Gamey Maintains Charges.

side the House, sir, and will take an early opportunity to stand right up in this Province and make these charges again, and then I will defy the Provincial Secretary to take any action against me, and if he does I will then have the case tried where I want it, and before a jury of my own countrymen, and not a jury of paid Government officials. Let me tell you sir, that I would rather be R. R. Gamey to-day than the honorable Provincial Secretary, Minister of the Crown, recipient of pyramids of roses from his dependent officials, with their souls polluted with perjury."

Mr. Gamey again attacked the judges as "pensioners and fathers of pensioners," and concluded: "I will fight this case. I will not stop. Evidence will come out later on; I have evidence now, sir, but I will not tell you of it. I will go home from this House proud of the fact that I have told the truth, proud of the fact that no man will ever have to accuse me of asking a man to be a perjurer. That is what I will do. And sir, let me tell you, there is a God in heaven; I believe in Him, whether the Provincial Secretary does or not. Some day, sir, he has got to reckon with that God, and let me tell him before this House and before the people of this Province, sir, that He knows, God knows, what I say is absolutely true and what he says is wrong and false, and I leave it to the future and to that God to judge who is right and who is wrong."

COLLEGIATE CLOSING EXERCISES

A Good Audience Attended, and Enjoyed a Very Interesting Program

The Collegiate Institute closing exercises on Tuesday night were very successful. A good crowd attended and the exercises were sufficiently varied and interesting to make a pleasant evening. The chief events were the presentation of an address and book case to Miss Addison, the retiring teacher of moderns, the presentation of the cricket trophies, the valedictory, and an address on "Culture" by Rev. L. S. Hughson, B.D. Mr. Thos. Stewart was in the chair. A piano duet by Mrs. J. S. Graham and Miss Aimee Flavelle was the first number. Then Mr. Ernie Sackville sang "There's a Land" and as an encore one stanza of "Sons of the Empire," both so-called patriotic songs. In his remarks Chairman Stewart made special reference to W. H. Day, a former student, who recently graduated from Toronto University as gold medalist in mathematics. Mr. Day had been offered a fellowship by the university, and a position in the Geological department, Ottawa, but had chosen that of assistant professor of Physics in the Guelph Agricultural College. Next season the lecturers at the Institute would be Mr. J. I. Tarte, J. P. Whitney, Col. G. T. Denison and Rev. C. W. Gordon (Ralph Connor). A piano, violin and cello trio by Misses Kingsley and O'Boyle and Master Kingsley was encored. The valedictory was read by Mr. C. J. Burns. Mr. J. D. Flavelle presented the cricket trophies. They were a bat for the highest batting score, and a ball for the highest bowling score, given by Mr. J. C. Grace, Toronto, and won by Mr. Russell Armour and Mr. Manning respectively, and a bat for the highest score in the season's games, given by Mr. J. D. Flavelle, and won by Mr. Ross Harstone.

Miss Leary read an address to Miss Addison, who leaves to become dean of the new residence for girls at Victoria College. An order for a splendid expanding bookcase accompanied the address. Miss Addison said she believed "she had learned more than she had taught since coming to Lindsay, and attributed much credit for that act to Principal Harstone. She had never left a place with more regret than she was leaving this town.

On introducing Rev. Mr. Hughson, Chairman Stewart referred regretfully to his approaching departure. Mr. Hughson's lecture was replete with wise observations, some of which may appear in these columns at a later date. Prof. Milner of Toronto made a brief speech.
