Bad Fire Narrowly Averted At King's Wharf- Three Year Old Lad Said His Bed was Awful Hot

If there is one thing a farmer dreads more than another it is a fire, because of the fact that as a rule he does not possess apparatus to fight the flames, and when a fire broke out at the home and grocery store of Mr. John O'Leary, King's Wharf, a couple of days ago, there was considerable excitement.

It appears that Mr. O'Leary's daughter-in-law and three-year-old son from Peterboro, were visiting at King's Wharf, and after putting the little fellow upstairs in a room to sleep, the rest of the family left for a short while to pick strawberries in a nearby field.

After enjoying his slumbers for an hour or two the little fellow awakened and managed to pick up a match. With this he set fire to the lace curtains at the window, and in a short time the curtains began to smoke. Fortunately Mrs. O'Leary, sr., noticed the smoke and made a dash for the house. She met the young fellow coming down stairs and the youngster was very much pleased to see his grandmother, remarking, "Grandma, the bed is awful hot." Strange to say the little fellow was not in the least burnt.

Mrs. O'Leary continued her way upstairs and found the room full of smoke, and a bad blaze raging. A son, Mr. John O'Leary, who conducts a blacksmith shop across the way, came hurriedly to the scene of the fire, and with the assistance of Mr. J. C. O'Leary kept the fire under control until neighbors arrived.

The damage amounted to about $150, which is well covered by insurance. Mr. O'Leary wished to express his thanks to the neighbors who so willingly helped to extinguish the fire.

SEYMOUR POWER HERE IN JULY

The Seymour Power Company, it is understood, will switch on the electric current over their new transmission lines from Peterboro to Lindsay, on Monday next, July 1.

The transmission line is completed and the wires have been placed across the river, connecting with the new sub-station north of Carew's box factory. The line does not enter the corporation of Lindsay, but skirts the eastern boundary lines.

In order to have the current switched on by July 1 the sub-station is being equipped with modern and up-to-date switch boards, transformers, lightning arresters, etc. The new station presents a fine appearance and was erected by Contractor F. R. Wilford through his sub-contractors, Messrs. Williams Bros. It is 32 x 48 ft. in dimension, with concrete foundation, concrete floors, concrete roof and brick walls.

Contractor Wilford has also secured the contract for the erection of another new power house at dam No. 5, near Trenton, for the Seymour Power Co.

From Every Flagstaff or Balcony Let Float to the Breeze on Dominion Day the Flag of Our Beloved Nation

One of the largest celebrations ever held in this section of the country will be that under the auspices of the Lindsay Advancement Club on Monday next, July 1.

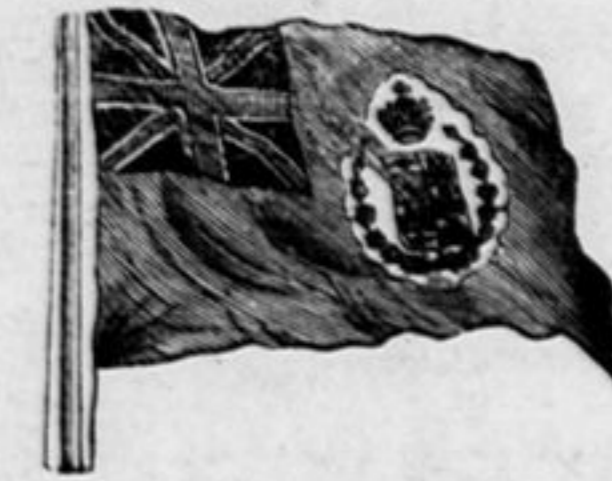

A meeting of the various committees was held this morning and the chairman reported that they had received very encouraging reports from all parts of the country, and that their promises to be a very large crowd in town on the holiday.

The town will present a gala appearance on Monday, the Club having made arrangements for extensive decorations. However, citizens are asked to decorate not only their stores, but their places of residence. From every flag staff or balcony let float to the breeze on Dominion Day the flag of our nation.

It's the symbol of our birthright, made our present progress possible, and is the symbol of freedom and right. Union Jack or Canadian Ensign, it matters not; the Jack is there in both cases, and it's the spirit behind the flag that will keep it floating.

