—Mr. Richard Rich of Mariposa recently sold 26 fat cattle in Toronto at an average price of $10 per hundred. One animal brought the high-water price ever paid for beef of its kind.

—The L. C. I. Literary Society will run their annual excursion per steamer Kenosha to Sandy Lake next Thursday, May 30th. Boat leaves at 8 a.m. sharp. Tickets 40 and 25 cents.

—In this issue there appears Mr. T. C. Matchett's advertisement of C.P.R. Homeseekers' Excursion to the Northwest. These afford a splendid chance to visit the Empire's granary at small cost. The first excursion goes June 6th.

—When in Gananoque the other day delivering a lecture on the Boer war, Hon. Sam Hughes was accosted by a man who was in the Faber's Put down and serving the gun beside which the colonel stood directing fire and refusing to take cover when brought to by his men.

—On Friday night a double-header on the Midland had just left Victoria Junction, north of town, when the front of the first engine dropped, and off the track for some distance. If the accident had happened when the train was running at full speed a very serious accident would likely have resulted.

—A bill has been introduced to the Ontario legislature by the Attorney-General, Hon. J. W. Gibson, providing that incorporated villages may raise money to build local improvements at their own expense without consent of the township. The measure aims to help these villages to get better sidewalks.

—Last week five young men in the north ward were arrested and appeared before P. M. Steers on a charge of interfering with the employes of the Gas Company. One was fined and the whole five severely lectured. It should be a warning to the young men, that Lindsay will not put up with rowdyism, and is bound to put a stop to such outrageous work.

—On Thursday Mr. Walter McWatters had a narrow escape from serious injury, or worse, at the Mill-st. railway crossing. The train backed down on his bake wagon and struck it amidship. At the sound, the horses jumped forward and clear of the rig, which was overturned. Mr. Watters was thrown out, but clear of the track. The team ran to the end of the Flavelle mill.

—On Sunday afternoon Messrs. Charles Jinks and Batoche Terry, sons of Mr. A. B. Terry, were up to the cemetery in a boat. Mr. Terry had a revolver. On the way back he tried to shoot a bird, but the weapon failed to discharge. Jinks examined it up and struck it on the side of the boat. It exploded and the bullet struck Terry beside the knee bone, passed through between the two bones of the leg and lodged in the calf, whence it was extracted at the hospital.

—"Back to any part of town" announced a local cabman as the passengers were getting off a train at the station the other morning. A man stepped into the vehicle and was driven to the bank and several business places, and at last to the home of a friend. Alighting from the hack she cordially thanked its driver for his kindness and was part way up the walk before the nonplussed cabby could get his breath, to declare that she owed him $1.50 ; whereat his astonished passenger turned and chode him severely for deceiving people that way. A compromise was reached.

—Kingston is to have a fountain erected in the city park as a memorial to the late Sir Oliver Mowat. Whig-News : The city solicitor has informed the Works Committee that the city has power to pass a by-law regulating the width of tires and wheels of all vehicles used in the conveyance of goods, wares or merchandise. The by-law would apply to all persons using the highways, whether farmers or citizens .....It seems strange that Toronto should have power to regulate the width of tires used on the streets when the rest of the province has not, and the bill introduced by Mr. S. J. Fox, to have that power general, was dropped by the legislature.

—Mr. Geo. O'Neil, formerly clerk of the Benson House has been appointed chief assistant to the head clerk at the King Edward Hotel, Toronto.

HYMENEAL

TAYLOR—DAVIDSON

The home of Mr. Thos. Davidson, a mile west of Glandine, Mariposa, was the scene of a happy event on Wednesday of last week, when his second daughter Ella, and Mr. Jas. Taylor, of Oakwood, one of the county's most prosperous farmers, were married.

About 40 relatives and intimate friends of the contracting couple witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. W. G. Clarke, B.A., of Little Britain. The bride was supported by her cousin, Miss Maria Davidson. Mr. Porter of Tottenham was best man. The bride was dressed in crepe de chene trimmed with embroidered chiffon, pearls, passementerie and silk lace. She carried a boquet of cream roses. Her maid wore cream silk with applique over pink, and carried pink roses. Miss Florrie Webster played the wedding march.

