The school, owing to the generosing business men, ceased only for the Monday following the storm, an old time school was held in that particular division of the Staples' block, which formerly has been used as a town hall. How unfortunate for our children and they lived at a distance from a commercial centre. Th payers removed the debris and paired the school, leaving it ready for work Thursday of last week.

Mr. W. H. Stevens, P.S.I., met the ratepayers of the section in the school on Monday evening the 18th inst., and discussed with them the adverse questions of repairing old school building or erecting a new one. Mr. Stevens showed very clearly the unmistakable advantage of a new school to the children by increasing their comfort, preserving their health and economizing the teacher's time and to the section financially by saving fuel and drawing a larger government grant.
