LABOR MUST BE KEPT FREE: "NO TYRANNY FROM MEN OR MONEY"

Col. Hughes' Speech in the House on the Subject of Strikes

The Hansard report of Col. Hughes' recent speech on the bill regarding labor troubles is to hand. It breathes the independence and fidelity to the rights of the individual that ever characterize the member for North Victoria. Below is most of the Colonel's address:
The member for Toronto was asked a little while ago what he had done for the people during the eighteen years they were in power. They gave bread and butter to the workmen of Canada. If my memory serves me right, they closed up the soup kitchens that had been open during the regime of hon. gentlemen opposite, and the soup kitchens have never been reopened since the national policy came into force. I cannot agree with one remark made by my hon. friend from Toronto (Mr. Osler), who says that only the permanent corps should be employed to put down riots. I maintain that it is the duty of every citizen of Canada, whenever disorder or disturbance exists in his municipality, to turn out and do his duty in assisting to preserve law and order within the bounds of his own municipality. As a representative of a riding that is not troubled with strikes, I object on behalf of that community to paying any share of the cost of suppressing any disorder that may happen to arise in the city of Montreal, and I should strenuously object to one dollar of the public money of Canada being paid towards a settlement of any strike in Montreal. Let Montreal settle her own strikes.

EO COERCION

So far as unions are concerned, I have always upheld them when they tend to the betterment of the condition of the workmen, or of any other men; when their association tends to make them more temperate, more law abiding, more intelligent, to shorten the hours of labor and develop their home life. But when it comes to a union saying to a man who has to earn his bread and butter: "You shall not take employment under these men, then I maintain that it is the duty of the state to step in and tell the gentlemen of the union who are on strike that they may go a certain distance, but no further.

We have seen suffering on the part of laboring men who are endeavoring honestly to earn their bread and butter, and who do not wish to join these unions under the dictation of a foreign leader or to be controlled by families are hooted at on the streets and otherwise abused. I maintain the time has arrived in this country when the gentlemen of the unions must be taught that while they are at perfect liberty to work or to strike, they must not directly or indirectly interfere with any other man who does not wish to earn his daily bread at whatever wage he can obtain. More than that, if the capitalists become tyrannical they must be controlled likewise by the government of the country. In England, when that great engineer's strike took place a few years ago, the nation lost millions of dollars. Already the Dominion of Canada, by reason of this strike in Montreal, has lost an enormous amount which it will take years for the parties who are engaged in that strike to make up by their operations.

Mr. Kendall—The hon. gentleman says the engineers' strike in England entailed a loss of millions of dollars of British industry. If that is so, would the hon. gentleman tell us how it would measure the loss to the country that was caused by the control of the cotton industry by the factory men of Lancashire for a century.

Mr. Hughes—I shall answer that question later. But I want to point out that I object not only to the tyranny of the labor unions, but to the tyranny of the capitalists. The labor unions in the old land are very tyrannical, and I will give you one instance: A wholesale dealer in the city of Toronto visited Staffordshire a few years ago to purchase a certain brand of crockery, of which there was none in the ordinary line of manufacture. The manufacturer said he could make the crockery for him, but said he must consult the head of the union before he could give him a final answer whether they would manufacture that line or not. Business was not any too good at that time in the old land. The gentleman was notified the next morning that the labor union objected to the manufacture of this class of ware, and the gentleman took his order to Germany, and Britain lost hundreds of thousands of dollars on that transaction alone. So, we find, sir, that these unions may be carried to an extreme just the same as the tyranny of the capital may be carried to an extreme. The only point I rose to make is that while I recognize the right of any laboring man in any part of the Dominion of Canada to strike, I want the gentleman distinctly to understand also that he has to allow any other free man to go and take his place without being molested, and without being hounded from one end of the country to the other, as is being done to-day. The time is not far distant when this sort of thing must be put a stop to. If men seeking to go to their work on the docks are to be hounded to death and trampled in the dirt on the streets of Montreal, it is time the law interfered, and whether it be done by the regular troops or by the militia, it is time the strong hand of the law made it plain to these men that this country must be a law abiding country, and that we must have the law obeyed whether these men be in favor of it or not.

