

reckless manner. There must be a reasonable and probable cause. I want to ask the jury was there any actual malice. It appears to me there is strong evidence of malice. He had no right to bring a criminal charge against his neighbor, unless he had evidence to support it. If there was no malice the damages should not be so great. After deliberating on the case for about an hour the following verdict was returned: "We, the jury, agree on our verdict and we find that we will assess the defendant $60 for malicious prosecution. Dismissed the counter claim without cost."

When your nervous system becomes so thoroughly exhausted that you cannot control the movements of your legs, you have what is known as locomotor ataxia, a form of paralysis. Mrs. T. F. Tweedle, Brighton, Ont., writes: "For years I was troubled with the stomach and have always been of a nervous temperament. The death of my husband was a great shock to me, and a few months later I was prostrated by nervous trouble. Locomotor ataxia developed later, and I was in a bad condition. I took treatment from different doctors, but did not gain until I began the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. When I had used five boxes I was so fully restored that I was like a different person. I am sure that the Nerve Food is a good medicine and have told many people about the remarkable way in which it has restored my health."

Lamb vs. Weir Case Again Adjourned The case of Lamb vs. Weir, came up before His Honor Judge Harding at last week's county court. Crown Attorney A. P. Devlin appeared for the prosecution, the defendant being represented by G. H. Hopkins, K.C. This case has been before his honor at a previous session and adjourned until this sitting of the court. It appears the plaintiff, Mr. Lamb, lost a sum of money and the defendant, Weir, was charged with having a knowledge of the lost treasure. Owing to the defendant's circumstances he found it impossible to have his witnesses in court this morning and the case was adjourned until the next regular session of the county court. Crown Attorney Devlin accepted bail in the sum of $400, that Weir will appear when called upon for trial.

ACCOUNTS ARE SHORT. Chatham, June 12.—A shortage of $6,400 has been found in the accounts of Tax Collector E. H. Broadbent of Raleigh township, as a result of an investigation instituted by Reeve James Clayton some weeks ago. The auditors, following the instructions of the township council, went over the collector's accounts, finding $1,800 taxes uncollected and $6,400 apparently collected and unaccounted for. The loss will be made good by Broadbent's surties. Mr. Broadbent conducted two stores at North Buxton, was also postmaster at that place, has been collector some four years, and was a trusted official. The Congress of Chambers of Commerce agreed to a motion urging cooperation. The king's birthday honors list was published and included names of the premiers of Manitoba and British Columbia. SLAUGHTER HOUSE BURNED. A slaughter house, the property of Adams Bros., grocers, was totally destroyed by fire on Thursday afternoon about four o'clock. The building was situated on William-st. north, and was in charge of Mr. Harry Chambers when the conflagration took place. In the building was one beef animal and several hogs all of which were saved. The fire must have originated from an overheated pipe which lead from a stove, where at the time, the party in charge had been rendering tallow. Hides and all other articles around the building were consumed. FALL FAIR DIRECTORS. TWO TOWN COUNCILLORS APPOINTED FAIR DIRECTORS. At Thursday night's meeting of the town council a motion was made extending the annual guarantee of $200 to the South Victoria Agricultural Society. The following directors were appointed representatives of the town on the agricultural board: Mayor Wood, W. H. Simpson and Aid. Smale. You can do in a second what it takes years to get over regretting. The supreme court is expected to give judgment on the marriage bill reference.

Since that time I always keep it on hand." Insist on being given "Dr. Fowler's" when you ask for it. Price 35 cents. Manufactured only by The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Fire Caused Considerable Damage at Caygeon Last Thursday Bobcaygeon Independent: About one o'clock Thursday morning, the fire bell rang, and it was found that Mrs. Cain's store was on fire. Mrs. Cain's dog which was inside, awakened its mistress by barking, and she at once ran out and cried fire. Her screams were heard by Messrs. Pickering and Scarrett, who were in Broad's restaurant. They both got fire extinguishers and ran to the scene. The fire seemed to be under the stairway leading to Dr. Fallis dental rooms, and the extinguishers did great service. A bucket brigade was organized and the fire was under control when the engine commenced throwing water. The usual excitement prevailed before the water came as to where to play the nozzle first, but in a short time streams of water through window and half-way averted the danger. The origin of the fire is unknown. The building belongs to Mr. Capstick. Not much damage was done beyond but what the water did. A quantity of Mrs. Cain's millinery stock of hats and ribbons were badly destroyed by water and removal. Dr. Fallis rooms were badly damaged by water and smoke. Engineer Henderson had the engine pumping with great force down by the lock opposite the Rockland. There being no flames to be seen, the attendance was not as large as usual. Much sympathy is given to Mrs. Cain for her losses.

