CEMENT BLAMED FOR WALKS GIVING OUT

Another Brand Will Be Tried This Season — Roadmaking and Gas

On Friday night there was a session of general committees getting ready for Monday night's meeting of council.

Tenders for Cement Last year and previously Star brand cement has been used in the granolithic. At the meeting tenders were opened for this year's supply. Com. Chalmers said that last year some bad cement had been furnished although most of it was good, and he favored trying a few barrels of Imperial.

Tenders were presented by Rathbun, Bryans, Cinnamon and McLennan. An order for 20 barrels of Imperial was given McLennan at $2.60 and for an equal amount of the Star and Rathbun at $2.45.

Ald. Sinclair—Do you attribute the faulty walks to the cement Mr. Chalmers? I see that piece of walk on the south side of Kent-st from William to Lindsay hasn't a crack in it. It is the best walk in town.

Mayor Ingle—It was made of Star cement.

Com. Chalmers—There are no cracks between Francis and Bond and that was Star too. We got some bad barrels.

Ald. O'Reilly—It is gone in front of Forbert's shop.

Com. Chalmers—That was put down late. I will put in more cement this year than last anyway.

Roadmaking

Sometime ago Mr. A. W. Campbell provincial road commissioner was asked to superintend the construction of a sample block of road early in May. At this meeting his reply was read. It said that he could not name till the 15th but his assistant might.

Ald. Touchburn—Chalmers knows more about roads than his assistant.

Ald. Jackson—We need not wait till then to begin. The foundations ought to be made before he comes anyway.

Ald. Touchburn—The sewer will do for an undrain on Lindsay-st.

Ald. Sinclair—No. Its too deep down.

Ald. Touchburn—That is all the better. The deeper down the more area it will drain.

Ald. Sinclair—You don't want to drain a big area; you want to keep the water from under the roadway and the sewer is too deep.

Com. Chalmers—Give me a block of street to build and see how I get along.

Mayor Ingle—Very well, as long as you keep to Campbell's plan.

Com. Chalmers—All right; Campbell is not practical, but his theory is very good.

Ald. Touchburn—Campbell would not advise us to underdrain all of our streets. Some don't need it.

Ald. O'Reilly—He said a'l when he was here.

Some Letters

Minister Stratton wrote that he had referred the floating bridge matter to the Commissioner of Public Works.

Mose Grozelle asked for a two-plank walk to his place but can't get it.

A letter from Stewart and O'Connor threatened action if breaking stone on Melbourne caused citizens there any annoyance or injury.

Ald. Touchburn—I told Mr. Weese that if the noise alarmed his horses at the barn there, we would pay to have them stabled elsewhere, while the work was going on. Those people want to put the town to the expense of moving the stone again. It would not annoy the horses.

Ald. Hore—Yes it would.

Ald. Touchburn—Ald. Sinclair put up with it for years without kicking.

Mayor Ingle—Your streets would not be much use but for the farmers. Nothing was decided.

Applications were received from E. McMahon, F. Bartlett, Peterboro, and F. Mullen, Toronto, for the position of sewer inspector.

The Streets and G. T. R.

The G.T.R. has renewed its request that Sioux, Wolfe and River-sts. be closed. That was discussed in 1899.

Mayor Ingle—Mr. Tiffin says they have been well used by Lindsay but they need more room and must have it somewhere. They may have to move their men to Midland and run grain trains through from there.

Ald. Sinclair—They will anyway if it suits them.

Mayor Ingle—They do not ask that Duke-st be closed now.

Ald. O'Reilly—What about Kent-st?

Gas Again

Mr. Steers solicitor for the promoters and Mr. H. Flaville, the only one of the Board of Trade committee to appear, were present. Mr. Steers said that Mr. Pattison had declined to say what sum he would expend or the price of gas.

Ald. Jackson—Then we needn't waste time.

Ald. O'Reilly—Why?

Ald. Jackson—Because the country is full of promoters and we don't want this thing dangling in the air for 6 months, so we had better settle it now.

Ald. O'Reilly—It is not likely another company will ask for the franchise in 6 months. It is not business to turn this thing down so quickly.

Mr. Flaville—The Board of Trade got the idea that there had been a certain amount of friction between Mr. Pattison and the council. We thought something might be done by negotiating. There is always room for some other proposition than the rejected one. The town wants a fair bargain but it is a serious thing to approach capital with a contract that has too many conditions.

Ald. Jackson—There are railway charters enough to reach to Mars hung up all over the country. We want nobody speculating on a franchise that may be of value to the town any day.

Mr. Flaville—Perhaps a couple of members could discuss the matter with Mr. Pattison. There seems to have been tension between the council and him.

Ald. Touchburn—There was not.

Mr. Steers—Mr. Pattison thought so.

Ald. O'Reilly—He had reason to.

Ald. Robson—Why had he?

Ald. O'Reilly—Because he could not get a word in edgeways for the town solicitor. He is employed to advise us on points of law and not to dictate to us what we shall do.

