Two Lindsay Citizens Back From the West

Mr. J. G. Eyres and Mr. W. W. Jordan have returned to town after a journey of over 6000 miles through the west, as far as Edmonton, stopping at various places along the line, and interviewing old Lindsay and Victoria county boys.

They have been away about a month, and have thoroughly enjoyed every stage of their journey. Every place they went they were right royally received, especially by those with whom they had been acquainted. They were travelling most of the time, and went through many towns in the agricultural and grain sections.

As Mr. Eyres stated: "Our first stop on the way was at Winnipeg, where we stayed a short time, and then took in the leading towns along the route between Winnipeg and Edmonton, and made enquiries as to the grain and agricultural interests in these districts. We stayed about three days at Edmonton. Everywhere through these provinces the country indicates prosperity and thrift, and the wealth of the country is unlimited."

"From Edmonton we journeyed in the north branch of the C.P.R. going east to Saskatoon, which place we made our centre, where we stayed over a week, studying and investigating the grain markets and real estate. From there we came straight home, only stopping at Winnipeg a short time."

MET FRIENDS IN WINNIPEG.

"On our way out, when we stopped at Winnipeg, we met Cyril McAlpine, son of Dr. and Mrs. McAlpine, town, who a short time ago passed his exams, with honors, received his degree, and is now a lawyer in partnership with the firm of Taylor & Bowles, Winnipeg. We also saw Addison Reid, now of Winnipeg, formerly of Lorneville, who has succeeded wonderfully. He occupies a flat of offices, and has over a dozen men working under him, and is engaged in bonds and debentures and large money lending business."

OLD LINDSAY BOYS.

"At Edmonton we met Mr. Wesley Marshall, brother of Mr. Andrew Marshall, town, an old Lindsay boy, who has succeeded out west, and is now manager of a large and prominent hardware business; also his brother, Mr. Albert R. Marshall, who is doing a flourishing business running a large general store."

"Robt. Bryans also received us and is doing well, having a prosperous grain farm. These good-hearted fellows gave us a grand reception, which we appreciated very highly."

"No persons could have been more welcome than we were, and our sojourn in Edmonton was rendered a delightful visit. Messrs. Wesley and Gilbert Marshall and Robt. Bryans are all looking fine, and enjoying the delightful western climate."

"At Saskatoon the Koys were delighted to see us, and gave us a hearty welcome, entertaining us and giving us a splendid time. Leon Koyl, who is doing a flourishing real estate business, is recognized by the population of Saskatoon as one of the cleverest in that capacity. They are all well and enjoying the country and climate."

"We also saw Mr. William Silverwood, an old Lindsay boy in Saskatoon, who is running an immense business in his horse repository and farms."

"The day before Mr. Jordan and myself left Saskatoon, Mr. Silverwood and the mayor of Saskatoon drove us out to their farms, and brought in stems of wheat thirty inches high."

"Saskatoon, in six years, has a population of thirteen thousand, and the conditions by which it has increased so rapidly is likely to continue, to increase, as there is but a small portion of the land in that country now under cultivation."

It was learned from a friend of Mr. Eyres (he having been too modest to speak about himself) that he intended going west sometime in the future to live, as he has a number of large investments there, and likes the country and the climate exceedingly.

SERMON TO FORESTERS.

The Independent Order of Foresters, Fenelon Falls, will attend divine service at St. James church, Fenelon Falls, on Sunday, July 3, when a sermon appropriate to the occasion will be delivered by Rev. W. H. A. French, one of the supreme delegates from Central Ontario.

How McLaughlin Spends His Time at Whitby

Whitby, June 27.—The approaching execution of Archibald McLaughlin, the convicted murderer of his wife and two children, is leaving a deep impression on this community. The last scene in the Uxbridge tragedy, to be enacted shortly after dawn on July 13, is constantly in the minds of the citizens of this community. Into almost every home the affair has carried a spirit of heaviness and sorrow. The necessity of taking a human life, however terrible may be the crime for which it is demanded in expiation, is a tragedy, a very real and personal tragedy to the whole people of this town and country.

McLaughlin meanwhile in his cell spends his nights in half-wakeful imaginings. His little girl is with him a great deal in his thoughts. In his dreams he still plays the old favorite game of tag on his little lawn at the old home in Uxbridge, and often in the still hours of the early morning, the death watch will hear him call to Monte to catch him, or come this way to find him.

VISITED BY TWO PASTORS.

Beyond these reveries there is no other bright side to the prisoner's life. He does not talk a great deal even to his two spiritual advisers, Rev. Dr. Abraham and Rev. Mr. Tight. The former, who is the Presbyterian pastor, has been attending McLaughlin since his conviction, while Rev. Mr. Tight, the Baptist minister, has only been with him recently. He first came when Mr. Abraham was away to the Halifax conference, but McLaughlin took such a liking to him that he has continued visiting him every day. The prisoner is not, however, resigned to his fate. He eats well, and usually has for breakfast two poached eggs, toast and coffee; for dinner, soup, bread and butter and tea; and in the evening one poached egg, toast and tea.

USES A SAFETY RAZOR.

He retires for the evening at eight o'clock and rises at six. He takes the same interest in his personal appearance as previous to his conviction, and shaves regularly on Saturday, Monday and Thursday. He shaves himself with a safety razor in the presence of both the turnkey, Frank Bryans, and the death watch. Saturday is also his general day for house cleaning. He will go through his cell thoroughly, and see that everything is in its place. Not that this takes him a long time, however. The cell he occupies is a double one, and is about eight feet square. It contains only a cot, but over in one corner McLaughlin partitioned off with rags a place for his library, which is composed of a couple of Bibles, some text books and some religious magazines, while in the other corner his wardrobe is kept. Here he hangs up his shirt, collar and tie, while he always carefully folds up his trousers and places them underneath his cot.