The groom's gift to the bride was a sunburst of pearls, and to the bridesmaid, a diamond ring.

After the ceremony the congratulations were followed by an address and presentation of a mahogany clock to the bride on behalf of the congregation of Wesley Methodist church, where she had been an active member and organist of the Sunday school and league. The address set forth in the strongest terms the esteem and regard in which Mrs. Taylor was held. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor left on the evening train for Toronto and Buffalo. Congratulations.

Obituary.

WILLIAM HOBBS

Widespread regret is felt on account of the death of Mr. William Hobbs, who died in the Ross Memorial Hospital on Wednesday, May 20th, after an operation performed the evening before. The complaint that made the operation necessary had troubled Mr. Hobbs for years, and his strength was not equal to the shock of the operation.

Deceased was 58 years of age. He was born in Cornwall, Eng., and when a youth came to Canada with his parents who settled near Whitby. For many years he lived in Mariposa, where he formerly engaged in farming, and later kept a store and blacksmith shop at Valentia. Three years ago he came to Lindsay.

Mr. Hobbs was a devout and upright man, a member of the Queen-st. Methodist church, where he sang in the choir, and was very highly esteemed, as he was at Valentia before coming to Lindsay. He leaves a widow and family of three sons and two daughters. The funeral took place on Friday at Shiloh near Valentia.

Among the Churches

—The Sons of England attended worship at the Cambridge-st Methodist church on Sunday night. Rev. G. W. Henderson preached an appropriate sermon from the text : "These things ought ye to have done and not have left the other undone." Mr. Henderson declared that if the church had done its duty, there would not have been so much need for benevolent societies. The man who made no provision for the support of his family in case of death, who himself stepped inside the pearly gates and left his family to step into the poorhouse—this man, declared the preacher, is worse than an infidel.

AT ST. ANDREW'S

On Sunday morning Mr. Brown, Queen's student, preached at St. Andrew's on the same text as a week before, "This one thing I do : forgetting the things that are behind, I press toward the mark," with special reference to the idea of forgetting what is past. Men must forget their early innocence. Beautiful as is the innocence of childhood, it cannot remain. The knowledge of good and evil comes, and with it moral accountability and with that sin and a man must, however regretfully, bid farewell to his childhood innocence. But there is within his reach a greater thing. It is the strenuous life by which evil is overcome and his soul by effort and the grace of God becomes a strong regenerate thing meet for the Kingdom of God. The preacher said that parents should not keep from their children too carefully the knowledge of the evil that is in the world. Better that the child should be guided into it by a loving mother than betrayed into it by a designing scoundrel. Those young people, who, at the age of 18 or 20, went out into the world ignorant of the wickedness in it, were the easiest victims of evil.

Again, men must forget the days and associates of youth. One would fain linger fondly upon memories of the old home and early friends, but time flies and the years come when one shall make few new acquaintances and perhaps no new friends. In these maturer days men must look resolutely forward to the duties of the hour and not dwell upon the past.

Men should forget their mistakes and guilt. They should not give way to remorse ; it does more harm than the sins that cause it. It has filled the monasteries and directed the suicide's weapon. Wrong done is done ; it is irretrievable. Look forward, press on, do better. All human excellence has its goal ahead. The sermon was marked by an optimism and aggressiveness that must have had a good effect upon the audience.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH

—At the Baptist church Rev. L. S. Hughson preached in the morning on "Righteousness exalteth a nation ; but sin is a reproach to any people." At night the text was "Behold, I send you forth as sheep in the midst of wolves ; be ye therefor as wise as serpents and harmless as doves." On the text Mr. Hughson preached a sermon on "The Christian Man as a Citizen." Elsewhere will be found some extracts.

