THE RATE FOR THIS YEAR HAS BEEN STRUCK AT 27 MILLS

That Ensures a Deficit if the Expenditures Already Decided on Are Not Exceeded.

A SITE FOR THE LIBRARY.

Wilson's Corner at a Cost of $2000 is the Choice of the Library Board Committee.

Council was in adjourned session for more than three hours on Monday night. Chief business:

Mr. Robt. Spier was appointed assessor alone at a salary of $200.

The rate was struck at 27 mills. The Francis-st. sewer was taken over from the county.

The demand of the School Board for $14000 for a new school was received.

The Library Board's report that its choice of a site for the new library building was Wilson's corner which would cost $2000, was received.

THE LETTERS

Messrs. Connolly, Fleury and Spier replied to the question of what each would take and do the assessing alone. They each said $200.

McSweeney and Weldon wrote that it would be bad policy for the town to be too exacting in the matter of Mr. Beal's taxes. It would discourage other manufacturers who might be looking toward this town in view of the proposed Pontypool railway.

Ald. O'Reilly—What has the Pontypool railway got to do with Beal's taxes?

The commissioner reported against the application of Messrs. Hudson and Williams, Mrs. Braniff and others for walks.

Mr. Eyres will be given material to build a sidewalk further away from his lawn. Mr. Anderson was present in his behalf.

The commissioner reported also that the Cambridge-st. sewer and cellar drain had been choked with gravel, sand and clay that had got in during construction. The sewer was now clear and the cellar drain partly so.

Mr. McAndrew and 18 others asked for a lamp on William-st. north at the corner of Pottinger-st.

Ald. Hore—We made a mistake when planning those lamps. They need one up there.

Ald. Jackson—There are other places just as badly off. We cannot reach every place.

A. D. Mallon and Mary Mallon petitioned against a cement walk on St. Paul-st. between King and Queen streets. So did T. W. Thompson against one on the north side of King between St. Peter-st and St. David.

The agreement regarding the Stephenson drain was read.

Petitions for cement walks on both sides of York-st from Kent to Russell-sts were received.

Dr. Burrows—That is absurd; we can't do any more this year.

THE LIBRARY SITE

At this stage of business the clerk's office was invaded by a delegation of imposing looking individuals who had been sent from the Public Library Board previously deliberating in the council chamber.

The delegation was composed of Messrs. Steers and W. Flavelle, Judge Harding and Rev. J. W. Macmillan. The police magistrate explained that the board had selected Wilson's corner at the corner of William and Peel-st for the site of the new library building. It would cost $2000 but the buildings would bring a few hundreds. He believed that council would raise $2000 for the library without asking the people but was not sure of the law. Mr. W. Flavelle said that they had thought it best to put the library in the best place even if it did cost money, and had hence passed over the park plot. He was glad that it did not seem necessary to take a vote of the people on the price. The site chosen would save all the wards. The park was too far from the east ward. Williamson's corner did not lie well.

As soon as the delegates paused a moment in presenting their cases, Dr. Burrows rose up and delivered himself as follows:

Last year there was added $71,000 to the bonded debt of this town. It now has a heavier burden than any others I know of. We have a lot of our own and I am not in favor of adding $2000 to the town's debt, for a library site. We at $2500 on last year's account and have paid $200 on some old account of 1899.

Ald. O'Reilly—What was that?

Dr. Burrows—I don't know; it was talked of here the other night.

The clerk—It was $1.25, I think (Laughter).

Then Ald. Jackson stood up to explain but Dr. Burrows stopped him with: "I hadn't got through; you are out of order. I have chosen this line and I wish to speak on it. I have a right to speak once and I will, and I don't wish to be interrupted. Let the board ask the people for that money, I won't take any responsibility.

The Mayor—It was left with the library committee to pick a site. I don't think we should interfere.

Ald. O'Reilly—I don't agree with that. They are simply a committee and are to report. We can adopt or reject their report. I am not in favor of that site. I favor Britton's corner, even if it is dearer; for to get the right place, we should not stick at $1000. Let it go to the people, but I shall oppose voting money for that site.

Ald. McDiarmid—The only member elected on the cry to save the market square (Dr. Burrows) now advocates further cutting it up. It is out of all reason to put the library either at the foot of Kent or on the market plot. They are too far from the centre. I want to see no inroads on the green plot at the market.

Rev. J. W. Macmillan—A library building should be in the public eye. In that respect the market square is a good site. But it should not be on a business street where there is much noise and dust. There will be more or less loafing about the library—the boys and girls will meet there and on a public day when anything is going on it will be so thronged that I will take a policeman to keep order around the reading room if the building is on the front street. I first favored a point between Kent-st. and the station, but the suitable property there is not for sale.

Ald. Robson—The market plot is the best place. Public buildings should be in public places. The architecture will show up well there. I am sorry to hear that Lindsay is troubled with the noisy element that Mr. Macmillan speaks of. I think Mr. Steers would soon settle that. We have plenty of green space west of the railway.

Judge Harding—We considered the east ward especially. I should personally be better pleased to see it further west but think the corner chosen is best for all.

Ald. O'Reilly—Britton's corner will be the centre of Lindsay's activity. So the workmen can reach it easier than any other place.

Ald. Burrows—Can the board compel us to raise the money?

Mr. Steers—I think so, but we cannot raise it ourselves.

