NINE BOILS.
FOUR RUNNING SORES.
The T. Milburn Co., Limited,
Toronto, Ont.
Some time ago my blood got out of order and nine large boils appeared on my neck, besides numerous small ones on my shoulders and arms. Four running sores appeared on my foot and leg and I was in a terrible state. A friend advised Burdock Blood Bitters, so I procured three bottles. After finishing the first bottle the boils started to disappear and the sores to heal up. After taking the third bottle there was not a boil or sore to be seen. Besides this, the headaches from which I suffered left me and I improved so much that I am now strong and robust again.
Yours truly,
Miss Maggie Worthington,
Feb. 3rd, 1901.

LOCHLIN
Since there seems to be no regular correspondent here it is a pleasure to report one of the most enjoyable events of the season, which took place at the home of Mr. Samuel Dancy of Minden township, on Wednesday June 26th when their daughter Hannah and Mr. William Walker, of the Lindsay Light, Heat and Power Co. were united in marriage by Rev. J. M. Whyte of Minden. A large number of invited guests were present and witnessed the happy event. The bride was becomingly dressed in white organdie and appeared carrying a bouquet of flowers and leaning on her father's arm, who gave her away. She was attended by Miss Murchison as first bridesmaid who also carried a bouquet, and was dressed in pink and white organdie. Miss Ella Dancy, sister of the bride acted as second bridesmaid, and appeared in pink with roses in her hair. The groom was ably supported by Mr. James Shea, who got through his duties admirably. The presents were so numerous that we will not attempt to list them and it will probably be sufficient to say that they were well chosen and of most useful character. A very tasteful and elegant supper was partaken of after which a pleasant evening was spent on the lawn and in the parlor which had been nicely decorated with ferns and flowers. The usual congratulations are extended to the young people by a host of friends.

CRESSWELL
Another useful member of this community has been removed by death, in the person of Mrs. Annie McKinnon. Deceased has been under medical treatment for some time, but nothing serious was apprehended until two weeks ago, when she was confined to her room and kept gradually sinking until death relieved her of her sufferings on Saturday, 29th ult. Mrs. McKinnon was very highly esteemed by every person who had the privilege of making her acquaintance. The funeral on the 1st inst. was well attended, considering the public holiday while the service was conducted by the Rev. T. Glassford of Sunderland. The bereaved family have the sympathy of their wide circle of friends and acquaintances in their sore affliction.

EAST OAKWOOD JOTTINGS.
Successful Garden Party—Off for England.

The Sunday school people of this place were favored with an ideal night for the garden party held on the lawn and grounds of Mr. Thos. Webster on the 26th of June. Over 300 people were present and all will come again next year for the evening's entertainment was the best of the season. The ladies of the locality provided an abundance of good things. The strawberries served with these dainties were very fine. They were grown in the gardens of Mr. Rodgers of Little Britain. The evening was warm and Mr. J. B. Weldon was kept busy at the ice cream stand. He dispensed a delicious article. The program was not long but every number was good. Messrs. Day, Percy Cullon, and Chalmers Webster provided music during the evening and also gave several numbers on the program. Piano, banjo and guitars were used and these Lindsay lads know how to use them. The vocal part of the program was managed by Mr. J. Hart, of Lindsay. The singing of the male quartette was much enjoyed as were also solos of Miss Winters and Miss Cora Walters. The male singers were bank clerks from Lindsay, Mr. B. McAlpine, Mr. J. Walker and Messrs. Paton. Rev. W. G. Clarke, B. A. of Woodville gave a brief but eloquent address on the "Investment of Influence." Rev. Dr. Marvin, a former pastor was present and also spoke briefly. Plenty of seating accommodation and illumination of house and grounds added much to the success of the gathering. "God Save the King" led in splendid voice by Mr. Hart closed a very enjoyable entertainment.
Rev. H. Leonard Philips, a former pastor, now of Madoc, leaves this week on a trip to the Old Land. Master Arthur accompanies him. Their many friends wish them a pleasant voyage.
Farm hands are none too plentiful this year and steady work at good wages is easily obtained. Wages for the harvest months will probably be about as last year.

A Worse Outbreak Predicted
Dr. Hodgetts, an officer of the provincial Health Board has presented a report to Dr. Bryce, secretary of the board, in which he predicted "A more alarming and disastrous" outbreak of smallpox in Ontario during the coming autumn.
Reviewing his inspection of the outbreak in Brant county, the report states that he visited the townships of Burford, Oakland and Windham. Dr. Hodgetts states that he inspected 34 houses where smallpox was supposed to exist. They were inhabited by 154 persons. Of these 98 had smallpox. Of the 154 no less than 81 were unvaccinated.
The report warns medical men and other municipalities that unless greater precautions prevail there will be "in the approaching autumn an outbreak of smallpox, more alarming and more disastrous than any seen for some time."
"Vaccination of all the people and successfully should be the order of each municipality in this province," says Dr. Hodgetts. "If this warning is not heeded the future expense incurred in stamping out smallpox will be both great and burdensome in many municipalities."
Many from the infected districts attended the circus at Brantford and the Baptist convention in Scotland. This warning is given to laity and clergy and physicians. Be on the lookout for new cases.

JINGLES AND JESTS.

In the Days of Lead.
The cutless man puts a careless arm
Round the waist of the ballet girl
As over the dustless and mudless roads
In a horseless carriage they whirl.
Like a leadless bullet from hammerless gun
By smokeless powder driven,
They fly to taste the speechless joy
By endless union given.
Though the only lunch his cotinless purse
Affords to them the means
Is a tasteless meal of boneless cod,
With a "side" of stringless beans,
He puffs a tobaccoless cigarette
And laughs a mirthless laugh
When papa tries to coax her back
By wireless telegraph.

His Obedience.
Irate Mother (to naughty little son)—
Freddie, you are a very naughty boy,
How dare you tell your aunt she's stupid?
Freddie—Boohoo, so she is.
Irate Mother (smack, smack)—Don't you dare say that again! Go at once and tell her you are sorry.
Freddie (a few minutes later to aunt)—
Auntie (boohoo), I am so sorry you're stupid.—King.

Bessie's Papa.
Bessie—Talking about the animals that infest the Stock Exchange, I've been trying to think what pa said he was.
Arthur—A bear or a bull perhaps.
Bessie—No; it was neither of those, nor was it a lamb. Oh, I have it! It was a jackass. I remember how it surprised me at first.

Coming Events
July 12th—Orange demonstration at Cobocok. Addresses by Col. Hughes, J.H. Carnegie, M.P.P. and others. Steamers and barge leaves Lindsay at 7 a. m. sharp.

A Surprise to Him.
"Had you heard that Oily Mike had been incarcerated?"
"No; I didn't even know he was dead."
Why?
Why is it folks sit this way in the car we miss,
While in the car we catch at last
We're jammed in the street!

Comely in Boston.
He—They say he dug himself at her feet.
She—I heard she threw herself at his head.

Then and Now.
"Minerva, dear," he called her when
He was tied to her for life,
But things are different now and then,
And she's called "My nery wife."