Cannington W. M. S. Convention

The annual W. M. S. convention of the Cannington district of the Methodist church was held in Oakwood, May 19th. Mrs. King, district organizer, presiding. The morning session was devoted to reports from the various auxiliaries. These reports showed an increase both in membership and finances. A number of copies of the Missionary Outlook are taken, but many annual reports. This was emphasized later on in the discussions when it was shown how helpful a thorough study of the report would prove to each member. There are six auxiliaries and one mission band in this district, which have sent to the branch treasurer $218.86. The afternoon session opened with a consecration service led by Mrs. Prouse, Little Britain, after which three papers were given : "How can we help Raise the 5,000 Members ?" by Mrs. Shipman, Cannington ; "How can we Increase our Finances," by Mrs Sloan of Little Britain, and "What can we do to Improve our Meetings?" by Mrs. Park Wilfrid. These papers were obviously the outcome, not of theory, but practice, showing the need of more information and of personal interest before we can interest others. These papers were followed by a round table conference, led by Mrs. Joliffe, Cannington. One pleasing feature was the presence of Mrs. Platt of Ficton, who gave an address both afternoon and evening full of interest and practical suggestions. The addresses were interspersed with music. The convention was brought to a close after a few encouraging remarks by Rev. G. R. Clare, Oakwood.

THE KING'S PLATE THIS YEAR BELONGS TO DYMENT, BARRIE

Thesalon and Nesto of the Up-Country Town the Horses of the Hour

The result of the race for the King's Plate at Toronto last Saturday was a surprise. The trophy so long won by the Seagram and Hendrie stables was wrested from them by a Barrie runner. In fact in that event the two horses, Thesalon and Nesto, owned by Mr. N. Dyment of Barrie came home ahead of all competitors and won first and second in Ontario's greatest racing event. The governor-general who witnessed the race congratulated Mr. Dyment on the result. A regrettable incident was the breakdown of Fly-in-Amber, one of Seagram's runners, and a great favorite. She had to be shot. Of the race the Globe says :

Then the barrier flew up, the gong rang, the trumpet sounded, and they were away on their eventful journey. Jack Canuck and Fly-in-Amber were the first to break, but once the horses settled to running the Dyment pair, Thessalon and Nesto, drew to the front. They led the thundering squadron to the judges' stand and the first quarter of a mile in 24½ seconds, and then the race was really over, so far as the contest was concerned. The bearers of the green and orange jackets made their own pace, and led from end to end. Their superiority was never threatened, and there was no struggle except between themselves, for first and second money. The Dyment horses had that to themselves, and the others had the battle for third place alone. Fly-in-Amber, the popular choice, never got further than the first furlong, where she broke down so badly that Jockey Sims pulled up and dismounted, only to find that the mare's leg was broken so badly that she had to be destroyed.

Around the lower turn the horses raced with all eyes following them so intently that the accident to Fly-in-Amber was not noticed till the field entered the back stretch. Marston Moor occupied third place going down past the stand, but around the lower turn he lost his place, and Cardigan succeeded him. Up to the half-mile ground they went in that order, the Dyment pair striding along in front under restraint, while behind them the others were racing and riding. Cardigan held on till rounding the top turn, where Jenkins asked him to do better, but he had run his distance and made no response to his rider's efforts. Maple Sugar showed after going about three-quarters of a mile something of the form expected, but it was only a flash and was soon gone. Golden Crest, though, had something left, and when Flint moved up the others could not stand him off, and he swung into the stretch in third place. Thessalon was just leading Nesto and Golden Crest was three lengths away. In the run home Johnny Daly sat down on Nesto to go to the front, but Castro didn't mean to be second if his mount could be first, and he let out a link on the black fellow. Daly tried hard with Nesto, but public racing reversed private form, and though Nesto was hard ridden he could not get closer than within three lengths of Thessalon at the finish. Golden Crest was a good third, Hawkins fourth and Picktime fifth, with the others strung out a furlong. War Medal was the first of the Seagram three to get home. Maple Sugar, Farmer's Foe and Perfect Dream were big disappointments.

The time of the race was 2.15½, quite a bit slower than some trainers had expected, but running in the morning where a horse can pick his own going and lay close on the rail all the way is a different business from racing in a big field of horses.

