Disease Germs Everywhere

The death rate is higher in spring than at any other time the year. For this there are two reasons: the air is laden with disease germs, the human system is in a run-down condition and not able to fight off disease.

Pure, rich blood is the greatest of germicides. This fact is now gen erally conceded by medical experts Get the blood rich and you afford to the body the most certain means known of fighting off disease.

Many people have reason to thank Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for making their blood pure and rich and en abling them to ward off the ills and weaknesses of spring.

It is truly wonderful the benefit obtained by a few weeks' treatment with this great food cure. The nerves are strengthened, the vital organs are better able to perform their natural functions and the system is benefited in every way.

of Bad Management in Case of the Farmers' Bank

Toronto, May 30. - The probabilities are that it will be a long time before it will be possible to wind up the affairs of the Farmers Bank. An inkling of this was given this morning when the examination of Liquidator Clarkson was continued at the Lesson X .- Second Quarter, For June 9, 1912.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Luke vi, 39-49. Memory Verses, 47-49-Golden Text. Jas. i, 22-Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

This seems to be our last study for the present from the sermons on the mount and on the plain and reminds us of one of our Lord's sayings on the night of His betrayal, "If ye know these things, happy are ye if ye do them" (John xiii, 17). See also His words in Luke vill, 21, "My mother and my brethren are these which hear the word of God and do it." In verse 46 of our lesson His words, "Why call ye me Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say?" are very similar to unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into stock. the kingdom of heaven, but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven." There is no condict between all similar sayings and such words as these: "Being justified freely by His grace." "To him that worketh not, but believeth on Him that justifleth the ungodly, his faith is counted for righteousness." "By grace are ye no energy and spirit, found it saved through faith. . . not of before men of their salvation by the finished work of Christ, with an awful warning that no mere "say so" on our part will suffice. There will be many are not sincere, not born from above. to whom He will say in that day, "I never knew you: depart from me ye that work iniquity" (Matt. vil. 23). Mem bers of churches who are satisfied to be such and rest on the fact of their | To-day I am well-thanks to baptism in infancy or confirmation or standing in the church or the comand live only for this present world. how fearful their future in the outer darkness, where there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth (Matt. vill 12; xiii, 42, 50; xxii, 13; xxiv, 51; xxv, 30, 41). to see to it that we ourselves are truly the Lord's and live to belp others to be truly His and to let Him work in us to will and to do of His good pleasure (verses 37, 38; Phil. ii, 13). If we do lead others, and in Matt. vii, 15, we strike. are told of false prophets who outwardly seem to be sheep, but inwardly are ravening woives, not living to help the sheep, but to devour them. These could perhaps make them agree with are more fully described in Jer. xxiii. 14-26, as speaking a vision of their own heart, prophesying deceit, making people vain, encouraging evildoers and telling them that no evil would come upon them, perverting the words of the living God. Such people wanted to kill Jeremiah because he spoke only what the Lord told him (Jer. xxvi, 7-11). The word of the Lord is not acceptable to the world and especially which cannot endure sound doctrine. xv. 18, 19; xvii, 14). The margin of lesson, verse 40, says that every disciple shall be perfected as his Master, and Heb. ii. 10, says that the captain of our salvation was made perfect through sufferings. He was always trous year from the present outabsolutely perfect, but as our High Priest, able to sympathize, He had to be tried (Heb. ii, 17, 18) and to learn obedience by the things which He suffered (Heb. v. 8, 9). According to our Lord's heart searching teaching when we think that we member that, while there may be a trifle wrong with the other party, the probability is that the greatest trouble is at our own end. We are not therefore to judge one another any more, but endeavor not to be a stumbling block in another's way (Rom. xiv, 13). Ambitious to be quiet and to mind one's own business (I Thess. iv, 11, R. V. margin, and Weymouth) and so to abide as branches that the vine may bear the desired fruit unbindered. The last clause of lesson, verse 45, says, "Of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh." Compare Matt. xil, 34. "The mouth of fools poureth out foolishness; a wholesome tongue is a tree of life" (Prov. xv. 2, 4). I have just received a letter concerning one who was filled with pity for two others behind whom she walked whose conversation was wholly concerning dress and the fashions. Soon she found herself in the shopping district and somewhat fascinated by the very things she had condemned in others. As she passed on the words held her, "As he thinketh in his heart, so is he" (Prov. xxiii, 7). Being ashamed, she determined to fill herself with the words of Jesus that her thoughts might be controlled and that she might be more like Him. She found it a splendid remedy and has since been greatly blessed in the use of His words thus laid up in her heart. This is a practical illustration of Prov. xxii, 18, 21, which I, too, have for many years proved in my life and teaching. It is possible to be a well of living water springing up for the benefit of others.

SUFFERED TERRIBLE PAINS OF INDIGESTION. MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS

CURED HER. Mrs. Wm. H. MacEwen, Mount Tryon, P.E.I., writes:- "For more than a greatest misery. It did not seem to make any difference whether I ate or not, the pains were always there, accompanied by a severe bloating and belching of wind I did not even get relief at night, and sometimes hardly got a bit of sleep. In my misery I tried many remedies said one particle of good, and I fully expected I would always be afflicted in this way. At this time my brother came home on a visit and urged me to try Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, and got me a few vials. By the time I had taken one vial I began to improve, and could eat with some relish. I was greatly cheered, and continued taking the pills until all traces of the trouble had disappeared, and I could once more eat all kinds of food without the slightest inconvenience. I am so fully convinced of their virtue as a family medicine, I have no hesitation in recommending them."

Rough Voyage -- No Mishaps

Mr. Nicholas Brady weighed an Scugog near the iron bridge in his trim 18-foot launch, bound for Washburn's Island. A leading citizen in the person of Mr. Neil Grav was on board, who by the way has a contract of building several cottages and a large summer house for Toronto citizens on the island.

The trip up stream was uneventful, being pleasant and much enjoyed by the captain and passenger. The worthy alderman was delivered right side up on the island and handled with as much care as a crate of cut Mr. Henry Jackson, of North glass, who landed and bade a fond Ops, reports the country in a sorry adieu to his nautical friend, the latvehicles go up to the exles in the sun. The waves were washing over the staunch little craft, when Capt. Brady put his toe on the accellator and gave the engine a few pounds more juice and off she started, cuteing through the waves like a knife and throwing a spray along the shore, which descended like rain. The log book says 30 miles an hour was reached at times, while the captain sat with a sang froid indifference at the pranks of the elements. Strange no water ever entered the boat, nor was the daring sea-man in the least wet by the exciting run for safety to the river, where he laid to and oiled up the machinery before going
