains may find it handy afterwards to use to keep the household going. It's peculiar that we can't get advice from those from whom we would appreciate it, and always get it from those from whom we don't want it.

Young Boy Fell Down Well and Almost Drowned

The little son of Mr. John Jackson, an employe with the Canadian Cereal and Flour Milling Company, had a narrow escape for life last Friday through falling into an uncovered well, which is on the premises. The little tot, who is about two years of age, had been placed in the carriage by his mother, who was attending to her household duties along about five o'clock last evening, and in her absence some children took the baby out, who crept to the open well and tumbled in. The mother chanced to notice the empty carriage, and instituted a search at once. She was shocked to find the baby floundering around in the well and called for help. A little boy who rendered the first assistance, held the baby over the water, but was unable to lift him out until the advent of Mr. Sam Howe, who arrived in a few minutes and took the child to the surface. The little fellow was unconscious when taken out, and supposed to be dead. Dr. Blanchard was called in, who worked over the youth for two hours, after which time he showed returning life, and this morning it is reported that the mother chanced to notice the empty carriage, and instituted a search at once. She was shocked to find the baby floundering around in the well and called for help.

Dealers Demand "Egg Marks Act" Present Method Of Handling Product Unsatisfactory

That legislation should be passed which would prevent the selling of stale and rotten eggs in the markets of the Province was the opinion of the egg dealers in Ontario, who met a short time ago in the Board of Trade Building, Toronto, and considered the best means whereby the people and merchants could be protected against the purchase of these products when unfit for use. On special invitation, the officials of the Provincial and Dominion Governments were also present. The advisability of adopting a new system whereby due discrimination would be made, according to the quality of the product, was also considered, and the following resolutions passed: "Resolved, that it is the consensus of opinion of those assembled in this meeting that which the Canadian egg trade needs most at the present time is the passage of an egg marks act along similar lines to the fruit marks act. "This to deal with the forbidding of the buying, selling or trading in rotten eggs, and any other legislation and penalties thought advisable to promote the best interests of all concerned. "Resolved, that these egg dealers assembled here unanimously approve of changing the present system of buying eggs to a strictly one of buying on quality basis, after June 1st, 1913, and further approve of not paying for any rotten eggs in our receipts after that date, as it is unlawful."

TO ELIMINATE BAD EGGS. By the passing of an "Egg Marks Act" the meeting hoped to eliminate the present system which prevails, and which means that when bad eggs are found in the cases, there is no recourse for the dealer to take. His system is known as the "egg count" and has prevailed for some years. It means that a dealer is allowed to place a flat rate of one rotten egg in a dozen, and this is the highest grade. In such an arrangement the producer receives no encouragement to improve the quality of his product. It is pointed out that the country storekeepers receive no premium even when particular care is taken to place their shipments upon the final market in the best possible condition. As a matter of fact, the "egg count" is placing a premium on careless and dilatory methods in the production and care of the product.

SALEM CORNERS. Salem Corners, April 14.—Mr. D. McDougall, of Lindsay, spent Sunday with his parents. Miss Clara Byam, of the Lindsay Business College, spent the week end with her parents. Mr. Arthur Tremear spent a few days this week in Montreal. Our teacher, Miss Purdy, spent Saturday in Lindsay. Mrs. John Clark spent a few days last week visiting relatives at Cameron.

Mr. George Ramsey, F. Sinclair, Jas. Thornburn, Wm. Sinclair and John Sam and Hugh Graham spent Saturday in Lindsay. Mrs. Wm. Varcoe gas returned to her home after spending the winter with her daughter, of London, and her son Charles, of Toronto. The basement of the Salem church is undergoing repairs. New "Mental ceiling" is being placed on the ceiling and the walls are to be papered. When complete the Sunday school room will be much improved. Miss Ila Graham, of Lindsay, spent the week end with her parents. Mr. Jas. Thornburn and L. Rodman shipped two carloads of fine cattle to the Montreal market last Friday. Good prices were realized by the farmers for their stock.

The Duchess of Connaught is to undergo another operation. Farmer's Advocate.—This is the time of year when many a shop and office man wishes he were a farmer. It would be a much more progressive world if we reduced the time we give to other people's business.

CURES CAKED UDDERS OVER NIGHT

Saskatchewan Stockman's Experience With Douglas' Egyptian Liniment

The stockman, and more particularly the dairy farmer, has to keep a sharp lookout for caked udders, for he knows how seriously trouble of this kind is likely to affect the milk production of his herd. Mr. W. Robinson, of Ituna, Sask., does not worry about it any more, however, for he has found a quick and certain cure. He says: "I have used your Egyptian Liniment with splendid results. I have had cows caked at night with their udders so badly caked that it was impossible to milk them, but after one application of your Liniment they were ready next morning. Caked udders demand quick action. The safest, wisest plan is to keep a bottle of Douglas' Egyptian Liniment always on hand. 25c. at all dealers. Free sample on request. The ballot is the only tool that the worker has never learned to use to the accomplishment of great things. If a man showed as much celerity about getting home from work as he does asperity about getting to work, his wife would be happy to pardon the latter.

The announcement of the serious illness of Mr. T. Collins, an old and respected resident of Ops, was heard with general regret by his many friends in Lindsay on Sunday morning. The advanced age of the patient leaves his case almost hopeless and gangrene has now set in. His son Rev. J. B. Collins, of Detroit, was on a visit to his father's bedside last week.

All Skin Diseases ARE OCCASIONED BY BAD BLOOD.

No one can expect to be free from some form or other of skin trouble unless the blood is kept in good shape. The blood can easily be purified and the skin disease cured by the use of Burdock Blood Bitters, that old and widely known blood medicine. It has been on the market for over 35 years and its reputation is unrivalled. Mrs. Lillie Mitchell, Guelph, Ont., writes:—"I was troubled with eczema. It always happens. A big sale is put on and exceptional bargains are advertised; many people buy freely, but others put off buying until the bargains are all gone. It happened this in regard to the sale of The Watchman Bibles. Others wishing to secure these $5 Bibles for $1.18 should leave their orders at The Watchman.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

MISSIONARY ENTHUSIASM. The spirit of enthusiasm prevails in the local Protestant congregations, and especially in respect to missions. For some weeks past both the Cambridge-st. Methodists and the Presbyterian churches have been planning and extending their missionary giving, the result being that in both cases campaigns were inaugurated. These have been highly satisfactory, and Monday a canvassing committee of 20 men of the Cambridge-st. Methodist Church succeeded in increasing the yearly giving to missions by about $500, making a total giving to mission work yearly in the above church of about $2,000. It is understood that the Presbyterians have as yet not completed their canvassing, but are meeting with splendid success.