Methodist District Meeting

The clerical session of the Lindsay district of the Methodist church was held in the Cambridge-st Methodist church on Wednesday of last week. Rev. Geo. Brown of Omemee, chairman of the district, presided. Rev. C. E. Cragg S. T. L. of Halfburton was elected secretary.

Probationers Maunders of Bobcaygeon, Tink of Wilberforce and Roland of Stanhope were examined by the chairman as to their faith and practice, and gave satisfactory replies.

On Thursday the clergy were joined by the lay delegates. When discussing the request of the governors of the Ross Hospital, that on next Sunday a collection should be taken for that institution, Rev. A. J. Terrill, B.A. of Cambray declared that editorials in the Lindsay press had prejudiced the public against giving to the hospital and hence the meeting should adopt a resolution heartily endorsing the request of the governors. His brethern, however, turned down this well-meant suggestion, contending that they had nothing to do with the views of the press but only to take the collection or otherwise as they saw fit.

A communication from Norland circuit asked that it be relieved of Kinmount for the sake of compactness. Kinmount Methodism has gone backward of late. A few years ago a married man was stationed there; but recently the parsonage was sold with the intention of applying the proceeds $750 on a new church. Now the contributions of that charge are so small that Norland wants it cut off. Norland is in the Cannington district, and Kinmount was added to that district on the advice of Rev. Mr. Manning, B. A., when he was pastor of Cambridge-st Methodist and chairman of the district. On Thursday Rev. E. Roberts, superannuate, criticised Mr. Manning's action, but was not sustained by the meeting.

There were no new candidates for the ministry. It was remarked that a scarcity of new men is arising. Rev. Mr. Roberts believed a resolution of conference a few years ago saying that too many were offering was to blame for that, and his colleagues concurred. At all events, the supply of young men is becoming a serious problem in the Methodist ministry.

Artificial Limbs.

Artificial legs and arms are made so perfectly these days that it is absolutely impossible to tell that some people are wearing them. Artificial legs are made so that the lower part has all the action of the human foot and are made to wear the same size shoe as the opposite foot. The shoe on the real foot will wear out in half the time the one on the artificial one, which is said to be due to the heat from the real member. Artificial hands are made so that the owner can pick up a pin. Hard to believe, isn't it? But there is a magnet in the end of the artificial hand.

Very Mild Tea.

The late Augustus Hare was fond of relating an amusing incident which illustrated the absentmindedness of his cousin, Dean Stanley, and Dr. Jowett. Both were quite devoid of either taste or smell, and for some reason both were inordinately fond of tea. One morning they had each drunk eight cups, when suddenly, as Jowett rose from his table, he exclaimed: "Good gracious! I forgot to put the tea in!" Neither had noticed the emission as he sipped his favorite beverage.

Considerate Johnnie.

"Johnnie," said his mother threateningly to the incorrigible, "I am going to have your father whip you when he comes home tonight."

"Please don't, mamma," replied Johnnie penitently. "Pa is always so tired when he comes home."

The Best Sort.

Willie—Pa, what is a "preferred creditor" anyway?

Pa—A preferred creditor, my son, is one who doesn't bother us much with his bill.

Anderson's Cold Tire Setter

Since advertising our Cold Tire Setter we have been kept on the move and can't keep up. All who have tires set with it are delighted. It leaves a first-class wheel as good as new, and it makes a poor wheel better than it was before setting; it is a perfect machine for setting tires.

It sets them cold. It does its work perfect. It does not dish wheel It does not injure the rims.

More wheels are destroyed in setting tires the old way than by the amount driving they get. Forcing out nuts and boring fresh holes in the rims soon ruin the wheels; water gets into the bolt holes and bursts the rims, and the the wheels are ruined. Tires are bevelled, rims are scorched and wheels are dished. No two wheels are dished alike.

These things cannot happen when tires are set with the COLD TIRE SETTER. Call and be convinced.

R. KYLIE, Lindsay
