MR. DANCY'S PROPOSITION ON THE QUESTION OF GAS

AN ESTIMATE OF COST PLACED AT $40,000, AND LINDSAY ASKED FOR $20,000.

On Wednesday evening a meeting of the Council of the Board of Trade was held in the Water Commissioners' office, for the purpose of hearing the new proposition of Mr. E. Dancy in reference to the question of putting a gas plant in Lindsay. Mr. Duncan Ray was in the chair and there was a good attendance of members.

Mr. Dancy explained that at the time he was granted a franchise last fall there was associated with it financially Mr. Peter Ryan, of Toronto. At that time Mr. Ryan was in a strong financial position, but since had met with reverses which prevented his remaining with the gas proposition.

Upon learning this Mr. Dancy had made considerable effort to interest other capitalists. He was met with the question: "What are the people of Lindsay doing towards it? What capital are they putting into it?"

A company in Holland, Mich., spent $40,000 in establishing a plant in that city, and now is receiving thousands from it. The company is receiving from $1 to $1.50 per thousand feet from consumers.

During the last month Mr. Dancy said he had been trying to interest Ontario men, and had succeeded in getting the promise of $20,000, and if Lindsay people could be installed. The total cost would amount nearly to $40,000.

In Lindsay there should be 600 consumers, which would require 8 miles of mains. These 8 miles would take on to commence with, two and one-half inches per day, which in two years would increase to 60,000 or 75,000 feet. The income from 30,000 feet would be $1,125 per month, and the cost of production would be about $20 a day. Calculating in excess of cost would be $525 a month.

The whole difficulty now is getting the capital. Mr. Dancy proposed to organize a company along the lines of the present by-law. The company would be operated from here by a local manager.

Gas stock, he said, is now a good investment, as shown by what it is doing elsewhere. From the fuel side would be derived 75 or 80 per cent. revenue.

Mr. Dancy's estimates included land $600, buildings $2,500, gas holder $6,000, generating $5,000, 8 miles of mains $12,500, and the total estimate was figured at $33,600. The large main would be 6 inches, and the smaller one would grade 4 inch, 3 inch and 3 inch.

In answer to questions of members he said that the gas would be the same as used in Toronto.

The mains would be put at the depth of 3 ft. to 4 feet.

The river could be crossed by a bridge if there was one not a draw bridge, or it could be crossed by underground pipe.

Mr. Dancy would not expect to come here himself, but has in mind a man who would manage the works. The company would only expect to lay pipes to the property line, and consumers would have to bear the expense of piping to houses.

The members of the board did not give any encouragement as to the possibility of raising the $20,000 here just now, but a committee was appointed consisting of Messrs. Carew, H. J. Lyle, Ray, Taylor, Weldon, Donald, Sylvester and Baker. Mr. J. P. Donald convenor, to consider the question and report to the council of the board of trade as soon as possible.

CAROLINE STREET CROSSING COUNCIL STILL UNDECIDED

THE RESOLUTION APPOINTING A WATCHMAN FOR THE CROSSING REFERRED BACK TO COUNCIL—THE FIRE INSPECTION—SEVERAL DEFICIENCIES.

A meeting of the council committees was held on Thursday last, all members present except Aldermen McFadden and Beggs.

A lengthy report was received from the inspector of the underwriters' Association, which was read by Ald. O'Reilly. During his inspection last July he had found there were numerous matters requiring attention. In case of a destructive fire the water service was inadequate. More hose was required. There were thirteen men in the fire brigade, whilst the fire calls for twenty. Alarm gongs should be placed in the homes of each man. Of the eight hydrants examined only five were in proper condition, two required packing, whilst one leaked badly.

The report was sent to the Water Commissioners.

Mr. Sam Tucker complained of the placing of a goose-neck in front of his property, which he considered detrimental to the property and a public nuisance. He asked that it be removed. The council decided to enter an action against the council.

Mayor Vrooman said he was sorry that Mr. Tucker added the last remark. While council was willing to consider his request they would take no notice whatever of threats.

Moved that the Mayor, Ald. O'Reilly and Ald. Rea be a committee to visit the place and investigate the matter.

Numerous applications were received for position of Watchman for the Caroline street crossing. At the regular council meeting it was moved and carried that a watchman be engaged temporarily for the Caroline street crossing at $26 per month. The resolution was referred to finance committee. When the question came up on Thursday Ald. O'Reilly said the whole matter had been in the hands of the finance committee for some time, and that it was for them to deal with it.

The Mayor was not quite sure, whereupon Ald. O'Reilly proceeded to hunt up minutes of previous meetings to hunt afterwards discussed at length, some of the council thinking the best way of settling the matter was to close up the street. Eventually it was decided to refer the resolution back to the whole council.

Mayor O'Reilly thought by doing business in that fashion they were holding themselves up to public ridicule.

The report showing the amount of taxes collected and amounts uncollected was received from Mr. McWaters, and was on motion filed.

Lindsay's civic holiday will be as usual on the second Thursday in August. A motion had been introduced at a previous meeting asking that the holiday be changed to the first Monday in August.