Instead of that he puts what he wants into our mouths. He should listen and find out what we want and then put our wishes into legal form. You know he talked straight ahead till I set him back and the mayor had to ask him to ease off. It was the same way when we met the electric light people. We sat here with our mouths shut and listened to Stewart and Hopkins.

Mr. Steers—If Mr. Pattison will name a satisfactory amount that he will spend, would you give him the lighting of the public buildings?

Ald. Jackson—We shall have to get light before six months or be tarred and feathered.

Mr. Steers—If you put in your own plant we would not ask for the contract. If you encourage the plant, it will be here soon.

Mr. Steers agreed to ask Mr. Pattison next morning if he would guarantee an expenditure of $10,000.

The Insurance Rates

Speaking of the demands of the Underwriters' Association and the proposal to make costly addition to our fire system to keep the rate of insurance down, Mr. D. R. Anderson said recently—"I was in Port Hope the other day was telling a business man there about the things we were considering. He replied that Port Hope had had a similar experience and had gone to the expense of putting in a fine fire-fighting department. They got two teams and all the appliances asked for. When that was done the rates were not lowered nor had they reaped any advantage with the association. Lindsay should get a definite guarantee from the association that certain improvements will result in corresponding advantages before they spend a lot of money on the department."

RICH RED BLOOD

Absolutely Necessary to Health and Strength.

If you want to be well care of the blood. The blood is aptly termed the vital fluid, and it is through it that every organ and every nerve of the body is nourished. If the blood becomes impoverished, the entire system is in danger of a breakdown, and what is termed anaemia, general debility, or even consumption may be the result. Prudent people occasionally take a tonic for the purpose of keeping the blood pure, but the unwell are those to whom this article is chiefly valuable, as it will point out an easy and speedy means to renewed health. Mrs. Joseph Herbert, who keeps a grocery at the corner of St. Germain and Hermoine streets, St. Sauveur, Que., tells the following story of broken health and renewed vigor: "I suffered for many months," said Mrs. Herbert, "from an impoverished condition of the blood, coupled with extreme nervousness. I was very pale and felt languid and indisposed to exertion. A dizzy sensation on arising quickly from a chair, or coming downstairs, often troubled me. The least exercise would leave me almost out of breath, and my heart would palpitate violently, while at other times I would feel a smothering sensation. Often my face and arms would swell and puff, and the arms became almost useless. I doctored more or less for the trouble but did not get any real benefit until I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I had been using the pills only a few weeks when I found myself growing stronger and better in every way. I continued taking the pills for nearly three months—I was determined the cure would be thorough—but sometime before I discontinued using them I felt in better health than I have enjoyed for years before. My sleep is now healthful and refreshing, my appetite excellent, and I feel equal to almost any exertion. I feel that I owe all this to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and it will always give me pleasure to recommend them."

It is the mission of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to make rich, red blood, nourish the nerves, tissues and various organs of the body, and thus by reaching the root of the trouble drive disease from the system. Other medicines act only upon the symptoms of the disease, and when such medicines are discontinued the trouble returns—often in an aggravated form. If you want health and strength be sure and get the genuine with the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People" on the wrapper around every box. If your dealer cannot supply you the pills will be sent post paid at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Trekking Wagon.

The South African wagon is a long, heavy cart mounted on four high wheels, as a rule, with a sort of canvas tent over the back half, leaving the front clear to carry the miscellaneous furniture of its owner, drawn by 16, 18 or 20 oxen, curiously fierce looking, with their immense spread of horns, sometimes as much as eight feet from tip to tip and rarely less than six, but in reality as patient and hardworking beasts as one could wish to find.

Their mode of progression is certainly slow, but there are a strangeness and a fascination about it which may draw men to it almost as the Alps draw their devotees. In front there marches the "voor looper," generally a small boy, leading the two foremost oxen by a rein or rope passed through their nostrils.

The driver walks alongside with the long and terrible whip he uses so sparingly or else sits on the front of the wagon and gets off occasionally to lash up the whole team with unflinching impartiality. The traveling is all done at night, starting a little before sunset and marching till perhaps 11 or 12 o'clock; then there is a halt till a little before the first signs of dawn, when they go on again till the sun begins to get hot overhead, and then they lie by for the day.

An Explanation.

"John," said the funny man's wife sternly, "did you write this horrid mother-in-law joke in The Weekly Snicker?"

"Yes, my dear," replied John humbly, "but—"

"Well, I think you are just too mean for anything. Haven't my mother always treated you like her own son?"

"Yes, love, I know she has, 'but then—"

"Don't try to excuse yourself. If I had ever supposed you capable of such baseness, I never should have married you. I don't see how you will be able to look her in the face when she comes to visit us next week."

"You don't understand," said John desperately. "She told me that joke herself, and it will tickle her to death to see it in print."—San Francisco Examiner.

Couldn't Help Saying It.

"Dearest," asked the confiding girl, after her usual manner, "am I really your first and only love?"

"No, darling," said the young druggist, "but you are something just as good."—Indianapolis Journal.
