Words and Music by PHIL STAATS
Composer of "Some Day When Dreams Come True"

Andante Moderato.

1. When the things that won't be banish'd, Come of some lov'd one now vanish'd, And we think of all the things we might have done,..... To have made their so-journ bright-er, And their bur-dens so much lighter, In this west,..... Of the things you have neg-lect-ed, And of self-ish aims per-fect-ed, At the race of life which each one has to run,..... Let us make a res-o-lu-tion, That we'll cost of what you knew was real-ly best?..... Then your vows should be pro-lif-ic, And their

Some kind word or action, That will bring us out of this gloom, When to-morrow brings a thought of yester-day,..... trouble you'll not borrow, And you need not cloud to-morrow With a vain re-gret for some lost yester-day,.....

Life is al-ways what we make it, storm-y skies or fair,.....

Thoughts of past days oft will show you what was want-ing there,.....

"Live and let live" is a rule that each one knows will pay,..... And you'll not fear

WILLIAMS-FERGUSON.

A very quiet but pretty wedding took place at the home of Mrs. E. Ferguson, Sonya, on July 8, when her daughter, H. Caroline, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Charles Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Madison Williams. The bride was unattended, and was given away by her brother, Mr. E. Ferguson, Rev. Mr. Konkle, of Sonya, performing the ceremony.

The bride looked very pretty in a handsome costume of pale blue trimmed with baby Irish lace, carrying a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and white roses, and wearing the gift of the groom, a pearl necklace.

After the ceremony a dainty dejeuner was served at the house, and the happy couple left for Toronto and Muskoka, and on the return will reside in Lindsay.

The bride who was given away by her father, wore a gown of embroidered chiton over duchess satin, with pearl trimmings and tulle veil arranged under a coronal of lilies of the valley. She carried a shower of bridal roses and lilies of the valley.

The bridesmaids were her sisters, Misses Winnifred and Anna Moffatt, wearing empire gowns of mauve and shell pink silk mull with silver trimmings. They wore mob. caps and

BABY'S OWN TABLETS CURE SUMMER COMPLAINT

Baby's Own Tablets should be kept in every home where there are babies or young children. At no time of the year is baby in such danger as in the summer. At the first sign of illness the Tablets should be given to the little one, for the summer complaints come on so quickly that prompt aid is at hand baby may be beyond help in a few hours. The Tablets never fail to relieve the sick child, and if occasionally given to the well child will keep him healthy.

Mrs. Desire Martin, St. Denis, Que., writes: "I have a baby twelve months old who suffered from colic and constipation. Castor oil was of no help at all, but Baby's Own Tablets speedily cured him and now I always keep them in the house. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Experience With Mares and Colts

Hy. Glendenning, Manilla, Ont., in Farm and Dairy.

The best season to have the colts arrive is when the mares are on grass. We plan to have ours come at that time, and we never lose a colt.

The mare is generally in good condition at that time, the green grass induces a good flow of milk, and the mare's bowels are in good order. I have found that if the mare's bowels are right the foal's will be also. If a foal, however, has difficulty in passing its manure I remove the manure balls with a greased finger. If this is not effective I give an injection of oil or milk to loosen up the contents of the rectum. I do not consider it wise to give a physic. It is a long way from the mouth to the intestines, and all that could be safely given would not be sufficient to move the large mass of matter there collected.

We never have trouble with diseased navels. When the mare foals in pasture all surroundings are clean. The dirty litter, generally the cause of navel ill, is encountered only in stables or barnyards. We always take the precaution, however, of dressing the navel with a disinfectant.

We work the mare regularly up to foaling time, but not much after. Of course, even before foaling the work is light. After foaling, if we need an extra horse we use the mare, but always give them the lightest work. When the mares are working the colts are kept in the pasture. I allowed to run with the mare there is a danger of it getting hurt.

We try to get the foal to get out before weaning. After weaning skim milk is one of the principal foods. They may not like it at first, but if not watered for a while they will drink the milk, and in a few days they are looking for it. Skim milk does not make wind-suckers, as many believe. I have a mare that is a wind-sucker, but not one of her colts suck wind, and all have best fed skim milk.

I feed a little ground flax also. It gives the colts a nice, slick appearance that denotes thrift. Too much flax might not be good.

Colts should be allowed to exercise regularly. We have no arrangements whereby the colts can run at liberty (the best method), but they are given a run in the yard each day. They will take a lot of exercise in a short time.