THE MOON CONTROLS RAINFALLS SAYS AUSTRALIAN EXPERT

When it is Travelling South Then is Wet Weather but Northern Trip is Dry

Vancouver, B.C., May 14.—The following mail advices have been received from Australia by the steamer Aoranga, which brought over the largest number of passengers on record. In speaking of the terrible drought still prevailing in Australia, H. C. Russell the government astronomer of Australia, claims to have made the discovery, after long and careful search among astronomical records, that the moon regulates the rain. Astronomers of the different Australian colonies have endorsed Mr. Russell's theory. Mr. Russell says Australia is in for two more years of drought; eight having passed, and in 1905 there will be more rain than Australia wants, and it will continue. Russell says: "I speak positively when I say that I have found that the moon controls the rain. My researches show that in 36 years. Briefly, when the moon is moving south there is plenty of rain, when it is moving north there are years of drought; so there are alternating wet and dry periods, the wet lasting nine years and the dry ten. So that long beforehand preparations can be made for the coming drought." Astronomers the world over are invited to investigate Mr. Russell's assertion. In the meantime the drought situation has become appalling. The weather report for New South Wales shows that since January only 17.828 has fallen. The public funds raised to relieve starving communities aggregates about $250,000. The Lord Mayor's Fund in Sydney has reached $25,000, and is rapidly growing, but the applications for relief are growing for out of proportion to the amounts subscribed.

FARMING WILL BE TAUGHT IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

One School in Each District will Have a Model Plot—Qualified Instructors

(Toronto Star)
The Education Department have come forward with another radical change, this time regarding the rural communities. It is the establishment of a course of scientific agriculture. The plan is to provide two or three acres of land adjacent to the most important school in several districts in each county, and with the addition of about six other schools there will be formed one garden center in each district. The county council will then engage travelling instructors, who must be graduates of the Guelph Agricultural College. Upon the day appointed for the visit of the instructors in the district will meet at the central school, where special practical instruction will be given in elementary forestry, and its relation to agriculture and horticulture, and the physics and chemistry of the soil. The value of this instruction, it is pointed out, lies in its practical characteristics, each pupil being brought in contact with the actual work in the particular branch of study.

The instructors will visit one district each day, and it is expected that with two competent men engaged by the county council, each county will be covered in a week. Each year the different schools will be permitted to exhibit the result of their work at the county fairs and prizes will be donated to the schools making the best showing. By this feature it is expected that keener interest will be taken in this special branch of study and a friendly rivalry will be stimulated.

It is expected that before a year passes at least two counties will be thoroughly organized for this special work, and assurances have been given that the Legislature will grant an appropriation to assist in bringing the work to a high standard of perfection. It has also been stated that this is just the beginning of a broad plan to improve the education system in rural communities, and that in addition to this special course for boys, a domestic science course will be introduced for the benefit of the girls upon a similar plan, where schools will combine and where there will be one center to which girls from several schools will come.

A Young Lady Tells the Torture She Suffered from Rheumatism

Miss Myrtle Major, Hartland, N.B., is one of the thousands who have proved that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will cure rheumatism. Miss Major says: "I suffered from the trouble for nearly a year. I had the advice of a doctor and took his medicine, but the pain I suffered in my ankles, and I was located chiefly in my ankles, and I was quite unable to walk across the room, and for six months I was confined to the house. I used liniments and other medicines prescribed for rheumatism, but they did me no good. Then some of my friends urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I acted on their advice and before I had used three boxes I began to feel better. I took nine boxes of the pills altogether, and before the last box was not a trace of the trouble remained. It is now nearly two years since I took the pills and as there has not been a symptom of the trouble since it proves that the pills make permanent cures."

Stop! Don't Come Too Fast!

Since advertising our Cold Tire Setter we have been kept on the move and can't keep up. All who have tried set with it are delighted. It leaves a fit class wheel as good as new, and it makes a poor wheel better than it was before setting; it is a perfect machine for setting tires.

It sets them cold. It does its work perfect. It does not dish wheels. It does not injure the rims.

McKee wheels are destroyed in setting tires the old way than by the amount driving they get. Forcing out nuts and boring fresh holes in the rims soon ruin the wheels; water gets into the bolt holes and bursts the rims, and the wheels are ruined. Tires are bevelled, rims are scorched and wheels are dished. No two wheels are dished alike.

These things cannot happen when tires are set with the COLD TIRE SETTER. Call and be convinced.
