Much distress is caused to a good many people during the spring cleaning season by the smell of paint. A sensible precaution to take, says the "Lancet" is to leave bowls of water in the room. Some at any rate of the paint emanations are thus absorbed as will be seen by the oily film on the surface of the water so exposed. An even more powerful absorbent is fresh milk, which reduces the smell of paint in rooms in a remarkable way.

Next Sunday the annual collection will be taken in all the churches for the benefit of the Ross Memorial Hospital. That the congregations will give liberally should be a foregone conclusion, as the object is one of the most deserving and should be given the heartiest and most generous support. While such a call comes in this form only once a year, the grand work of the hospital is seen, and its influence noticed on every day in the year.

On Saturday afternoon during the electrical storm, the barns of Mr. John McCarrroll, of Family, were struck by lightning, and burned to the ground. Mr. McCarrroll was probably the heaviest loser in the vicinity, as both barns, which were frame, were destroyed, together with a number of bees, and a quantity of hay. Luckily as the fire had just started, the Omemee football team have in sight and assisted the owner in getting out everything except the above mentioned things. The barns were almost new so that the owner's loss will be considerable.

AGRICULTURAL CLASSES ADDED.

LINDSAY COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE TO HAVE THIS DEPARTMENT OF STUDY.

At a special meeting of the Board of Education on Monday evening, it was decided, on motion of Mr. D. Flaville, seconded by Mr. A. Jackson, that the proposition of the Ontario Government to establish a department in connection with the Collegiate Institute for the purpose of teaching scientific agriculture be approved and accepted.

The meeting was well attended, all the members being present except Dr. White.

Chairman Stewart, in opening, said that it had been impossible to get the County Council together to go into the matter with that body, as desired at the last meeting of the Board. The Government would appoint the six teachers by June 1st, and it was absolutely necessary that the Board give a decision at once regarding the matter. While he would like to have had more time for consideration, he felt it would be a mistake to turn the proposition down, particularly as the risk was small for the Board.

Principal Harstone, of the L. C. I., said that class room could be given in the Collegiate, and also quarters for experimental work. AA building for blacksmithing and other features of the course would, however, be necessary.

Mr. Cornish, Science Master, said that arrangements could be made for the use of the laboratory for experiments.

Mr. J. D. Flaville outlined the proposition and course, as referred to previously in these columns. Mr. Flaville advocated a progressive policy in the matter, and explained the opportunity that was opened to Lindsay by the proposition. He believed it was a splendid scheme, of advantage in many ways to Lindsay, but also to the whole county. He believed the County Council would give it hearty support if it was properly explained to them. It was of special value to the rural sections. He thought the proposition should be dealt with on its merits, and was well worthy of a trial. The Government was anxious to make a success of the six institutions and would give every assistance. He explained that the loss from the classes, the proportion which the County would be required by law, and the grant from the Government left so little risk, that he was heartily in favor of adopting the plan.

Mr. Jackson spoke along similar lines. He thought it unwise to turn the plan down now, for there would then be an end of it. He believed it would be safe to take chances with the County Council.

Mr. A. B. McIntyre thought the risk small in proportion to the benefits.

Mr. Carey was in favor of the plan and believed it well worth a trial.

Dr. Walters said: "If the Government will risk $1000 on the plan for us, surely we can afford to risk a small amount, with good chances of getting it all and more back."

Mr. J. G. Edwards was in favor of the motion, thinking the risk not great enough to drop the matter.

Mr. Staples felt satisfied that the County Council would give proper support if a strong deputation waited on them.

Dr. Blanchard regretted the shortness of time allowed, to investigate and he was afraid the County Council would not give due support.

Mr. J. W. Anderson was not in favor of the proposition. He said it would not benefit the town, but the County, and he thought the Lindsay Board should not expend money for a purpose which would do nothing for the town. Unless liberal help was forthcoming from the County he would not support the motion.

Mr. D. B. Anderson thought the matter needed more consideration. He did not believe the County Council would favor the plan. Several farmers he had spoken to about the matters were against it.

In reply to a question, Principal Harstone said the presence of the class would be an advantage, he thought. The older pupils brought to the C. I. by such classes would have a good influence on the younger ones. When there were more older pupils in attendance at school, as was the case some years ago, he thought the order and work of the school was influenced by their attendance.

The question on being voted on was carried, only a couple of members not voting in favor of it.

So as to be prepared to approach the County Council properly it was moved by Mr. J. Staples, seconded by Mr. McWatters, that the whole Board of Education wait on the County Council at its next meeting, and that the Government be asked to send a suitable person or persons to assist in impressing on the County Council the advisability of giving support in maintaining an Agricultural Department in connection with the Lindsay Collegiate Institute.

MR. GOUGH'S STORE TO BE CLOSED.

ALTERATIONS AND EXTENSIONS WILL NECESSITATE THIS FOR TWO WEEKS.

Owing to the expiration of the lease held on his present premises, and the special conditions upon which the new lease is being secured, namely: the complete remodelling of the building, taking up of the floors, and fitting throughout with the most modern store fixtures, and equipment, Mr. B. J. Gough, the Clothier, has a large contract on his hands that he is meeting with his usual enterprise. The contractors have insisted that the store must be closed up for about two weeks and the stock removed. This is imperative in view of the nature and extent of the improvements to be made. Yet Mr. Gough's store is packed with the latest spring and summer goods, and it is impossible to secure other premises large enough to accommodate the stock. It looked like a hard proposition, but it requires something harder than this to beat Mr. Gough.

Mr. Gough has decided to move the whole of his $40,000 stock of spring and summer suits, top coats, rain-coats, hats, furnishings, everything. And a glance at his full page advertisement in this issue on page six will give some slight idea of how he intends to move them. He has cut up prices, certainly, on his fine stock, and it would be mighty profitable for those desiring goods in his line to call and help in this kind of a moving.

When he moves back to his premises after the repairs and alterations are made he will have one of the finest business places between Toronto and Montreal, probably the finest in his line.
