Originator of Layman's Movement is Dead

Downmanville, July 5.—The many friends in West Durham of the late John B. Sloman of Washington, D. C. received the sad intelligence today of his unexpected death at Cliffside Springs Sanitarium, New York, where he had gone for rest and recuperation from a nervous breakdown from overwork. A month ago, just after conducting a vigorous campaign to bring about the merger of the Board of Trade Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Sloman's physician insisted on a complete and prolonged rest as necessary, and altogether they went to Cliffside Springs. Mr. Sloman did not realize until four days before his demise that he could not recover. He took the announcement of his approaching death in the quiet, broad spirit that has characterized his life.

with a view to the world's evangelization in this generation. Mr. Sloman will be remembered by many as one of the active men at the Laymen's Missionary Congress in Toronto in the spring of 1908, after which meeting he spent a few days with relatives and friends in Downmanville and West Durham.

Importation of Cattle Prohibited From England

Ottawa, July 5.—A cable received this evening from the British Board of Agriculture through the high commissioner announced an outbreak of foot and mouth disease at Hounslow, Middlesex, England. Thirty-one pigs and one head of cattle are affected. A ministerial order was passed by the Dominion Government, cancelling all permits for the importation from England of cattle, sheep, swine or other farm animals, other than those animals at this date, imported on board vessels bound for Canada. This will effectively prevent the importation of animals of the above classes till after the disease is stamped out. Horses are not affected by the disease. The different steamship companies have been notified by telegraph of the prohibitory order.

Barn Struck by Lightning

MR. WM. MOORE'S BARN BADLY DAMAGED. During the electrical storm this morning the large frame barn owned by Mr. Wm. Moore who resides on Scoug Island, was struck by lightning and badly damaged. The hired man who was milking a cow in the stable was hit on the back with a piece of stone from the foundation and slightly injured.

—Mr. T. A. Fisher, D.P.G.M., of the Independent Order of Oddfellows, was in Cambridgeport Friday, where he installed the new officers of the Cambridgeport lodge. Mr. Fisher went on to Mr. R. F. Thomas' new auto, and was accompanied by Mr. Thomas, Mr. McDonald, and Mr. Ross. They had a delightful trip out and back.

STUNNED BY LIGHTNING

This morning about seven o'clock a young boy working on the farm of Mr. Robt. Hutchison, four miles east of town, was struck by lightning and stunned, while two cattle were killed. The boy was bringing the cattle in from the fields too milk and had reached the side of the barn when a lightning bolt struck the cattle, killing two and stunning another as well as stunning the boy. The boy was carried into the house and a doctor summoned. He has recovered and is little the worse for the accident.

Fell From Hay Rack and Killed

A sad fatality occurred Wednesday afternoon in North Monaghan township, which resulted in the death of Mr. Thomas Andrews. The deceased, with the assistance of his son, was engaged in hauling hay into the barn when a field, and while attempting to get down from one of the loads he slipped and fell and his whole weight was precipitated onto the breast beam of the barn. Several ribs were broken and he was otherwise badly shaken up, but at the time his condition was not thought serious. He was immediately removed to the house and medical aid summoned, but to no avail. The shock to the system was too much. He rapidly sank until death took place several hours later.

Lindsay and Janetville Play a tie Game

A team from town journeyed out to the garden party at Lifford yesterday afternoon and played the Janetville baseball team, the score being a tie 5-5 after 9 innings. A large crowd was in attendance and a snappy game was played. The boys were given an excellent title and hope to play off the tie at some future time.

The Lindsay team arrived there three men short, their catcher getting lost on the road, and two others, Cain and Langdon having a breakdown and being forced to return home. The first innings was played with the local team, with Workman catching. However, Day came in time for the second innings, but the team was forced to play with two Lifford men through the whole game.

Some very snappy ball was played, both teams putting up a first-class game, and the next game between these two teams should be interesting. The Lindsay nine lined up as follows: Williamson p, Day c, Martin 1st, Workman c, 2nd b, Palen ss, Spratt 3b, Pollock and two Lifford men in the field.

Rural Mail Routes are Popular

Rural mail delivery routes are becoming popular with the farmers of the province and the postoffice in Toronto is very busy these days. Large orders are being placed in the province for rural mail boxes. The department is engaged in the various communities in which the postoffice department proposes to establish routes. Several new rural mail delivery routes will be established during the present month in the various sections of Ontario, including the Lakeshore route. This route is fourteen miles in length, and will consist of 88 boxes, David Bell, carrier. Two of these routes to be established during July—Weston and Oakwood—are new mail routes. Until last year the Postoffice Department at Ottawa permitted the establishment of rural mail delivery routes only on previously existing mail routes. But this year the department has departed from this policy, and is now permitting the establishment of rural delivery routes where 50 per cent. of the farmers or residents sign a petition.

The Warder was informed that in most cases where these delivery routes have been established there have never been less than 60 per cent. of the residents of the particular district using the route. The new system of delivery is proving very popular, and a large number of additional routes are now being arranged.

Pastor Loves Choir Girl—A Romance

A New York despatch says: The Rev. G. Clement Edson, pastor of Noble Street Presbyterian church, Lorimer and Noble streets, Brooklyn, is threatened with the loss of his pastorate because of his attentions to Miss Gertrude Abbey, a member of the choir of his church. Rev. Edson, who is a widower with three children, declared Monday that he and Miss Abbey love one another and are going to marry no matter what happens. The deacons and elders of the church met Thursday to decide what action to take. Rev. Edson did not preach Sunday. He says it was because he was unable to find a text which his congregation might not misconstrue.

