Prophets Foresee Record Wheat Crop Already

THREE METHODS OF FARMING IN THE WEST.

WHILE FARMERS ARE BUSY OTHER SPHERES SHOW GREAT ACTIVITY TOO—MILLERS PREPARING FOR LARGE HARVEST BY PLANTING EXTENSIONS AND NEW ELEVATORS—TRANSPORTATION COMPANIES ORDER ADDITIONAL FREIGHT CARS AND INCREASE OCEAN GOING AND INLAND FLEETS OF STEAMERS.

Montreal, April 28.—While, at this early date, there is absolutely no possible way of making a definite statement, it is estimated by the seers and prophets that the field crop of Canada for 1911 will be by far the largest in the history of the country. Everybody expects this, everybody is looking forward to it, but everybody is basing his or her judgment on the signs of the times which to-day are paramount, but which, when harvest time comes, will be ancient history. It is not lively, however, that the seers and prophets are far wrong, and, all things considered, it is safe to assume that Canada as a whole may bank on taking out of the ground this year more money than it ever has before, far eclipsing the banner years of the past decade. External evidence, as the book worms say, can alone be quoted to support this statement at the present time, as the direct evidence will not be coming along until the harvest itself arrives but, the external evidence in this case, is all sufficient an acute weighty enough to be worthy of consideration.

One man in every dozen of Canada's population is a farmer. The figures, especially to those of us who live in the city, are somewhat surprising. Nearly four million of Canada's total population of eight million or thereabouts, are dependent upon farming operations for support. At this season of the year every Man Jack Farmer is busily engaged, in one stage or another, in growing something. He's been lying low and taking it easy all winter, but he's out with the birds now and he's beating the sun to breakfast every morning. Most of these gentlemen are devoting their energies to raising wheat. Dollar wheat, with its unlimited market, is attracting more people back to the soil than all the other agricultural cries put together. If a farmer threshes out a good wheat crop his troubles are over for a long time to come, and the farmers this year will have more acres under the wheat crop than ever before.

Canada has the largest consecutive wheat field in the world, nine hundred miles long by three hundred miles wide. Last year she took a crop off this area of about a hundred and fifty million bushels. There were 8,376,949 acres under cultivation. This year it is estimated that there will be well over 9,000,000 acres ploughed and sown, and that the total crop will beat the figures of 1910 by about thirty three per cent. This is a large gain for so short a time as a twelvemonth, but, when you come to figure it out, it does not seem at all impregnable. Immigrants have been swarming in as never before. They will break virgin soil and, in most cases, will put it to wheat. New lines of railways will be in operation this spring, giving hundreds of settlers their first opportunity to get their entire crop to market. Old farmers, who in the past have devoted only a part of their time to raising wheat will, this year, neglect other crops and turn their ears to the magic syren call: "Dollar Wheat".

This increase in the crop is, of course, going to be of huge benefit to the country as a whole, and in many spheres where a plough is never heard of great activity prevails in preparation for what is coming. The wheat has to be milled, stored, shipped, re-shipped, graded, re-graded, and a thousand other things before it finally appears on the banquet table of a fancy bit of pastry, or on the kitchen shelf as good home-made bread. Thus it is that there will be busy these days besides the farmers, and thus it is that there will be great goings in many lines this summer.

After the wheat has been garnered and threshed it must be stored. Until last year elevator room almost all over the country was ample. Last year, and slightly the year before, farmers experienced considerable congestion. There will be no difficulty this year, for the International Milling Company, which has been operating a 1,500 barrel flour mill at Moose Jaw for the past two years, and which has several mills in the United States, intends to acquire elevators by which, at least one million bushels of wheat will be taken care of. Other companies are planning extensions in a smaller way and this same company is preparing plans for extension along other lines also. The Moose Jaw mill, a landmark on the prairie for miles around, is to be enlarged, an oatmeal mill is being built, and large sums of money are to be invested in various ways with a view to placing the company on a footing with some of the other establishments.

Incidentally, it may be interesting to mention that the International Milling Company is considered as one of the brightest stars in the milling firmament. It was founded some fifteen years ago by F. A. Bean, Esq., who, at that time, owned one small mill at New Prague, Minnesota. Later he acquired mills at Walla and Blue Earth in the same state, and later on again a mill at Iavonport, Iowa, and the Moose Jaw mill. Up to the present not a dot-lar outside of the actual earnings of his company has Mr. Bean put into extensions. From these five mills he turns out about 6,000 barrels of flour a day with excellent profit, and it is not unlikely that even further plans of expansion may be heard of shortly. The Canadian Cereal and Milling Company, whose mills are all situated in Ontario, are making a concerted attempt to build up the rolled out industry. Therefore the establishment of a rolled oats mill at Moose Jaw by the International Milling Company may be looked upon as another sign of the times that the country as a whole is waking up to its own.

Next to the farmers and the millers come the transportation companies. The railways are showing what they expect in the way of a crop by increasing their orders for freight cars and by hustling improvements and extensions on all sections running through and out of the wheat belt. The lake carriers and ocean going fleets have never been larger than they will be this year, and both inland and sea-going ships are clearing decks for a busy year.

Above all, Canadians themselves are busy and hopeful, for all true Canadians are interested in and anxious for a good harvest. And, from present indications, there is no reason in the world why Canada should not have a bumper cornucopia this year.

SIXTEEN MONTHS ON CRUTCHES!

NOW COMPLETELY CURED

"I am writing this to let you and sufferers from Rheumatism know of the wonderful benefits I have derived from GIN PILLS. For two years, I was an invalid, incapable of work of any kind. For sixteen months, I was unable to move without the assistance of a crutch and cane. I was treated by our best doctors as well as taking treatment from a specialist in Chicago. I did not improve and had about given up hope of ever being well again when a friend advised me to try GIN PILLS. This I did, and with a two months treatment was a well man again. This was four years ago and I have had no return of my trouble since."

GIN PILLS are a wonderful medicine and I take great pleasure in recommending GIN PILLS to all sufferers from Rheumatism, for I have no doubt that if they will persist in the treatment, GIN PILLS will do for them what they have done for me."

Woodstock, April 29.—A letter was received by License Inspector Shaver this morning from Provincial Secretary Hanna vetoing the license granted to the hotel at the G.T.E. station. The commissioners granted the license last week, and the temperance people sent their protests to the provincial secretary. Mr. Hanna says he cancelled the license owing to public sentiment being against it.