Ald. O'Reilly said that the date of the civic holiday had been fixed by a by-law some time ago. He did not think it would be wise to change the date to the first Monday, if he did so would be difficult to get cars for special excursions. Another thing he did not think it would be wise for Toronto excursions to come here and for our places of business to be closed down.

Mayor Vrooman—"That appears to be sound reasoning."

Reference was made to the number of loose stones on the streets, mainly Kent street by Ald. Fisher. The question of grading Colborne street was also discussed and these matters will receive immediate attention.

Ald. O'Reilly asked if the new team of horses, which he supposed were being imported, had yet arrived from Europe.

Mayor Vrooman said that unless the horses were at once purchased they would be of no use to the town this season.

The committee empowered to purchase the team are Aldermen Beggs, Fisher and Rea.

The coal shed on the wharf will be removed at once, Ald. Rea having received authority to see that the work is done.

Ald. Rea will also engage a man for three days per week for the purpose of keeping Kent street and other streets adjoining in decent condition.

Woodville as seen by a Toronto Man

Mr. N. Hockin, of Toronto, who has been in Woodville for some time looking after a local estate, was in town on Tuesday visiting his daughter, Mrs. Wm. Dundas.

Mr. Hockin speaks very highly of the people of Woodville, he found them exceedingly kind and friendly. He was very much surprised and delighted with the appearance of the village, and the magnificent farms of the townships of Eldon and Mariposa adjacent to the town. Crop prospects are first-class. The farmers are prosperous, progressive, and the Watchman-Warder, and rah for Col. Sam. Haghes.

LETTER FROM T. A. BRYERLEY

A MAN WELL KNOWN IN LINDSAY AND OPS TELLS HIS EXPERIENCES OF THE EARTHQUAKE.

Oakland, May 21, 1906. Mr. W. Downer, Little Britain.

Dear Cousin,—I beg your will excuse me for not answering your kind letter sooner. But since the earthquake I have been so very busy that I would have robbed myself of much needed sleep should I have written sooner. To-day I am at leisure and will endeavor to tell you something of the great disaster—something that you can rely on as being true. Ever since the earthquake eastern papers have teemed with fictions of the most wild-eyed character regarding events in San Francisco. Gross exaggerations of the earthquake have gone far and wide, but the facts are so easily possible to exaggerate, so awful and complete has been the destruction caused by it. The earthquake appears to have centered at or near San Francisco, barely 400 miles from Los Angeles, 400 miles south, reaching nearly to the top of the north, and being quite heavy but doing no damage whatever at Stockton, 90 miles east in the interior.

The morning of April the 18th, was as beautiful a morning as I ever saw in this land of beautiful mornings and days. Not a breath of wind, all nature quiet as the grave, not a dog barking, not a chicken crowing, no sounds save those made by man; the stillness was impressive. I had started to go to work, and had gone just two blocks from my home, and was standing on my car to ride up to the barn when the shock came. With the first faint tremor under my feet I knew at once, what it was. I was not alarmed in the least, but as it continued to get heavier I began to wonder if it would ever cease, then it began to ease down, getting fainter and fainter, until in a few minutes all was still, and the great earthquake of San Francisco was at an end. Scientists tell us it only lasted 28 seconds. It seemed to me a great deal longer. I ran back home immediately, as I knew my wife and little girl were terribly frightened. I found them on the porch in their night clothes. I talked to them a little while, tried to assure them that the worst was over, and they soon went back into the house. But they spent much of the day on the lawns in company with the neighbors. A great many people slept on porches and in tents in the yards the night following, but I went to bed and slept just as usual. About one thing was in my mind. Most of the brick buildings in town were more or less injured. All the side wall of a three story brick building above the second story fell out, crashing through the roof of a two story building above it, killing five people who were sleeping in it. There were the only fatalities in Oakland.

Santa Rosa, where Sam Graham lives, about 60 miles north of San Francisco, suffered more and had more people killed according to other place in the State. Every brick building in the town was thrown down. Sam was sleeping that night in the office of the stable. His room was killed in the bed alongside of him. He escaped unhurt. All his horses were killed. He is practically ruined financially. San Jose, about the same distance south, suffered about the same. Over 200 people were killed here, mostly attendants and inmates of the Agnews insane asylum, which is a total loss.

In San Francisco a great loss of life would naturally be greater than anywhere else, as there were so many more brick buildings and so many more people would be stirring about at that early hour. In the old tenement houses in the district south of Market-st., a great many were thrown down, and their occupants, who might have escaped being crushed to death, were in a great many cases pinned in the wreckage and burned to death by fire which sprang up immediately. There are overturned lamps, broken gas pipes, crossed electric wires, and fires in the bakeries and restaurants. In less than half an hour after the shock seventeen large fires were counted from the roof of the St. Francis water mains. The city was on fire in a score of places and no water to fight the flames. The people were helpless. They could only stand by and watch it burn. The fire practically burned itself out. All the retail and wholesale stores, the factories, every hotel in the city, every bank, every hospital with the one exception of the government hospital at the presidio, (the presidio is where the U. S. troops are stationed, it's a government reservation and outside of the fire district), almost all of the churches, and thousands of tenements and private residences, were destroyed. In all that burnt district, covering nearly 10,000 acres, three buildings remain unburnt, the U. S. mint, the new post office, and the appraisers or customs building, all government buildings. How they escaped destruction somebody else might be able to tell; I can't.

