MONEY IN HENS

THORAH RANCH TO HAVE 5,000 BIRDS.

Some two years ago Mr. R. E. Gunn, of "Dunrobin," Thorah started what was then claimed to be the largest poultry plant in Canada with some 1,500 birds as a maximum.

Many houses of a special character were erected to accommodate the new industry, and an expert was employed to superintend the concern.

Other interest intervened, however, and the big plant was not pushed with the vigor necessary for its profitable expansion, and late last season Mr. Gunn dispersed the birds. It is understood, however, that the premises have been leased to Mr. Gower, of Ottawa, who will greatly enlarge the yards, and who already has men employed preparing for an establishment for 5,000 birds which is expected will be present the coming fall. On Saturday last five hundred 24 hr. chicks were received from the hatcheries, Buffalo, being a first consignment of two thousand from this source. The birds are all under the supervision of Mr. Gower is an enthusiastic specialist in this line and anticipates no difficulty in making the venture a profitable one.

U. E. LOYALIST HISTORY.

On May 4th, 1783, just 129 years ago the United Empire Loyalists left their homes and possessions in the United States and entered the wilds of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, there to begin life anew under the old flag of Britain in the enjoyment of the freedom and institutions that are the birthright of the British race. And none can say that it did not mark a new era for Canada, for from this hardy stock came the manhood, the very fibre, of a great nation, even becoming still greater.

An Invitation To Sickness

THIN, WATERY BLOOD LEADS TO A BREAKDOWN IN HEALTH.

Thin, impure blood is an invitation to sickness. The blood is at work day and night to maintain the health and any lack of strength or purity in the blood is a weakness in the defence against disease. Anaemia is the doctor's name for lack of blood—watery blood. There may be an actual loss in the quantity of the blood, or one or more of its constituents may be lacking. The surest symptom of anaemia is pallor. The trouble is particularly common among young girls, between the ages of fourteen and eighteen, but is also found in women of all ages, and quite frequently attacks men. It is nearly always present and prevents recovery from grippe, fevers, malaria, and other ailments, and for this reason a tonic medicine is required in all these cases to enrich the blood, build up the nerves and restore health and strength. And there is no other tonic as good as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as has been proved in thousands and thousands of cases, among them that of Miss Annie Turner, Marie Joseph Post office, N.S., says: "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been of inestimable benefit to me. I was so badly run down that I could hardly go about, was not able to help in the work about the house. As my health grew worse the trouble brought on some species of it, and when these attacks would come on I would sometimes remain unconscious for half an hour. After many other medicines had failed to help me, my brother got me a supply of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I began taking these. In the course of a few weeks I felt much better, and after taking the Pills for a time longer I was again in the full enjoyment of good health. I feel that I cannot praise Dr. Williams' Pink Pills too highly and I recommend them to all weak girls."

You can get these Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Search Party Looking For Remains of Young Mc Taggart

The mysterious disappearance of a young Mc Taggart, of Fenelon Falls, several months ago, still remains unsolved, but now that the ice has gone out of Burnt River a large search party has been organized and left Fenelon Falls Sunday to make a search for the remains.

It will be remembered that some time last December Mc Taggart and a couple of other young men, who were working in a mill in the vicinity of Kinnoult, left for Cobocook to attend a dance. While there a brawl took place, with no serious results, but it was reported that on the way home another scrap ensued between the two young men, and that Mc Taggart was left on the roadside. At any rate he has never been heard of since.

Sunday a search party left Fenelon Falls in a gasoline yacht and seven canoes, and a careful investigation will be made.

New Bridge Would Divert Traffic From Lindsay

The letter further stated: "We think the question is one that should interest the town not only because of the necessity of having the bridge where it would be accessible to the most thickly populated parts of the country, but also because of the fact that if placed away south it would tend to divert the shipping trade of the western Ops and Mariposa from Lindsay to Janetville, and this will be followed by a growth of the purchasing trade in the same direction. The bridge would be much shorter and easier to build and maintain if put across the river where

"The Titanic Left me Sir"

That is a sentence which ought to live and will live. It epitomizes in five words a clear-cut conception of duty, and tells in phrase terse and plain of how duty was performed, says the Sun.

The words were spoken by Second Officer Lightoller of the Titanic in answer to a question put by the chairman of the United States congressional committee engaged in bringing to light all the facts connected with the world's greatest maritime disaster. The question was as to when Lightoller left the ship. The question cut like a whip because it was this particular officer's duty to stay by his vessel and assist to the last in getting others into safety. The answer was an unhesitating one as was the response to duty's call—

"I did not leave the Titanic; the Titanic left me, sir."

