DETAILS OF ARRANGEMENT FOR ORANGE DEMONSTRATION

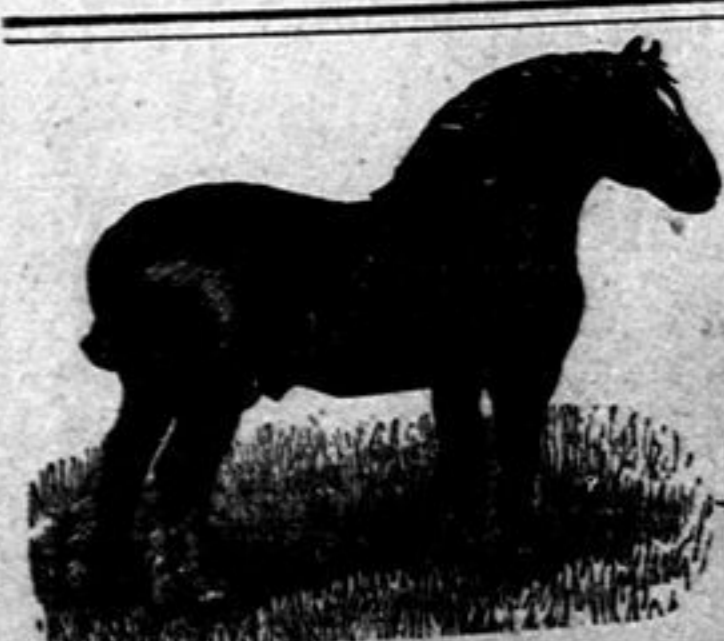

LINDSAY WILL WITNESS A DEMONSTRATION OF UNUSUAL MAGNITUDE AND BRILLIANCE

The semi-annual meeting of the Victoria County Loyal Orange Lodge was held on Wednesday afternoon in the lodge room in Blackwell's block, Lindsay. There was a good attendance of members. The principal feature of business which concerns the public was the report of the committee on the 12th of July demonstration to be held here. The committee had received communications from lodges in a large number of outlying places accepting the invitation extended to attend the celebration at Lindsay, and the indications are that the coming event will be the most comprehensive demonstration that has ever been held in this district.

The executive committee met at the close of the session and completed arrangements for the day's program. The time-tables will be issued in circular as soon as received from railway headquarters.

The members of the several lodges will march from the train to the curling rink, where they will disband for dinner. Besides the hotel accommodation, the ladies auxiliary of Ross Memorial Hospital will serve dinner in the market hall. If the day is fine there will likely be a thousand visitors.

After dinner the members will re-assemble at the curling rink and form on the central park for the grand procession. The line of march is via Sussex street to Wellington street, thence across the bridge to Lindsay street, again crossing the river to Kent street, and thence to the agricultural grounds, where the speeches will take place. The admission to the fair grounds is free, and the public is invited to hear address, Col. Sam. Hughes, M.P., Mr. Sam Fox, M.P.P., Mr. J. W. Wood, the resident clergyman, and it is expected also, an address by Mr. Bro. J. W. Parkhill, from Midland, past Grand Master, and other prominent members of the order.

GARDEN PARTY AT R. M. BEALL'S BY METHODIST LADIES' AID

BETWEEN SHOWERS A VERY PLEASANT TIME WAS SPENT.—PROGRAMME OF MUSIC AND REFRESHMENTS.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Beall, was the scene of an attractive garden party on Thursday evening, last. The weather was wet in the afternoon, but quite a large number attended and participated in the pleasures of a good program of music and refreshments provided by the ladies aid of Cambridge street Methodist church.

The heavy rain of the afternoon made the lawn damp, though it dried off considerably well before the time of the party. "Where there's a will there's a way," and by making use of the ample verandah and laying papers under the tables, the delights of tea, cake and coffee were thoroughly enjoyed.

The program of music was given from the verandah. Messrs. G. Irwin, D. Mullen and G. Ford, with mandolins and guitar, played a variety of lively selections during the evening in a pleasing style. Mr. I. Newton, organist of the church, gave a piano solo, variations on an old English air, which displayed his good technique, and his two boys, Jack and Ronald, just lately from England, played "Killarney" with violin and piano, which was appreciated, for it is not often in this country that young lads are accomplished in music. Master Jack accompanied by Mr. Newton played "The Pilgrim Chorus," from Tannhauser, receiving deserved applause.