The loss in San Francisco runs up to nearly a billion dollars, all of 1,000 lives were lost, and 300,000 people were rendered homeless. The majority of these are destitute, with just what they had on their back, no money, no home, no means of making a living.

I am very thankful that I am living on this side of the bay. The disaster did not injure us directly, it has indirectly. It has made living higher, rents have gone up. There are no bargains to be had now, and we have to pay a higher price for everything we have to buy. Business of all kinds has been upset by the catastrophe. Every day now is a legal holiday, declared so by the governor from day to day to protect the banks, and prevent a panic. No matter how much money a man has in a bank he can't draw only just what he has a mind to let him have. About the first of June this will be discontinued and then business will go on in the usual way. I saw Albert Graham this morning. He is working in Oakland, and intends moving to this side as soon as they can find a house. They are well and escaped being burnt out, being four blocks outside the burnt district.

I am keeping batch these days, my wife and baby being visiting at her sisters in the country. We are all well. I appreciate very much your writing to me at this time. Give my regards to my friends and neighbors, and tell them Tom Bryerley is still on top and just as happy as when he had the measles. With best wishes to Mrs. Downer and the children.

I remain, your cousin,

T. A. BRYERLEY.

THE FISHERY REGULATIONS

The penalty for violation of any of the provisions is $10 to $50 for first offence, and $20 to $100 for second or subsequent offence.

"No one shall fish for, catch or kill, in any of the waters of the Province, in one day, any angling or shall carry away a greater number than the day or large-mouthed black bass, four maskinonge, twelve pickerel (dore) or four lake trout.

"No one shall fish for, catch or kill, in any of the waters of the Province, in any one day, a greater number of speckled trout or brook trout or brook trout, than such number as shall be less than ten pounds.

"No small or large mouth black bass less than ten inches in length, or speckled trout less than six inches in length, no pickerel (dore) less than fifteen inches in length, or no maskinonge less than twenty-four inches in length shall be retained or kept out of the water, sold, offered or taken for sale or had in possession, but any of the fish mentioned less than the minimum measurement named—which measurement shall be from the point of the nose to the centre of the tail, and immediately return such fish to the water from which it is taken, alive and unharmed.

The sale and export of speckled trout, black bass and maskinonge, is hereby prohibited for a period of five years from the date of this order in Council, provided that the order, in the waters of the Province, and applying and paying for an angler's permit, may, upon leaving the Province, when the same are accompanied by him, take with him the lawful catch of two days' fishing.

Cabinet Changes

Ottawa, June 4.—Hon. Chas. Fitzpatrick was sworn in as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court at 12.30 o'clock to-day, in the presence of the Governor-General. The installation of Hon. Mr. Aylesworth as Minister of Justice and Mr. Lemieux as Postmaster-General also took place at the same time.

The bible upon which the oath was administered, a handsome volume in black morocco and gilt lettering, was presented by Earl Grey to Mr. Lemieux. First of all, his Excellency placed his autograph in it.

It has not yet been decided who is best fitted to fill the office of Solicitor-General, but without doubt it will be a Quebec man.

Paterson's Wire Edge Roofing

I wish this barn was covered with PATERSONS WIRE EDGE ROOFING.

is the very cheapest and best you can put on a barn, tool shed or chicken house.

TIN rusts, cracks, leaks—and is unsatisfactory. SHINGLES won't last more than six years. Then more expense.

PATERSONS' "WIRE EDGE" costs less than shingles and with very little attention will last a lifetime. It has had a successful record in Canada for twenty years.

Hardware dealers most everywhere have it.

If yours does not, write for free sample and booklet.

Dear Sir,—May your valuable editorial which appeared in issue of May 24th, in reference to money making object in life.

You stated that pinning in nursing spurred to their calling the church teaching regarding use.

In the first pinception to your happiness, the accumulation in life will be expected happiness does not come with a common expectation of course the man abundance well his funds is happy who has not money. The pursuit of a man's nature is tally unable to do.

To say that the best efforts of the world is saying prove. Undoubtedly spurred to strenuous poverty, but the greatest and others. On the face of it is not simply accumulating wealth fit to mankind.

and intention work. Surely things which the world have been meant to be true the in life must be a man's highest attainment of dollars but by the all man, educer, rich or poor.

You say that brings great benefits. That is ver heard of. It is in all cases rightly, that is of himself or other of it. He has lower order, on moral and material is not to be a man who could be of true manhood lows. The man rightly, with what tal thing in life. Before you are a sage regarding it again, "What work and eat there is a precept "Ove no man of commercial value. It is in all cases a good works"—"a precept wealth.