The history of naval battles will be searched in vain for a finer example of manly courage and quiet dignity than is afforded by the action of this officer of a passenger liner in the first place, and the manner in telling of it in the second. The action was performed in the dead of night; there was none of the inspiration and passion of strife to nerve to forgetfulness of danger; there was no reason to expect escape for the officer himself, or that any of those who witnessed the steady heroism with which he held to his post until the massive hull sank beneath his feet would live to tell the story of how he died. It was simply a case of seeing one's duty and doing it, utterly regardless of consequences which seemed certain.

The sum of what makes life worth while has been made greater by the action of the musicians of the Titanic who died with a prayer of God engulfed them to the end that darkness might not render more difficult the transfer of women and children to the small boats; and, lastly, by the splendid sailor who, after a miraculous escape, was able to say, and say with truth—

The officers of the Titanic will be remembered for those who died with them; for the magnificent discipline shown by an engine crew in remaining at their posts while the waters of death

The Thaw Case Is a Scandal

In commenting on the renewed efforts to obtain liberty for Mr. Harry Thaw, the murderer of Mr. Stanford White, the Herald last week said that the release of this man would be a reflection on our already deprecated legal procedure, and might not be without an element of danger to the community.

Nevertheless, unless steps are taken to reinforce the attorney-general's office at Albany there will be grave danger of success for the effort to turn loose on the community this depraved and bloodthirsty lunatic, who is all moral idiot, part same being, and part homicidal maniac.

The Thaw case is a scandal. A million of dollars spent thus far. More money to be expended if it will procure the release of this enemy of the State. Through our illogical

Port Huron, Mich., May 5.—Standing mute and displaying no emotion, George Eason, the Petroler, Ontario, youth, convicted here a few days ago of manslaughter in connection with the death of Thomas H. Major on February 28 last, was yesterday sentenced by Judge Law to spend four to fifteen years in the reformatory at Ionia. The court recommended that the maximum term be five years. "I am going to send you to Michigan reformatory at Ionia," said Judge Law in passing sentence. "There is a night school nine months of the year in that institution, and I want you to start in attending that school in September. You will be able to get an education. You are still a young man, and if you give up your idle, shiftless habits you will be able to make something of yourself after your release. I don't want you to write to me asking for leniency before the expiration of the minimum period of your sentence, which is four years, because I will not listen to any appeal before that time unless further facts favorable to you develop. After four years you will be subject to parole by the pardon board, provided your conduct in the reformatory is good."

Badly Ulcerated Leg

ZAM-BUK CURED HER WHEN SO BAD SHE HAD TO USE CRUTCHES.

For varicose sores, bad leg, or chronic ulcers, Zam-Buk is without equal as a healer. A proof of this is just to hand from Montreal, writes Edwards, of 104 Avenue St. Louis, "Some time ago a bad sore broke out on my left leg near the ankle. For a week or two I did not heed it, but it got so bad I could hardly walk. I sent for my doctor, and he told me that I would have to lay up with the wound. I did so for three weeks. At the end of that time the ulcer healed a little, but I could only move about by using crutches.

"The sore then broke out badly, and the doctor told me that the only thing that would cure it would be an operation, and that I should have to lay up for a year. This I knew, was impossible as I had a family to attend to.

"My son had cured a bad cut on his finger by using Zam-Buk and he advised me to give this balm a trial. I did so, and in less than a week's time it gave me wonderful relief. It stopped the pain, which had been so bad that many nights I did not get a wink of sleep. In a very short time the wound was so much better that I had no more sleepless nights, and was also able to move about and do my work. I persevered with Zam-Buk with the result that the wound is now perfectly cured, and the limb is as sound and strong as ever. To any person suffering from ulcerated sores I would say, try Zam-Buk."

Zam-Buk is just as good for piles, abscesses, boils, scalp sores, blood poison, festering wounds, cuts, burns, scalds, bruises, eczema, eruptions and all other injuries and diseases. All druggists and stores 50c box, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto for price. Refuse harmful substitutes and imitations.

The late Mrs. Hartnett, who was a member of the Roman Catholic church, was beloved by all with whom she was acquainted. She is survived by four daughters and three sons, as well as by her loving husband, who was a well-known contractor.

Other relatives who survive are the following five sisters and one brother, namely: Mrs. Frank Dennison, Mrs. Wm. Sadler, Mrs. M. Walsh, Lindsay; Mrs. Fettes, Mrs. Walsh and Mr. John O'Connell, of Toronto.

For years the deceased lived in Ops, her parents having been amongst the pioneers of the township.

The body of Bernard McColl of Camden East, who disappeared last fall, was found in the woods. The circumstances indicated a hunting accident.
