

Reminiscences Gleaned From Files of Warder

Victoria Warder, Friday, March 20, 1888.—Fenelon Falls—We don't know that the blast fired off in the canal last Thursday was the loudest we have heard since the work commenced, but judging by the damage it caused it was the wickedest. The result of the combined cussedness of the explosive and crookedness of the hole in which it was placed, was alarming and it is a mercy some of the inoffensive villagers were not killed.

MISSED HIS AIM.

Major J. McDermid, of Janetville, met with a severe accident last week. A blacksmith, while attempting to knock the handle out of an axe which McDermid was holding, missed his aim and hit McDermid on the face, inflicting very serious injuries.

ALL OVER THAT SHOE.

The story goes that a Millbrook girl insisted on throwing her shoe after a newly-married couple. The carriage is a total wreck, a doctor has the bride under treatment, and they are searching among the ruins for the groom.

OLD BUSINESS MEN.

Among the advertisements are those of: A. Campbell, grocer; John Dobson, grocer; G. W. Beall, jeweller; James Graham, dry goods; Diamant & Dwyer, groceries; J. G. Edwards, hardware; Wm. Dundas, Lindsay woolen mills; J. W. Wallace, dry goods.

ST. PATRICK'S DANCE.

A dance was given last week in honor of St. Patrick's day. Afterwards a supper was held at Brown's restaurant. The chair was occupied by P. J. Hurley and the vice chair-

A CORRECTION.

In the report of the pupils of Miss E. E. Jackson who were successful in passing their music exams., the name of Miss Vivian Nesbitt occurred as having passed in primary piano. This should have read Vivian Williamson.

HIG PRICE FOR LIVE HOGS.

Live hogs have again advanced and sold this week for $8 per cwt., which is the highest price ever paid for hogs in Lindsay, and as a well-known buyer stated on Saturday, "It is more than they are worth." Hogs are very scarce all over Canada and the buyers expect to pay $8.25 next week. The local butchers have advanced the price of fresh pork from 15 to 18c per pound. They have considerable difficulty in obtaining live hogs at any price, and it will not be surprising if fresh pork reaches 25c per pound in the near future, as there is no hope for the price of live hogs to drop for some time.

PERNICIOUS WEEDS.

The Department of Agriculture have a very attractive display of pernicious weeds of Victoria county, well-mounted and shown for the benefit of the farmers. Centrally situated in one window is the notorious perennial sow thistle which causes such monetary loss to farmers annually and which needs immediate attention before the whole county becomes polluted. Its creeping underground rootstalks, together with its seed being so easily distributed by the wind, makes it difficult to eradicate. Then comes bladder campion with a root 29 inches long, showing what an immense amount of plant food it must consume in its growth. It too, is becoming too well established in Victoria county. Binderweed is well shown and is a very bad weed when well established.

In the other window appears the root system of oats, twitch grass and barley. It is very interesting to note the difference and see the very large, strong, creeping underground rootstalks of twitch grass as compared with the fibrous roots of oats and barley, which descend straight downward.

The department has a large number of mounted weeds in the office and it would pay farmers to call in and acquaint yourselves with these weeds. You are always welcome.

Glimpses of Doings in 1888

BY BUSY EYES

by J. J. Berry, Messrs. O'Brien, Walker and Podger added much to the evening's amusement by singing several songs. The toasts were responded to with a great deal of credit. Messrs. Cunningham, Hickox and Pyne did themselves justice in this line, particularly the latter, who paid Lindsay young ladies a high tribute of praise.

FINE BARLEY.

Samuel Swanton, of Fenelon, brought a load of the finest and heaviest barley to town this week. The grain weighed 55 pounds to the bushel.

BALL TEAM.

The Lindsay ball club was re-organized with officers as follows: Capt., W. Veitch; secretary, R. Hungerford; treasurer, W. Kydd.

Three Americans were arrested at Dinaard, France, accused of wholesale card swindling throughout France.

The total cost of repairing all damages to the Soo canal by the carrying away of the lock gate, is estimated at $50,000.

Burglars cut their way into a jewellery store at Portage La Prairie and stole $2,000 worth of diamonds and other jewellery.

ONE THOUSAND POSITIONS.

As a chain is no stronger than its weakest link, every link in Canada's greatest chain of high-grade business schools has been kept in the highest state of proficiency known to business science. While over one thousand students were enrolled last year, the demand for graduates was three times the supply. The Peterboro Business College, which re-opens August 30th, invites the most critical inspection from prospective students. Owing to the prestige of this chain, every graduate of neat appearance and good character is guaranteed a good situation. The new advertisement of this college appears on page 11.

Horse Distemper

PRINCE EDWARD FARMER SOLEMNLY DECLARES NERVILINE IS A SPECIFIC.

