THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Luke vi, 27-38; Rom. xiii, 8-10-Memory Verses, 27, 28-Golden Text, Rom. xiii, 9-Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

The topic of this lesson is "Love."

and the pattern is "the love of God." At first sight the teaching is most extraordinary and the practice seemingly impossible and beyond all reason. Great grace might enable us to love our enemies, do good to those who hate us, bless those who curse us and pray for such as despitefully use us, but when it comes to lending without hoping for a return, giving to every one that asks and letting the man that takes your cloak have your coat also it does look like a good time for tramps, impostors, thieves and robbers. We know that the righteous Lord loveth righteousness, and anything unrighteous He would not do nor ask us to do, so we must prayerfully wait upon Him for clearer light upon this teaching. According to verse 35 and Matt. v, 45, the object is that we may be manifestly "the children of the Highest," "the children of our Father which is in heaven." It is therefore not a Mr. Alex. Monk and H. H. Ryley matter of what is expedient or acwere in Peterboro on business last cording to reason, but how can we as the children of God make people to Two new drums were purchased in know our Father, God. Be was teaching His disciples (verse 20), those who had received Him as the Christ, the Son of God, and had left all to follow Him, those whom He was to leave in the world in His stead, that because of them the world might believe and know the only living and true God and Jesus Christ, whom He sent into the world to manifest Him (John zvii, heavenly calling to represent God and Christ in the power of the Holy Spirit and be so alive to their interests that we shall be wholly dead to our own. Now, considering that by such love and by the sacrifice of Himself He has at such infinite cost and by such suffering, bearing our sins in His own body, made all who receive Him children of God and joint heirs with Himself, partakers of His kingdom and glory, does it not look a good bit easier to love, to bless, to help others for His sake, to give, to lend, to do good, hoping for nothing again, to serve those who cannot serve us in return? Do we not feel like saying as Mephibosheth said of Ziba, "Yea, let him take all, forasmuch as my Lord the King is come again" (II Sam. xix,

The love of Christ constraineth us to live no longer unto ourselves, but unto Him who died for us and rose again (I Cor. v, 14, 15). Since Paul could take pleasure in infirmities, in the bearing of insults, in distress, in persecutions, in grievous difficulties, for Christ's sake (II Cor. xii, 10, Waymouth), the same grace is at our disposal, to enable us to reckon all loss as mere refuse because of the priceless our Lord. Does it not seem as if we could lend or give or go or bear any loss because of such love and because of His kingdom? Let our one question be "Lord, what wilt Thou have me to do?" and our motto "Just to please Jesus" and we shall not be apt either