There were four vocal selections and the voices were heard to good advantage within the circle of trees which surrounds the lawn. It was a surprise to many to hear Mr. F. W. Sutcliffe sing "Big Ben" by Pontet, for his successes in Lindsay are best known in commercial lines. He has a broad baritone voice of nice quality, and his song was greeted with applause. Mrs. Sutcliffe was the accompanist. Mr. and Mrs. Keough sang a duet "Estudiantina," and Mrs. Killin-Koough sang Ardi's "Magnetic" waltz song. These were accompanied by Mr. Newton. Mrs. Killin-Koough's clear voice and admirer, Mr. Howard Brokenshire sang in splendid voice, "Asleep in the Deep," by Petrie.

THE OUTLOOK FOR FRUIT MOSTLY ABOVE THE AVERAGE

THE FRUIT CROP REPORT FROM THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE AT OTTAWA.

The report of the department of agriculture, fruit division, gives the following information by bulletin dated June 30, 1916:

APPLES.
As was to be expected the reports for the month of June on apples are not quite so favorable. There are many reports of serious dropping, and the general tone of the reports would place the crop at not more than medium. In forming an estimate of the crop the classification of apples into early, fall and winter should be kept in mind inasmuch as the three classes may have an entirely different value.

In district 1 early apples are reported almost a full crop, the fall and winter apples a medium crop.

Baldwins and Spies light. If, however, the season should prove a warm one the whole of the apples in district 1 will be classed by apple buyers as early shipping stock.

In district 2 early apples are almost a full crop, the fall apples less and the winter apples only a medium crop.

In district 3, 21 per cent. of the correspondents reported the crop light, 53 per cent. medium, and 27 per cent. a full crop.

Reports from the Annapolis and Cornwallis Valleys district 6, indicate a crop above medium but not quite a full crop. The tent caterpillar, the bud moth and canker-worm have all been particularly severe as well as several minor pests in different parts of the valleys, and it is not improbable that the codling moth will appear later. Wind storms and other contingencies will probably reduce the crop of winter apples to medium or less. Summer and fall apples will be slightly above a medium crop. Gravensteins have set very heavily, and, where they are sprayed thoroughly will doubtless yield a large crop. Nova Scotia Kings and Rutgers have also set well. The Baldwins in Nova Scotia will be light.

The British Columbia crop of apples will be about the same as last year.

PEARS.
The prospects for pears have deteriorated during the month. In districts 1 and 2, producing the largest commercial crop, Kiefters are reported a full crop, Bartletts, a medium crop with many failures. The favorite, Anjou, Bose and similar varieties, less than medium. This condition will also hold good for British Columbia.

PLUMS.
Plums are almost a failure, no large section reporting even a medium crop. The American varieties are producing best; the Japanese varieties are almost a total failure.

PEACHES.
Correspondents report 17 per cent. of the crop of early peaches a failure, 47 per cent. light, 35 per cent. medium and 31 per cent. a full crop; late peaches, 12 per cent. of the crop is a failure, 21 per cent. light, 43 per cent. medium and 24 per cent. a full crop. Early peaches will probably be sufficient to supply the demands of the market, but there will probably be some shortage of good canning peaches.

CHERRIES.
Cherries are everywhere being marketed a large crop, of good quality and freer from insects than usual.

GRAPES.
Grapes are reported in good condition almost equal to last year, with some complaints of winter-killing especially north of Lake Ontario.

SMALL FRUITS.
The strawberry crop is maintaining the conditions reported last month. The principal markets report fair receipts of good quality; prices are 10 per cent. higher than last year. The estimate for raspberries, black and red, is about the same as for strawberries.

FOREIGN COUNTRIES.
The continental apple and pear crop is reported medium to good. The prospects for the English apples and plum and pear crops have fallen off seriously, and if this is confirmed by next month's reports market conditions will be materially changed for early and fall apples.

