The accident was not noticed till the cows were to be brought from the pasture the evening, when one lone cow answered the call and she came with bowed head and drooping ear as suffering from shock or sick at heart from the loss of her companions. The meighbors gathered in the evening as soon as possible and helped Mr. Thurston take the hides from dead animals and bury them. loss will be a very keen one.

Mr. Jesse Thurston, living on the old boundary near Pigeon Lake also lost a valuable horse in the same storm which will be seriously felt.

The telephone line between here and Fenelon Falls was ridelled for two or three miles up the Femolon road. We understand the line is almost to the ground, the posts havfing been split and broken all along.

Sunday the storm was continued played havoc broken limb caused one of the heavy to be shut off in the evening while a victim, as well as the barn on Mr. the wire was cut.

The driving shed on Mr. Campbell's place was wrecked, roof being taken off, and the roof was also hoisted off Mr. Dan Grant's straw barn. The large skating rink situated on the agricultural grounds, which is also used as the agricultural hall, is levelled to the ground.

Mr. Hugh McArthur's barn is complete wreck and Mr. Archie Carmichael's barn, about half a west of the village, was smashed in to kindling wood.

The roof was blown off Mr. nie Greenaway's barn, while Hugh McArthur's barn was blown down and four pigs were killed. Thos. Choate's barn was also in the road of the storm king and fell