HOT WEATHER AFFECTS HIS HEALTH.

The confinement and warm weather is greatly telling upon his health and nerves. He now looks years older, is very pale and has innumerable small wrinkles in his face. His dark brown eyes have lost all their lustre, and he has a dreary and tired manner, which is wholly foreign to his usually quick, short stride.

When first sentenced McLaughlin took his fate seriously. He went straight to bed and refused to get up for over a week. At that time he had his little daughter visit him, but since then no one has seen him beyond the jail officials and his spiritual advisers.

LOOKS FOR COMMUTATION.

Even now he firmly believes he will have his sentence commuted. When Governor of the Jail Schiller brought him his breakfast this morning Archie looked at him whimsically for a moment and said in a laughing voice, "Only two weeks for meals, Governor, from now."

"Yes, Archie, I am afraid so," was the reply.

"Well, I will have a good many more meals after that," returned the prisoner.

"Well, Archie, I hope so," said Governor Schiller.

"Yes," was the startling reply, "they cannot hang an innocent man."

It is a mystery to the jail officials how the prisoner keeps up his hope of a reprieve so well. He had been told there is absolutely no hope for him, and has even received a letter from his solicitors, Roblnette, God-

Bobcaygeon Citizen Drowned Monday --Canoe Upset

As The Warder went to press word was received of a sad drowning accident near Bobcaygeon, when Mr. William R. Hamilton, a resident of Bobcaygeon, met a watery grave.

It appears that the accident happened last evening about 11 o'clock, while Hamilton, who is employed with the E. W. Fitzgerald Co., of Peterboro, along with the cook, struck out in a canoe for Mt. Julian, and on their way back the canoe in some way upset, precipitating the occupants into the water.

Their plight was noticed and the cook was rescued, but Hamilton went down for the third time and disappeared before assistance reached him.

The men belonged to a tow boat which was plying the waters in that vicinity.

Hamilton is survived by his wife and four children, the eldest about five, and the youngest hardly a year old.

Many Victims Claimed by the Hungry Waters

Royal Muskoka Hotel, June 27. — Arthur Streeter, aged about twenty-two, of Galt, was accidentally drowned this evening at Penman's Isle, one mile from this place. The young man was employed at Mr. John Penman's (of Paris, Ont.), cottage, doing repairs. Nobody witnessed the accident, but it is supposed that while getting into his boat he fell into the water. He was unable to swim.

Walsingham Centre, June 27. — Three young boys, unable to swim, went bathing in Big Creek yesterday afternoon here, when one of them, Robert Chambers, aged eight years, son of George W. Chambers of this village, was drowned.

While bathing in the millpond west of Langton on Sunday Lee Foster, Langton, lost his life. Dr. Trueman pronounced heart failure the cause. Foster was a good swimmer.

Grenfell, Sask., June 27. — Willie Hyde, the eleven-year-old son of George Hyde, of Grenfell, was drowned on Saturday night at the dam at 7 o'clock. G. R. Strickland of the Dominion Bank staff, recovered the body at 8.30.

Winnipeg, Man., June 27. — Abraham Bernstein, aged 27, a blacksmith's helper in the C.P.R. shops, was drowned in the Red River in full sight of thousands of pleasure seekers at Elm Park. Unable to swim, he jumped from a boat with a friend, but sank immediately, despite the heroic efforts of his friend, Abraham Weinstein, to keep him afloat.

Stettler, Alta., June 27.—On Sunday afternoon a young man named Wesley Saiter was drowned in Buffalo Lake through the upsetting of a canoe which he and a companion named Griffin had engaged. Griffin was rescued in an exhausted state by the occupants of another boat.

Lindsay Young Men Were Successful

In the list just published of the candidates who passed the final examinations of the College of Physicians, The Warder notices the name of Mr. Bruce H. Hopkins, of Lindsay. In the intermediate lists the name of Mr. Frederick Adams, Cobocok, is noticed, and in the primary that of Mr. John Alexander Dougan, of Lindsay.

Charles Weber was riding near Fort Saskatchewan when his horse fell, killing Mr. Weber and breaking its own neck.

Lindsay Ball Tossers Were Defeated

At Little Britain Monday afternoon the Lindsay Pirates, a junior ball team, met defeat at the hands of the village sluggers by the score of 12-6. Little Britain boys won the game in the first innings, when they pounded in six runs off Orvin Stewart's slants. He was relieved in the second innings by Hickinbottom, who did very well. The Britain boys had their batting clothes on, and played a good fielding game. "Fat" Heatlie was on the slab for the winners, and pitched clever ball. The teams:

Little Britain: L. Heatlie, c.; O. Heatlie, p.; O. Yerex, 1b.; J. Ferguson, 2b.; Jas. Ferguson, 3b.; G. Heatlie, s.s.; S. McFadden, 1.f.; L. Stacey, centre; L. Halward, r.f.

Lindsay: F. Dennison, c.; Hickinbottom, p.; Hildebrand, 1b.; Stewart, 2b.; Connell, s.s.; Bigelow, 3b.; Maetin, 1.f.; Williamson, centre; Jones, r.f.

Varcoe, umpire.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS CURE SUMMER COMPLAINTS

Baby's Own Tablets should be kept in every home where there are infants and young children, and at first sign of illness during the hot summer months they should be given to the little one. At no time of the year is baby in such danger as in summer. Such complaints come on so quickly that unless prompt aid is at hand the little one may be beyond help in a few hours. The Tablets never fail to relieve the sick child, and if occasionally given to the well child they will keep him well. Mrs. P. Laroche, Les Fonds, Que., says: "Last summer my baby suffered severely from stomach and bowel troubles, but the prompt use of Baby's Own Tablets saved his life." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
