BEAVERTON

St. Paul's church, Beaverton, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday, 29th ult., at 2 o'clock when Wagona, eldest daughter of Dr. and Mrs. C. Boyerman, was united in marriage with Mr. James F. Hinde of the firm of Hinde & Sons, Harrison.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. Hartley of Windsor, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, assisted by Rev. W. Major of Cannington, rector of the church. The bride was becomingly attired in white organdie, trim-

O'REILLY TAKEN TO TASK

Mayor Sootheran Would Sit in Council With him No Longer Without an Apology

"You must withdraw your offensive remarks, or I shall appeal to the council, and we both cannot sit at this board."

These were the words addressed to Ald. O'Reilly by Mayor Sootheran at Monday night's council meeting. The mayor was demanding that the alderman retract certain expressions that he had used the night the employment of Mr. Jas. McWilliams, as street commissioner, was being discussed.

"When begging for votes at the nomination meeting you pledged yourself to reduce the number of foremen, Mr. Mayor, and now there are more than ever."

"In supporting McWilliams you must have some other motive than the interests of the town."

"These were the sentences to which the mayor objected, and which he demanded withdrawn."

"Are you through Mr. Mayor?" was Ald. O'Reilly's question as His Worship finished stating his position after business was through on Monday night.

"Yes."

"Well then, when I make a statement I do not do it without knowing what I am doing. I have the proof for what I said, but it is not here to-night. Why didn't you bring this up when it happened?"

"This mayor—because I was wrothy and did not want to make a scene like occurred last year. I want you to withdraw your statements. I did not say on the platform what you charged me with, and your remark regarding my supporting McWilliams was insulting."

Ald. O'Reilly—I withdraw nothing. The mayor—Then I appeal to the council. I want the proceedings of this council to be conducted with dignity. I shall try and use every body respectfully. If I ever fall to, I shall promptly apologize. I will give Ald. O'Reilly a little time to consider if he wants it.

Ald. O'Reilly—I ask nothing at your hands. I have never been well treated here. You were at the bottom of a scheme to keep me from getting a chairmanship.

The mayor—Gentlemen, I appeal to you. I had nothing to do with that matter.

Ald. O'Reilly—Ald. McCrae told me you had.

Ald. McCrae—No. The mayor was the last man to know who were to be appointed chairman.

Ald. O'Reilly—You stirred at me Mr. Mayor, when I wanted the change made by you in the walks specifications ratified by council.

The mayor—I did not.

Ald. O'Reilly—Last Friday night you said you would not put a resolution regarding the library site, if I brought it in to-night.

The mayor—Because it could not be brought in without notice; it would not be legal.

Ald. O'Reilly—You charged me with saying you made a commission on the treasurer's guarantee bonds.

The mayor—I did not say. I want you to withdraw the statements I complain of. If you do not, we cannot both sit at the board.

Ald. O'Reilly—Do you want me to resign?

The mayor—I shall appeal to the council to decide between us. I give you a chance now to withdraw.

Ald. O'Reilly—Well, of course, I extend the courtesies.

The mayor—That is satisfactory; I hope we shall not have this repeated.