WOMEN'S COLUMN

Man Dressmaker of Paris

The dressmaker is a slim young man with a long nose and big, twinkling eyes. Wearing a grey frock coat and patent leather shoes—corset and powdered and perfumed—he is more than a man; he is a dressmaker. He is saturated with dandyism. It is not of an offensive kind.

His manners are a strange mixture of humility and insolence, for he is at once a salesman and an artist. And he talks, talks, talks—bending his slim body into polite curves—gesticulating with his thin white hands—rolling his eyes in their painted orbits, the while he fumbles the velvet and satins and lace and wool.

The more man who comes into a dressmaker's shop of an afternoon—in Paris no one goes to the dressmaker's save only in the afternoon—begins by sneering at this fantastic creature. That mood does not last long. Contempt gives way to admiration. There is something marvellous in the way this lord of lace and ribbon dominates the women of the royal highness as well as the spoilt actress.

He is charming; he is frivolous. Then of a sudden his face darkens; he becomes serious, he stares at her royal highness, studying her from head to foot; he smites his brow and cries despairingly:—"No! no! I can't see you in that gown—to-day. I can't see you in any gown—I will study—an inspiration will come—you must wait." And royally away he flatters, she knows not why.—Woman's Home Companion.

Women in the West

Western women dress richly, says a member of the Canadian Women's Press Club, just home from a western excursion. Everywhere, at all their functions, the hats had more than a touch of Paris, the gowns were of the latest style; the women wore what we oddly call "well-groomed." This was to be expected of the West, but the same good, well-bred style was to be seen in smaller places through the West. And such pretty, well-set-up women! Clear of eye and rosy of cheek, brilliant of conversation, genial, witty! Out on prairie farms where everyone works hard for all of the farm, and to be got out of the farm, were those splendid women. The prairie homes are very charming, with, in them, all the small refinements of life. The piano, the pretty furniture, and above all the teeming libraries were those apparently lonely homes—a revelation. I would say to every woman who is ambitious and foot-loose, "Come West," and to every family which has tried and failed "down East," "pack up and come West." It is especially the land for women. They are wanted everywhere as dressmakers, domestics, as capable teachers, and on the farm. Life is strenuous out here, but would life be worth living without that in it that calls for work and the best that is in us? Nor is the work so hard. The very feeling and knowledge that everyone is working, the very air of the whole big West, gives one a fresh grip on life and breeds in the discouraged heart a new desire to take hold again and break a fresh furrow. Life is made up, perhaps, of beginnings, but it is so very much worth while after all. So much more content and grudging work. And there is so much room out here!

Double Veils

Among the freaks of fashion one has come in of ladies wearing double veils through which the countenance cannot be distinguished. This is a revival of usages that belonged to times when ladies were forced to such methods to save their modesty. The demands of modesty can hardly be pleaded in our day. This fashion is said to be rampant at Newport, but must, we think, soon give way. Gentlemen receive bows from persons whom they cannot distinguish, and who may, for all they know, be very undesirable. It will, perhaps, be found unnecessary not to respond to such bows.—Montreal Witness.

Farewell to the Cow

Some dainty-looking dishes were set before the members of the London, England, Vegetarian Society in a food exhibition which was the feature of their reception at the Memorial Hall, Farrington street, on a recent occasion.

The cow, as a butter-producing animal, has now been entirely superseded, so far as vegetarians are concerned, and by the following curiously-named vegetable fats made from nuts:

"Nutter," "Albene," "Nucoline," "Cocolardo," "Nuttene," "Vejuis."

These are mostly portmanteau words. For example, "nutter" expresses nut butter very neatly; "cocolardo" is equally adequate for "coconut lard," and "vejuis" represents "vegetable suet."

"Walnut sausage meat" is also available for vegetarians, and may prove the final inducement to a host of fish-eaters on the brink of conversion.

A vegetarian school of cookery, presided over by Miss Winifred Godbold, has just been started at the Memorial Hall, and six ladies and one plucky man are already enrolled as pupils; though some male vegetarians are agitating for a class for "men only."

Some cake made with "nutter" was tried by a representative of The Daily Mail and found to be quite delicious. One of the most ingenious substitutes is that for gelatine, such as is used for jellies.

It is obtained from a West India seaweed known as "agar-agar." The jellies exhibited were most appetizing in appearance, and were as translucent as stained glass windows.