There will be fun from the commencement of the big parade in the morning until the closing events late in the afternoon--one big day of amusement. The amusements will be of a very entertaining nature, including the immense children's chorus, the unique and pretty May pole dance, the pony race, the farmer's trot, the tug-of-war, the acrobatic and juggling stunts, the band concert, etc.

On Monday next the people of town and countryside will receive full value and a genuine holiday, one complete with good fun. Be sure to be one to help swell the throng.

BALSAM GROVE

Balsam Grove, June 25. — Mr. and Mrs. J. Thurston were visiting Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Spence at Islay on Sunday.

Miss May Spence returned to her home at Islay after a brief visit to this district.

The residents are pleased to hear that Mrs. Chas. Everson, whose health has caused great anxiety for some considerable time, is now recovering after an operation on Thursday last. The doctors in attendance gave their skillful and useful aid, and trained nurses from Toronto are nursing the patient back to robust health which we hope may soon take its course.

Mr. W. S. Calvert, ex-M.P., denies any connection with the matter of the Farmers Bank transactions.

MINDEN

Minden, June 22.—Mr. and Mrs. John Puffer, of Toronto, are renewing old acquaintances in this part.

Mrs. J. M. White returned home this week, also little son Arthur, after an absence of almost two months.

Mr. John McBride, of Millbrook, was in town this week.

Lawyers Stinson and Weldon, also Judge Harding, were all in attendance at court on Thursday last.

The funeral of Mr. Joseph Hughes which took place on Saturday to the English cemetery was very largely attended.

Stone From the River to Fill Holes on Street

It is taken for granted by the members of the town council that Kent-st. will be paved next summer and a permanent roadway. In the meantime the many deep holes and deep ruts on the street, as well as on other streets, will be filled in with the stone which is being taken from the Seugog river by the Government dredge.

BETHANY

Bethany, June 23. — Miss J. Corley, of Lindsay, was the guest of Mrs. William Martin for the past week.

Mrs. Corson, of British Columbia, spent a few days around the village looking up old friends.

A pleasant event took place on Wednesday last at the home of Mr. H. Bateman when Mr. Geo. Curtis and Mrs. Warder, both of Lindsay, were united in marriage. Mrs. Curtis, who is a sister of Mrs. Bateman, is well-known in the village. Mr. Williams tied the knot. The happy couple left the next morning amid showers of rice by the G.T.R. We wish them a long happy life.

The Rev. Williams will preach his farewell sermon on Sunday next before leaving for Morvan.

The little 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James McMullen, of Brasswick, was bitten badly in the face on Sunday last by a dog. It seems that they were playing together when the dog snapped at the little fellow.

KINMOUNT

Kinmount, June 24. — Weather is now fine and warm and the old cry will soon be heard, "We need a shower."

The Women's Institute had a picnic in Hopkins' Grove last Saturday. A good time was enjoyed by those present.

The ladies of St. James' church have arranged for a garden party for Friday evening next. Come and enjoy an evening. The ladies will see that the inner man be satisfied.

The Home Mission ladies of the Presbyterian church have arranged for a pleasant time in connection with the Sabbath school picnic. It will be held in the Hopkins' grove on the afternoon of July 1. Games, races, etc., will take place. The ladies will provide ice cream, cakes, etc. during the afternoon. Come and enjoy a pleasant time.

The Entrance exams. are over. Mr. Wagar, of Fenelon Falls, presided here. Mr. MacEachern presided at Fenelon Falls.

Miss B. Chessell arrived home after a busy year at Peterboro Collegiate.

Masters Tom MacEachern and F. Mark, of the Lindsay Collegiate, after making their exams, took a trip to Kingston with the 45th and arrived home on Friday last. They report a good time at Kingston.

Miss Bertha Beech is at home from the Peterboro Normal. We trust success has crowned her labors.

Promotions exams, this week in our schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Goodwin, of Hamilton, are visiting at Rev. Mr. Walker's.

Mr. John Conway, who had the misfortune to lose a couple of fingers from his right hand in Austin's mill a week ago is about again. His hand is doing nicely.

Miss Ferrier, of Bracebridge, is visiting at Mr. Alex. Moore's.
