Take Your Choice

You can make no mistake in choosing either of these models. They are both correct to a stitch. The two button sack on the left is styled beyond criticism with its high cut vest, peak lapels and shapely waist.

The more conservative model on the right is the very last word in a nice stylish suit for quiet dressers.

Both are tailored well in the newest cloths from the style centres of America.

$10.00 to $25.00

All we ask is the privilege to show you these models.

Why Men Wait to Wed

By Laura Jean Libby, in Detroit Journal.

A NASTY CUT. A young Englishman named Morris was badly cut on his left arm at Carnegie's mill at Port Perry on Monday. He had been working at the mill only about ten days, piling up blocks and otherwise cleaning up. He was reaching under a running saw with his arm to clear out the sawdust, when the saw caught him, inflicting a bad flesh wound. It was not as bad a wound as was reported at first, and the probability is that the cut will heal without serious permanent injury to the arm. There was no need for the young fellow to put his arm near the saw as there was a shovel to do the work.

—Mrs. J. A. Sutcliffe, of Toronto, was the guest to-day of her brother, Mr. F. W. Sutcliffe.

Rev. Fr. O'Boyle, Of Lindsay, Appointed

(Special to The Watchman-Warder.) Vancouver, May 19.—Rev. J. M. Welch, president of the Oblate Fathers in British Columbia, has resigned the pastorate of Holy Rosary cathedral, Vancouver, on account of ill health, and will be succeeded by Rev. Father O'Boyle, now of Westminster, a native of Lindsay. NEW ORGAN IN PURCHASE. The new organ purchased for St. Mary's church will be installed about the first week in June.

Some families, from the time their boys enter their teens, din it into their heads that early marriages are not to be thought of; that there is plenty of time after a man has seen the world of women, as it were, and had ample opportunity to consider the kind of a girl he would like for a wife.

These same families would advise their daughters to wed early. They declare that each year their chances of getting a good husband are lessened. The girls accept this counsel as a matter of fact. Many a young woman has accepted as a suitor a man whom she had only friendship for instead of love, lest no other chance of matrimony would come her way. She had the foolish idea that better any kind of a man than no man at all, so fearful are these girls of spinsterhood.

The sons believe that they can have their own time in love, courtship and matrimony. They pass by many a sweet and lovable girl who would make the best kind of a wife with the thought in their hearts that they are sure to meet a prettier, a more congenial girl. They are always looking for further conquests. There seems to be something wanting in each woman who crosses his path. This one is too proud, the other too cold, another too eager to be made love to, and so on down the list.

He waits so long to wed that at last he really does want. He wakes up to a realization in after years that the truth was sadly stretched by his well-meaning parents when they declared that a man could marry at any time and be sure of happiness. They had not practiced what they preached. Their theory was sadly at fault.

These men who had waited too long to wed found out that despite their efforts to coax youth to stay by them they were not companionable by any means to the girls in her teens.

He might buy the society of some young lady if he had plenty to humor her whims and caprices; even then she would yawn in the face of all this while he was doing his best to entertain her. The nonsensical wishy-washy chatter of a sophomore was far more delightful to her ears than his sound, sensible, not to say brilliant conversation.

Even the older girls found him too matter of fact. And there were those who dubbed him as cynical and crabbed. They found him always ready to clash with their opinions. He eyes children sidewise, if not wistfully. He is pretty sure that he will never see a group of young men and young women at his own fireside, to solace him in his old age.

TO JUDGE OUT WEST. Mr. D. C. Trew, Lindsay's expert poultry judge, has received an invitation to act as judge at the Edmonton Poultry and Pet Stock Association show, which will be held on August 11-16. In all probability Mr. Trew will accept the invitation.

Young Girl Hit On Head by Stone

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS DOING GREAT WORK IN PARRY SOUND

MRS. JOS. DESMADON STATES THAT SHE FOUND THE GREAT CANADIAN KIDNEY REMEDY ALL THAT THEY ARE REPRESENTED.