Ald. Hore expressed no opinion on the site but said the people would vote down a $2000 grant.

THE FIRE BY-LAW

Mr. Thos. Staples presented a petition properly signed for a cement walk on Glenelg from Sussex to Albert and 5 feet wide.

Mr. A. E. Silverwood wanted council to help him and his neighbors to get an outlet for their drains on Adelaide-st. At present the road drain was blocked up, the Workman boulevard crossed it at one point and the owners had forbidden him to cut through it. The mayor was inclined to think that since tile had been furnished Workmans to put the drain under their boulevard the town could not control that part, but Dr. Burrows and others insisted that no action of council could give away town rights on the streets.

The commissioner said there was not sufficient fall to the ditch anyway. Mr. Silverwood was referred to the Board of Health. During the discussion Ald. McDiarmid told Dr. Burrows to "shut up" and said that if he was not such a blockhead he would understand.

Mr. D. Cinnamon came about his new iron oil shed. The law requires that it shall be covered with brick. He said he had left the matter with council; they did nothing and he finished it as he had proposed and was assured by aldermen that it would do. Now the chief of police orders him to put up brick walls.

Ald. Jackson—Mr. Cinnamon's letter said he would brick it.

Mr. Cinnamon—No. I said I would leave it to the council to say whether I had to and if they said I must, I would.

Ald. Jackson—There is the by-law; we must observe it in all cases or not at all.

Ald. McDiarmid—If you observe it in all you will tear down all buildings put up contrary to the by-law as it stood. That will mean the Benson House sheds. Let us start now on the new by-law and enforce it in future.

THE PAY ROLLS

Upon the recommendation of the auditor, council the other night made a brave attempt to inspect the pay rolls of the workmen. It was not a great success and it was decided to have the chairman concerned, sign the rolls and put in the minutes that they had been passed by the committee. That was done, but when the Board of Works report telling of this was read Ald. McDiarmid refused to agree to it for he said he did not know whether the rolls were right or not; neither did his colleagues; let the chairman sign them but let it not be said the committee had adopted the pay rolls.

Dr. Burrows—The chairman has no more authority to sign than anybody else, and I'll show you the law. Ald. McDiarmid—I don't want to take any law from you, and I won't. Dr. Burrows—I'll read it for you. Ald. McDiarmid—I don't want to hear it.

Dr. Burrows—Because you have foisted yourself into a chairmanship, you needn't think you are any more important than anybody else.

THE RATE STRUCK

When the order of second reading of bylaws was reached there were 5. To prohibit spitting in public places.

To ratify the Stephenson agreement.

To take over the Francis-st. To appoint an assessor.

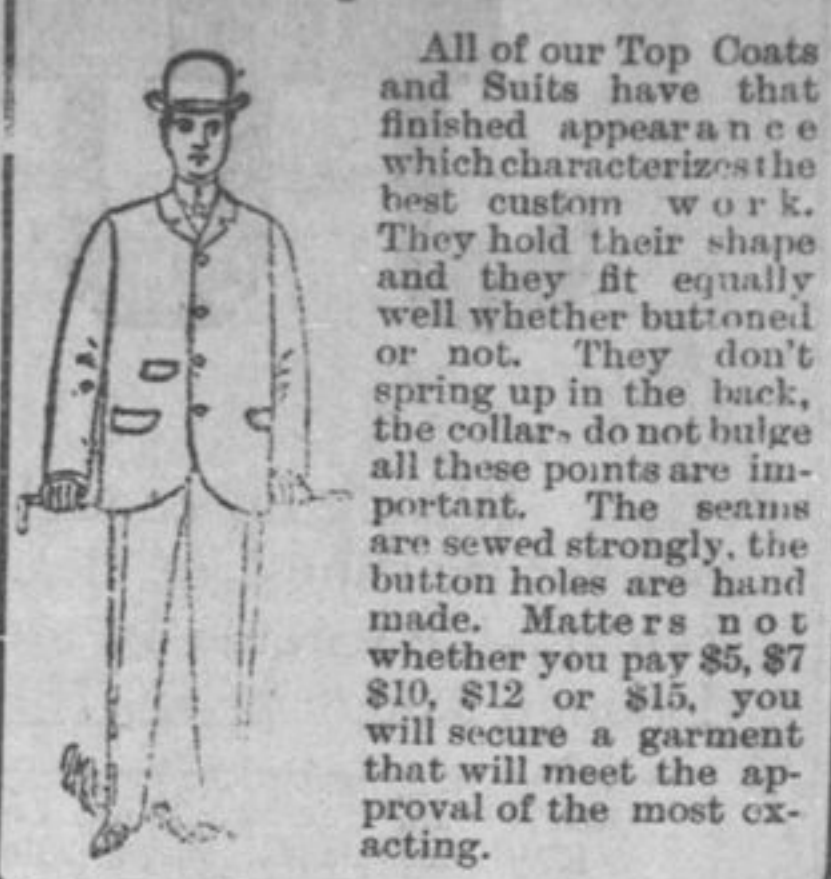

To strike the rate of taxation. The first three caused little discussion. The last two caused quite a bit.

Starting at the last-named Ald. McDiarmid asked the Chairman of the Town Property Committee if he intended buying any more horse this year.

Ald. Hore—None has been asked for yet.

Ald. McDiarmid—1000 feet was
