Although the people received but very short notice of the change, still there was a good crowd and all seemed to have a very enjoyable time. KINMOUNT
A special train was up Sunday repairing a washout near Gelert.

Our boys have manifested considerable interest lately in horse racing.

We are informed there will be no excursion to Hallburton the 12th.

The son of Mr. John Cain has left for the hospital in Peterboro, he having severely injured himself while hewing ties.

The L.O.L. and True Blues attended divine service in the Presbyterian church Sunday and received a splendid discourse from Rev. Mr. Hastie.

Our worthy street commissioner, Mr. R. J. Mills has for some time been busily engaged performing valuable services for the towns-people in repairing sidewalks.

Mr. Levi Christopher, our enterprising baker, is frequently seen with charming equipage and we hear is about to amalgamate his business with another industry in town.

Don't you think it is about time some action was being taken preparatory to our industrial exhibition? Let us have a "novel feature" this year if it is only a display of our fire protection.

Now I must close but first let me tell you the fun. Some of our lads were running horses in hope of perhaps winning the Kinmount Derby at a future date, but one horse seemed inclined not to go and began to back, and backed a commercial traveller into a coal-bin, then everyone laughed and the horse was taken home to his stall.

GLANDINE
On Friday evening, June 30th, the pupils and ex-pupils of the school, with the young people and many of the parents of the neighborhood, gathered at the home of Mr. James Davidson to spend a pleasant evening together. The object of the gathering was to give a farewell to A. E. Silverwood, who for the past five years had labored successfully as teacher, and who has given up his position to commence a college course. Games of various kinds afforded enjoyment to old and young, and the merry laugh of the children rang throughout the whole house. About ten o'clock the company assembled in the large parlour, and Mr. Geo. Prouse, acting as chairman, asked Mr. Silverwood to come forward, when Miss Florence Webster read the address to him, and at the proper moment Ida Graham presented him with a well-filled purse. In his reply Mr. Silverwood heartily thanked all for the hearty co-operation and able support they had given him during his term of service with them, and especially for this act of kind remembrance on his departure from their midst.

About sixty persons then partook of an excellent supper, which did credit to the young ladies of the neighborhood. Games and music were again enjoyed for a couple of hours, when the company dispersed, after singing "Auld Lang Syne." All were delighted with the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Davidson and family. Below is the address: Mr. A. E. Silverwood—DEAR TEACHER,—We, your pupils and a few of your many friends, have convened here this delightful evening with the commingling of feeling—gladness and sadness. Gladness, the resultant of the pleasant memories of happy associations with you for the past five years. Sadness, that, with the conclusion of the present festivities, those pleasant relations must terminate, and we shall be compelled to bid you farewell as our teacher. While you may not, in every particular, have attained the high ideal to which you aspired, you will be gratified to know that your untiring interest and intense zeal for our physical, intellectual and moral welfare have been appreciated. As a slight tangible token of our high respect and esteem for you, we ask you to accept this purse. We trust that, wherever our individual lot in life may be cast, we shall endeavor to discharge nobly the duties devolving upon us, building up thereby a pure and spotless character, so that having placed thereon the top stone, we may hear the glad message, "Enter thou."—Signed on behalf of S. S. No. 17, IDA GRAHAM, LILA EAGLESON, FLORENCE WEBSTER, MABEL POGUE.

CAESAREA
Miss Ethel Lansing, Cadmus, is spending a few days in our midst.

Mr. Geo. Lansing's new residence on Scugog-st. is rapidly nearing completion.

Mrs. C. W. Parker of Berea, Ohio, is visiting with her mother, Mrs. P. Frayer.

Miss Nellie Miller of Lindsay is spending a few days with Mrs. Andrew Harran.

Miss Bertha Hooley, Blackstock, is at present enjoying herself at the home of Mrs. Jas. Bruce.

What makes some of our boys leave service here and wheel to Blackstock every night? There must be a very eloquent preacher there.

The yacht "Retta" of Lindsay with a jolly crew on board spent a few hours at our port on Saturday last.

Capt. Jno. Watson leaves next week for North Dakota, where he takes charge of a threshing outfit.

Dr. Robert Hunter, Netherwood, N. J., and party pay daily visits to this place in their steam yacht, "Venator."

Miss Jennie McAllister, our teacher, has closed school after a very successful term's work, and left to enjoy her well earned vacation with her parents at Garden Hill. Somebody will find the time passing slowly until school opens again.

The Sea Breeze hotel has again opened for the summer, and even its many and spacious apartments are scarcely sufficient to accommodate the throngs which have this early in the season flocked to our pleasant shores to enjoy a few days outing.

The lake this year is exceptionally clear of weeds so that the trawl is let out and fish caught almost immediately upon leaving the beach. Fishing has been excellent, many fine catches have been reported, in fact any who attempt it are rewarded with a goodly number of plump glistening maskinonge and bass.

The fine fleet of fishing boats in connection with the hotel is to be seen gliding across the lake even from earliest dawn, while yachts both sail and steam are frequent arrivals at the pier. The ease with which the hotel is reached from all parts of Ontario, the telephone connection with Burlington station and bus with which the genial proprietor, Mr. T. Swain, meets all trains accounts for the large number of guests that fill this commodious hotel during the summer months.

The following list of guests who were registered there Monday July 3rd, will give an idea of the cosmopolitan character of the visitors to this place: T. S. Jackson, S. G. Howarth, T. H. Doley, S. H. Hill, H. M. Stevenson, T. D. Ellis, Thos. A. Duff, C. T. Tausly and Alfred R. Symons, members of the Toronto Rod and Gun club; P. Endress, H. Higgins, T. Armstrong, Jas. Hobart, A. J. Jackson, H. J. Page, C. Cohen, M. Hutchinson, Toronto; S. Linton, T. Stephenson, Pickering; J. Danford and wife and Miss Maggie McGinnis, Buffalo; W. J. Kennedy and wife, Peterboro; P. H. Speirs, Rochester; Miss L. Hunking and W. Brampton, Oshawa; and Miss Nona Cathcart, Cavanille.

Crowded out last week.