Point Aux Baril, Parry Sound, Ont., May 16 (Special).—That Dodd's Kidney Pills cure young and old alike is shown in the case of Mrs. Jos. Desmadon and her daughter of this place. In an interview Mrs. Desmadon says:

"Dodd's Kidney Pills have given me the best satisfaction. They are just as represented. My little daughter (Caroline), seven years of age, suffered from kidney disease and one box cured her entirely."

BROUGHT TO LINDSAY

YOUNG MAN FROM NORTH WAS BROUGHT DOWN.

Constable Charlie Roberts arrived in town Monday with a man in charge, who was en route to the House of Refuge. The prisoner hailed from Haliburton, and the only weak spot in his mentality, speaking from current information, is that he possessed a divine affinity for one of Haliburton's fair daughters.

THE CALL OF THE WEST. The West is calling, calling. Seeking men who can rejoice In her beauties all-enthraling; Quick, awaken to her voice!

Wild her cataracts are falling, Reigning lone in mountain glen; Aye, the West is ever calling, Ever calling loud for men!

Hark, her deserts vast are chanting Wake, ye dreamers, hear her cry! And her arid wastes are panting 'Neath the sun the live year long.

The West is calling, calling; Wake, ye dreamers, hear her cry, See her beauties all-enthraling; Spread their wealth beneath the sky.

AGRICULTURE FIRST, EVEN IN THE SCHOOL.

The first attention should be paid to that which is in accordance with nature; but by nature agriculture is first. Next comes all those things which are derived from the earth, such as mining and other arts of like kind.

Further, also agriculture is natural, for naturally every existing thing derives its nourishment from its mother, and so, consequently, men derive it from the earth.

Tips to Auto Owners of Lindsay

Lu Lu Temple's Automobile Club has issued the following rules of the road, as adopted by the Farmer's Anti-Automobile Society:

1. Upon discovering an approaching team, the automobilist must stop offside and cover his machine with a blanket painted to correspond with the scenery.
2. The speed limit on country roads this year will be a secret, and the penalty for violation will be $10 for every mile an offender is caught going in excess of it.
3. In case an automobilist makes a team run away, the penalty will be $50 for the first mile, $100 for the second, $200 for the third, etc., that the team runs; in addition to the usual damages.
4. On approaching a corner where he cannot command a view of the road ahead, the automobilist must stop not less than 100 yards from the turn, toot his horn, ring a bell, fire a revolver, halloo, and send up three bombs at intervals of five minutes.
5. Automobiles must again be seasonably painted; that is, so they will merge with the pastoral ensemble and not be startling. They must be green in spring, golden in summer, red in autumn, and white in winter.
6. Automobiles running on the country roads at night must send up a red rocket every mile and wait ten minutes for the road to clear. They must then proceed carefully, blowing their horns and shooting Roman candles.
7. All members of the society will give up Sunday to chasing automobiles, shooting and shouting at them, making arrests and otherwise discouraging country touring on that day.
8. In case a horse will not pass an automobile, the automobilist will take the machine apart as rapidly as possible and conceal the parts in the grass.
9. In case an automobile approaches a farmer's house when the roads are dusty, it will slow down at one mile an hour, and the chauffeur will lay the dust in front of the house with a hand sprinkler worked over the dashboard.

YOUNG LAD DEAD. The news of the passing of little Robert Goose, of Scugog, recalls the fact that when an infant in Sturgeon Point camp he was named after a prominent New York gentleman, Robert Beattie, who each year sent his little namesake a liberal gift of money, and at his death requested his heirs to continue this custom. Robert was a good boy, and a consistent member of the church, and so generous that if the collectors did not solicit his subscriptions he was quite hurt. His spirit has entered the "Gates of Gold" to meet his Saviour face to face. Robert Goose suffered from spinal disease.

A boys with a lens started a blaze in fireworks in a Toronto store.