The hen appears to be the only living vegetable that the vegetarians have not dispensed with, and eggs still loom fairly large in their menus.

Death of Wm. Hendrie

Mr. Wm. Hendrie, one of Canada's leading capitalists, and a man well known and respected, died on Wednesday afternoon last at his late residence in Hamilton, aged 75 years. Mr. Hendrie was born in Glasgow, Scotland, and educated there. When 23 years old he came to Canada and by industry and thrift became one of the leading business men of this country, his financial interests being very large. He was a Conservative and a sportsman who took a great interest in horse breeding, being a leading figure in the Ontario Jockey club, his horses winning many important events in this and other countries.

Mr. Hendrie was married first to Miss Margaret Walker, of Arbroath, Scotland, who died in 1873. His second wife was Miss Mary Murray, of Hamilton, who with a large family survive him. His death is deeply regretted by Mr. James and Miss Lottie Macneiven, of Fenelon Falls, Mr. Hendrie's second wife, the present Mrs. Hendrie being one of the few living relatives in Canada of the Macneiven family.

GENERAL NEWS

CANADIANS AND THE KING.

London, June 28.—A large number of Canadian visitors were at St. Pancras station this morning to get a first view of the King as he was leaving to visit Derby. The station superintendent gave them a good position immediately opposite the royal saloon. His Majesty took special note of the party.

FREE GOLD DISCOVERY.

Temiskaming, Que., June 29.—A wonderful discovery of free gold has been made about 70 miles north of Ville Marie at the narrows at Opasatica Lake, two miles south of the height of land. The finders, A. Benoit and A. Oller, are now en route to Quebec to perfect their discovery. One sample is about 20 pounds in weight, and is covered with free gold.

THE OBSERVANT GIRL.

The class was discussing animals; how they walked, got up, etc. After she had explained the cow's method of rising to her feet, the teacher asked:—"Do you know any other animal that gets up like the cow?" Silence reigned for a moment, then one little girl timidly raised her hand. "What is it?" asked the teacher. "A calf," was the whispered reply.

HALIBURTON TO BECOME A POLICE VILLAGE.

The ratepayers of Haliburton village petitioned the county council this week to be formed into a police village which was acceded to and on January next it will become a police village under the management of three police trustees, and will have control of its own affairs independent of the Dysart municipality.—Minden Echo.

VAN HORNE NOW OWNS IT ALL.

The Cuban senate, last week, passed the Van Horne railway subsidy bill, appropriating $6,000 a kilometre for the construction of twelve branch railway lines, with feeders for the Van Horne system. Subsidies will be paid at a rate not exceeding $500,000 annually until all roads are completed. There has been considerable opposition to the bill but it was taken up and passed last evening in the absence of the strongest advocate of the amendment providing for public bidding. The senate refused to amend the bill in this particular. President Palma has decided to approve the bill on the ground that the country owes a debt of gratitude to Sir William Van Horne for building the main line of the Cuban railway. This measure gives the Van Horne people full control of the transportation situation in central and eastern Cuba.

THREE FACTS

For Sick Women To Consider.

FIRST.—That almost every operation in our hospitals performed upon women becomes necessary through neglect of such symptoms as backache, irregularity of the female organs, pain in the side, burning sensation in the stomach, bearing-down pains, nervousness, dizziness and sleeplessness.

SECOND.—The medicine that holds the record for the largest number of absolute cures of female ills is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It regulates, strengthens and cures diseases of the female organism as nothing else can.

For thirty years it has been helping women to be strong, curing backache, nervousness, kidney troubles, inflammation of the female organs, weakness and displacements, regulating the periods perfectly and overcoming their pains. It has also proved itself invaluable in preparing for childbirth and the change of life.

THIRD.—The great volume of unsolicited and grateful testimonials on file at the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., many of which are from time to time published by permission, give absolute evidence of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's advice.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women.—Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. From symptoms given, your trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised.—Mrs. Pinkham is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years under her direction and since her decease she has been advising sick women free of charge. Out of the vast volume of experiences in treating female ills Mrs. Pinkham probably has the very knowledge that will help your case. Surely, any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.