"After fifty years' experience in raising horses I can safely testify that no remedy gives such good results for an all-round stable liniment as Nerviline." Thus opens the very earnest letter of J. J. Evanston, who lives near Wellington, P. E. "I had a very valuable horse that took distemper a month ago, and was afraid I was going to lose him. His throat swelled and hard lumps developed. His nostrils ran and he had a terrible cough. I tried different remedies, but was unable to relieve my horse of his pain and suffering till I started to use Nerviline. I mixed a bottle of Nerviline and sweet oil and rubbed the mixture on the throat and chest three times a day and you would scarcely believe the way that horse picked up. Nerviline cured him. I also have used Nerviline for colic in horses and cows, and earnestly recommend it to every man that is raising stock."

For strains, sprains, swellings, colic, distemper, coughs and colds, no liniment will prove so efficacious in the stable as "Nerviline"—it's good for man or beast, for internal or external use. Wherever there is pain, Nerviline will cure it. Refuse substitutes. Large bottles 25c., five for $1, at all dealers, or the Catarrhzone Co., Kingston, Ont.

NERVILINE CURES QUICKLY.

Had Stomach Cramps

Would Roll on the Floor in Agony.

Mr. Wm. Krantz, contractor and builder, Owen Sound, Ont., writes: "Having read some of the testimonials of cures effected by Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, I thought it advisable to say a word of praise for its merits. Some years ago I was much troubled with stomach trouble and cramps. I used to roll on the floor in agony, and on one occasion I went into a faint after suffering intensely for four hours. A short time after this, in driving to town, I was attacked again and had to lie down in my rig, seeking relief.

"When I reached the drug store I asked the druggist for a quick remedy and laid behind the counter until relief came. The remedy I received from the druggist was Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. Whenever, after that time, I felt cramps coming on, I found speedy relief in the above mentioned remedy, and I am now cured of this dreadful malady. The bottle is small, but its contents effect a marvelous cure. I can recommend it highly for the cure of cramps."

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has been on the market for 64 years. It is not a new and untried remedy. Ask for it and insist on getting what you ask for. Refuse substitutes. They're dangerous.

Price 35 cents. Manufactured only by The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

HONEY PRODUCTION

MR. JAS. STORER, LINDSAY, IN FARM AND DAIRY.

To produce nice honey and to put it on the market on good attractive shape, so that the consumer after once tasting a beekeeper's product will call again, requires a little skill in handling the bees. A great deal also depends on the person who makes the attempt.

For producing section honey where standard hives are used, all the necessary appliances can be purchased at bee supply establishments. The common native or black bee makes the best work in sections provided there is a good honey flow. Most of the Italian bees fill the cells too full of honey and the section instead of being nice and white has a watery appearance. As soon as a number of sections are capped over, they should be taken off the hives and put away in a clean, hot room. If put in a damp place, they take on an objectionable, watery appearance. The stored sections should be examined occasionally for bee moths. If any are found, place the sections in a tight box and burn a little sulphur in it. This will clean out the pest.

Extracted honey is easier to produce than comb honey. Most beekeepers make supers of the hives, but use the upper frames, or combs only for honey; that is, they don't allow the bees to raise the brood or young bees in that part of the hive from which they get the extracted honey. Honey should be well ripened before it is taken from the hive. A good rule is to have at least two thirds of the frames capped over before extracting. If this precaution is not taken, honey may sour after it is extracted.

Extracted honey like comb honey should be kept in a warm dry room well ventilated. In a few weeks pure honey will granulate. Some consumers like it in that condition, but it is desired to liquify it it can be done easily by putting the container in a vessel surrounded by water and keeping it warm. The water should not be allowed to boil. If it is heated much over 180 degrees the honey will be colored.

Montreal will have a floating dry dock in the near future.

BUFFOONERY AT WEDDINGS

CHEERING INTELLIGENCE RE WEDDINGS IN KANSAS.

The spirit which makes a wedding an occasion for rude practical joking and boisterous horse-play has long caused the judicious, even those who are endowed with a sense of humor, to grieve. Why should a man and woman who have just taken upon themselves a relationship, momentous in the eye of the law and sacred in that of religion, be regarded as fit subjects for annoyance and persecution at the hands of their friends and neighbors? And why, above all, should it be thought funny and persecute them?

Not infrequently serious injury has resulted from the rough antics of the wedding clowns, who are, of course, too ill-bred to consider anything so intangible as the dignity and happiness of their unfortunate victims.

But cheering intelligence comes from Kansas. A charivari party in a town of that state recently dragged an unwilling bride and groom up and down the main street of the village in an open wagon. Incidentally they ran over a boy and broke his leg. Now the town must pay the boy exemplary damages. The Kansas supreme court has decided that the exuberant humorists who pulled the wagon constituted a lawless and violent mob, which the police officers of the town ought to have dispersed. That the mob was "good-natured" and "meant no harm" does not render the town less liable for the harm the mob actually did.

So it seems that the law is able effectively to encourage common sense and decency in this direction. If the principles laid down by the Kansas court become generally understood, there will be less public toleration of this particular sort of nonsense.