The Edson-Abbey romance has caused gossip in the Noble street church for six months. Rev. Edson is a widower, 35 years old and Miss Abbey is 20 and pretty. The gossip is largely concerned with the fact that the pastor's has three children and that his wife died only fourteen months ago.

When seen Rev. Edson was indignant over a report published that he and Miss Abbey had disappeared. Miss Abbey, her mother said, was home all day Sunday and went to work as usual Monday. Mr. Edson leaned back in a big armchair while he talked and between puffs at a cigar, made it clear that Miss Abbey is the most important thing in the world to him just now.

"This talk about our having gone away together is nonsense," he said. The only truth in the story is that Miss Abbey is 20 and pretty. My elders knew I was not going to preach on Sunday. I made preparations for being absent on Saturday and arranged for a pastor to take my place. Where I was yesterday I do not consider it anybody's business to know, but I don't mind telling you that I was not out of Greenpoint and was home at 10:30 Sunday evening.

"Miss Abbey and I love one another devotedly and hope to get married soon after the session of my church takes action. I fell in love with Miss Abbey because she reminded me so much of my dead wife. Since my wife's death I have experienced tortures. I am lonely and unhappy. I was deeply in love with my wife and since she has gone out of my life I hunger for companionship and affection.

"Miss Abbey's character is such that any man might admire and love her. She is one of those girls of today who deserve great credit for what they do—working for a pitance of $6 or $8 a week, and yet resisting the temptation that beset them everywhere. I admire Miss Abbey for what she is doing, and let me tell you that if I should be confronted with the choice between holding to my church or holding to the woman I love I should certainly choose Miss Abbey.

"She has offered to make every sacrifice to marry me in spite of the fact that I am a widower with three children. I should not request myself if I were to sacrifice the love of this woman bears me and the love I have for her to retain the assured comfort of a good position. My intentions towards Miss Abbey have always been honorable. I fell in love with her some time ago and at once went to her mother and asked if she had any objection to my suit. Only after her mother told me that there were no objections did I pay court to Miss Abbey.

"I did my best to win her heart and succeeded. She promised to marry me. If the elders of my church make the request I may be willing to postpone my marriage for a little while. They may think that not sufficient time has elapsed since the death of my wife. But as for giving up Miss Abbey that is out of the question."

The Rev. Mr. Edson is a graduate of Princeton College. His church has 400 members and a Sunday School of 500. A. J. Keane, the assistant superintendent of the Sunday school conducted the services Sunday night.

Beaverton, Ont., July 6.—This morning about six o'clock during a severe thunderstorm, about four miles south of Beaverton the bank barn of Donald Brown, Reeve of the Township of Thora, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. Mr. Brown's loss will be heavy. He has four horses, twenty-five cows, one cow and six calves were killed; also all his hens and implements burned.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING

A sad fatality occurred at Somerville yesterday afternoon when Stephen Demond, of Norland, was struck by lightning and instantly killed. Deceased resides about five miles out of Norland and was over helping his son draw in hay when the accident happened. Mr. Demond was in the field and was hurrying with the work as he was afraid of the storm breaking when about four o'clock struck him. Deceased was well known in the vicinity and his demise came as a shock to all. Mr. Joseph Jacques, a bar tender at the Grand Union Hotel is a nephew of the deceased who leaves a large family to mourn his loss. The funeral will take place tomorrow (Friday) interment to take place at Galway.

C. P. R. Landed 110,000 Immigrants

Just to show the census takers what they may expect when their totals are finally made public, the Canadian Pacific Railway announces that since the first of March their immigration traffic from St. John and Quebec westward has reached the stupendous total of 110,000 souls. While at the beginning of the year it was expected that all immigration records would be broken it was hardly expected that the increase in traffic would be so great. However, the big advertising campaign which was carried on by the company that had and which has resulted in the establishment of an immense frame record which will be held for 1909 and 1910, the new figures are astonishing. Compared with last year's figures the increase is not so large as the difference being only about fifteen thousand, but compared with 1909, the immigration traffic from St. John and Quebec westward has increased by nearly 65,000. The figures for 1909 were only 45,000 souls. The 1911 record to date means that since the first of March immigrants have been pouring through Montreal at the rate of 1,000 per day.

This year the figures for June were only 20,000. This beats the figures for June of any previous year, but is a small traffic when the counts for April and May are considered. In April the number of immigrants from Atlantic ports to the West on the C.P.R. was 32,000. This considered in conjunction with 10,000 the figures for April, 1909, is surely a big advance and yet May was still better, this year's figures for that month being 24,000. The figures for March were 34,000.

SOME BAD MONEY. A lot of bad money appears to have been turned out in Ontario recently, and the Dominion police are investigating in several localities, trying to locate the original source of the supply.

Beamsville Woman Slew Her Child, Then Suicided

Beamsville, July 5.—With the finding of the body of the three-year-old infant of Edna Comfort in the village reservoir to-day, murder was disclosed and by 10 o'clock to-night it was known that the crime had been committed by the mother, when her body was also found in the same place.

The woman was a hired girl of 20 years, who worked about with different farmers in the locality. On Monday she was employed picking berries on the farm of E. W. Tiffin, close to the reservoir. She had her child with her at this time, and after having her supper, took it to return to her home with her mother and brother. She never arrived there, but as she often stayed at the house of those by whom she was employed, no great alarm was felt.

The body was discovered by Tiffin Monday, a farmer, who saw it floating in the reservoir. When it was found it was known that the mother had been found in the water, and it was discovered that she had a party set to work to drag for her body.

The reservoir in which the bodies were found is a mile south of the village and the girl lived on her brother's farm, a mile south of this. No motive is known for her terrible act. She was of cheerful disposition, had a bank account and had no trouble in finding employment.