Sanitary Conditions Good at Barriefield Camp Kingston, June 12.—Barriefield camp has now reached the number of 1,375 inhabitants, and will not be increased until the advance parties of the 47th and other regiments come in next Saturday. It is expected that there will be about 1,700 men in camp. The officer report that the conduct of the men is very good, but each one laments the fact that his regiment or company is not larger. The daily lecture to officers will be given by the staff each afternoon at five o'clock near the Y. M. C. A. tent. Major Horden addressed the officers last night on the subject of "Camp Life and Military Tactics." A large number attended the lecture and found it highly beneficial. The health of the men at camp is very good, and so far only one case of sickness is reported. Private Remain, of the 42nd Regiment, was seized with appendicitis on arriving in camp. He was immediately rushed to the General Hospital. In spare hours the soldier boys indulge in various sports, baseball and football being the most popular. The Y.M.C.A. is also an attraction as it affords a comfortable reading resort. Daily song services, augmented by excellent addresses, delivered by the Rev. A. P. Mershon were inaugurated last night, and judging from last night's attendance will be well patronized. They will undoubtedly prove to be very beneficial to the camp. Mr. Mershon, in his address last night, declared that the moral and spiritual being of man was the organization of his creative power to harmonize him with Divine and human welfare. To obey law was to agree to another's interest as a neighbor and a brother. Profanity and drunkenness and violence in human society, murder was an assumption of sovereignty over creative edicts invested in the Creator alone. These all make the individual a rebel. The water supplied to the camp is exceptionally good, and the greatest precaution has been exercised to prevent the possibility of contagion. The water is pumped into the camps by a large steam pumping engine, and this, in addition to the canteen, where soft drinks only can be purchased; indicate that the facilities for slacking the thirst have been well provided for.

Abolish the Bar Doesn't Suit Anglican Synod Toronto, June 14.—Following the most heated debate of the four days' session, the Anglican synod placed itself on record against a resolution for the abolition of the bar. In the course of the debate political references flew thick and fast, and acrimonious language was indulged in by the speakers. The resolution was introduced by Mr. J. Edmund Jones and Archdeacon Ingles. Its chief opponents were Mr. W. H. Hoyle, speaker of the local legislature, who is a delegate to the synod, and Canon Walsh. Mr. Jones, said in introducing his motion: "To say that men shall not go into a bar is one thing; to say that liquor shall not be sold at all, is quite another. Personally, I do not think the time is ripe in our large centres for prohibiting the sale of liquor. Many here may not favor it. "But as a church we are able to say that the sale by retail for consumption on the premises is pernicious in effect and ought to be put an end to. We can't afford to have the press say that on a motion being submitted in the Anglican synod that body refused to say that the bar room was a pest and should be abolished. What will the people think of our stand?" Archdeacon Ingles was thoroughly in accord with the resolutions. He thought that Government ownership of the liquor trade was the best method of regulation, but under the present circumstances the bar ought to be abolished. "Splendid thing to hammer away at something everybody believes in," declared Canon Walsh, in moving an amendment to the resolution. "But why move to abolish the bar and leave the liquor shop?" he asked. "I believe that if Mr. Rowell had the power to sweep the liquor traffic out of existence with a wave of his hand he would do it. I know the present premier, had he the power, would do so, too." Continuing, Canon Walsh said that the people were not ready for such advanced temperance reform and moved an amendment to the resolution that it be referred to the committee on temperance. The resolution was seconded by the Hon. W. H. Hoyle, who declared that he spoke not as a member of the legislature, but as a humble member of the synod. "I am not ashamed to say that I have voted on every occasion to destroy the evils of intemperance," declared Mr. Hoyle. He quoted statistics from the inland revenues, showing the increase in the consumption of liquor in Canada in the last ten years. Mr. George Raikes, of Barrie, had the courage to say a few good words for the bar, and for the tem-
